Thank you for the information. I'm sorry that [REDACTED] is dealing with an infection as school begins. I do have a pink pass for her but won't be able to hand it to her until tomorrow. Please have her stop by the main office in the morning Thursday. Teachers are usually willing to flex these first days of school, especially, so I hope she'll be ok.

Hi Sara,

I'm sorry it has taken me a while to get back to you. Things have been so busy!

In answer to your questions:

1. Do you have any questions or concerns about [REDACTED]'s health plan for this year? How is her health currently?

One question would be, is she able to get the bathroom pass or emergency pass again this year? She does need to be able to use the restroom on a schedule or whenever she feels the need to go. Currently she has been battling a UTI and is on antibiotics. She takes it twice a day and does not need to take it at school. We will be following up with her urologist soon and they will be checking her kidneys again. She has continued to have some back pain. Otherwise she is still seizure free and is doing well.

2. Will she have medication at school this year? The completed form and medication can be dropped off at the school office.

No medication at school at this time.

3. Will she ride the bus this year?

Yes, she will be riding the bus this year.

4. Are there any changes in your contact information, like address or phone#?

All contact information is the same.

Thank you!

Please let me know if you have any other questions.

Hi [REDACTED]

Your school nurse said that she isn't able to get you your pink pass until tomorrow. She said teachers are usually pretty flexible the first few days of school, so make sure you use the restroom whenever you need to, and no longer than every two hours. She said for you to stop by the main office in the morning tomorrow and she will have the pass for you.

I hope you have an amazing first day! So proud of you!

You've also been fighting an infection, so your body is not at 100%. Do you have any idea what specifically is stressing you out?

Lots of kids are feeling this way. Does it feel really crowded there?

You've also been fighting an infection, so your body is not at 100%. Do you have any idea what specifically is stressing you out?

Lots of kids are feeling this way. Does it feel really crowded there?

Thank you for the information. I'm sorry that [REDACTED] is dealing with an infection as school begins. I do have a pink pass for her but won't be able to hand it to her until tomorrow. Please have her stop by the main office in the morning Thursday. Teachers are usually willing to flex these first days of school, especially, so I hope she'll be ok.

Hi Sara,

I'm sorry it has taken me a while to get back to you. Things have been so busy!

In answer to your questions:

1. Do you have any questions or concerns about [REDACTED]'s health plan for this year? How is her health currently?

One question would be, is she able to get the bathroom pass or emergency pass again this year? She does need to be able to use the restroom on a schedule or whenever she feels the need to go. Currently she has been battling a UTI and is on antibiotics. She takes it twice a day and does not need to take it at school. We will be following up with her urologist soon and they will be checking her kidneys again. She has continued to have some back pain. Otherwise she is still seizure free and is doing well.

2. Will she have medication at school this year? The completed form and medication can be dropped off at the school office.

No medication at school at this time.

3. Will she ride the bus this year?

Yes, she will be riding the bus this year.

4. Are there any changes in your contact information, like address or phone#?

All contact information is the same.

Thank you!

Please let me know if you have any other questions.

Starting next week, I plan to split up my hours so I'll be there more days but for shorter hours: M-W-F 8:30-2:00.

Sorry for the delay.

Hi Sara,

I just wanted to check in about the pass for [REDACTED]. She said she stopped by on Thursday last week, and again today, and she hasn't been able to connect with you. What days are you at the high school, and when should she stop in?

Thanks,

[REDACTED]

Thank you for the information. I'm sorry that [REDACTED] is dealing with an infection as school begins. I do have a pink pass for her but won't be able to hand it to her until tomorrow. Please have her stop by the main office in the morning Thursday. Teachers are usually willing to flex these first days of school, especially, so I hope she'll be ok.

Hi Sara,

I'm sorry it has taken me a while to get back to you. Things have been so busy!

In answer to your questions:

1. Do you have any questions or concerns about [REDACTED]'s health plan for this year? How is her health currently?

One question would be, is she able to get the bathroom pass or emergency pass again this year? She does need to be able to use the restroom on a schedule or whenever she feels the need to go. Currently she has been battling a UTI and is on antibiotics. She takes it twice a day and does not need to take it at school. We will be following up with her urologist soon and they will be checking her kidneys again. She has continued to have some back pain. Otherwise she is still seizure free and is doing well.

2. Will she have medication at school this year? The completed form and medication can be dropped off at the school office.

No medication at school at this time.

3. Will she ride the bus this year?

Yes, she will be riding the bus this year.

4. Are there any changes in your contact information, like address or phone#?

All contact information is the same.

Thank you!

Please let me know if you have any other questions.

Hey guys, we have a bug running through our house. [REDACTED] was sick early this week and is better but now [REDACTED] is sick. I will be out for just the morning.

Paul, I believe there is a fire drill at 9:30 unless something changes. Could you please lead Southwest pod?

Also, Ann can support your class during the drill if you would like Rebecca. If not, I mentioned Kindergarten could probably use some help.

Thanks,

Thank you for your email. [REDACTED] is really struggling. She has come a few times to my advisory which has helped her pass her first quiz with a 69%. I gave her extra time today to turn in her Chapter 1 Assignments/ Entry Sheet which was due today. I am hoping she can turn this in over the next couple of days. She has been very positive and works hard during class. She took her Chapter 1 Test today. I have not graded it yet since she needs to finish it. She has about 40% left to finish.

It was very nice to meet you,

Hi Donna,

I wanted to check in to see how [REDACTED] is doing in your math class. She has been complaining to me a lot about how fast things go, and that she is struggling to understand the structure and process in your class. (This is not uncommon in math class for her.) I knew this was going to be challenging, and I just want to find out what you are seeing from your side. Any information would be appreciated. We are trying to figure out if she needs consistent tutoring, and how to go about getting that. Thank you!

Have a great Monday!

If you would be willing to go and show us around, I would be willing to talk to dad to see if he can take you and pay for the extra day each week, and then we would pick you up and go to open house. Would you agree to that?

I know this because i was told by someone who's friends with him who also knows why he won't take me to homecoming, I was suspicious when I was always hanging out with them in the morning, they would always giggle and whisper when I would show up to hang out with them. I was told that he found out that I used to EAT my eyebrows. I was furious when I heard this.

I am so happy to hear that! You like your new math teacher? Lunch is the time you want? I am so excited for your enthusiasm!

I thought I did the emergency release, but now I'm not sure. Did you get a sticker? My worry with you is about meds and if there was a big emergency, I wouldn't want you leaving and me not knowing where you were. IF you stay at school until I get you, then I would know where you are. Does that make sense? But I can't remember what I chose.

That is adorable! I didn't know it was there.

I sent off an email and copied you on it. I have done some research and that is my stance. We will see what [REDACTED] comes back with. After hearing what [REDACTED] had to say about him, I am not backing down on this.

Just being with [REDACTED] this morning and her wanting me to go talk to [REDACTED] in front of all of those kids tells me how helpless she really is in these situations. She didn't think it might be embarrassing. She just wants kids to not be mean to her. Gymnastics is going to be the ticket to some happiness. I am going to foster those friendships with the girls on her team and help her have a group.

I hope you are having a good day.

Love you!

I'm sorry for last night. I really want to earn your trust so I can be let off the leash. Everytime I get let off the leash a little bit, I end up getting right back to the start. I want to make that go away. I want my phone back and I want to be able to go out and hang out with my friends and be trusted. I want to have a trusting relationship with my mom. And I want it fast.

The most interesting part is "I want it fast". To me that is that she has something in mind that she wants to be able to do and is therefore motivated to say this to me now. I hate thinking that.

The most interesting part is "I want it fast". To me that is that she has something in mind that she wants to be able to do and is therefore motivated to say this to me now. I hate thinking that.

Do you do the book it program?

Wow, that is an impressive email! I don't know what to think and it might be best to get a read on how she is in person and if her tone is the same.

Yes, you do have that scheduled. I have delayed answering you because I've had some medical problems. I've had to schedule surgery for next week, and I'm not sure I'll be able to do conferences. I'll make a decision tomorrow when I talk to my surgeon and let you know. Sorry about the inconvenience.

Yes, you do have that scheduled. I have delayed answering you because I've had some medical problems. I've had to schedule surgery for next week, and I'm not sure I'll be able to do conferences. I'll make a decision tomorrow when I talk to my surgeon and let you know. Sorry about the inconvenience.

Hello All,

Susan is unable to attend conferences due to health reasons. Can you help me navigate the scheduling system so that we can communicate this to any families that have appointments scheduled with her?

Also, can we manually update the printed schedules to indicate that she is out?

I can make a sign for her door.

Am I missing anything RE: communication?

Hello All,

Susan is unable to attend conferences due to health reasons. Can you help me navigate the scheduling system so that we can communicate this to any families that have appointments scheduled with her?

Also, can we manually update the printed schedules to indicate that she is out?

I can make a sign for her door.

Am I missing anything RE: communication?

We still have work, so it would need to be the weekend. Saturday night would be the only option. But that is only if you are not being a turd to me. No cussing and you must be talking respectfully.

Hello All,

help me navigate the scheduling system so that we can communicate this to any families that have appointments scheduled with her?

Also, can we manually update the printed schedules to indicate that she is out?

I can make a sign for her door.

Am I missing anything RE: communication?

Dear Ms. ██████████,

I am so sorry I didn't get back to you. I've been a little crazy trying to get things straight while on painkillers!

As you know, ██████████ is squeaking by in my class. She never did the final for the first unit, but I will still accept that from her, if she comes in during advisory to work on it with me. She can also come during any advisory to work on any of the vocabulary or any other assignment she's having trouble with. I do not have a strict late policy, except that I usually do not accept work from the past unit once we start a new one. I am having surgery on Tuesday, but I hope to be back at work by November 4th. Please let me know if you want to meet in person. Tell ██████████ not to fret, we'll get her all caught up when I get back.

Ms. Wachtman,

No need to apologize. I am sorry you have all of this going on. I've been there before (2 emergency back surgeries when teaching 1st grade), so I can totally relate to your situation. You focus on getting better and when you get back we can touch base on finding a time to meet. I would like her to take the first unit test at some point. I am going to work with her this weekend on showing me her work and looking into what assignments are missing. She is not very good at doing this on her own at home.

Again, take care of yourself, and don't rush yourself back!

Thank you for your email.

Yes, you do have that scheduled. I have delayed answering you because I've had some medical problems. I've had to schedule surgery for next week, and I'm not sure I'll be able to do conferences. I'll make a decision tomorrow when I talk to my surgeon and let you know. Sorry about the inconvenience.

Hi Ms. Wachtman,

I just wanted to confirm that I do have a conference set up with you for [REDACTED] [REDACTED] on Wednesday at 4:30. I believe I signed up at open house, but haven't received any reminders, so I wanted to double check.

Ms. Wachtman,

No need to apologize. I am sorry you have all of this going on. I've been there before (2 emergency back surgeries when teaching 1st grade), so I can totally relate to your situation. You focus on getting better and when you get back we can touch base on finding a time to meet. I would like her to take the first unit test at some point. I am going to work with her this weekend on showing me her work and looking into what assignments are missing. She is not very good at doing this on her own at home.

Again, take care of yourself, and don't rush yourself back!

Thank you for your email.

Dear Ms. [REDACTED],

I am so sorry I didn't get back to you. I've been a little crazy trying to get things straight while on painkillers!

As you know, [REDACTED] is squeaking by in my class. She never did the final for the first unit, but I will still accept that from her, if she comes in during advisory to work on it with me. She can also come during any advisory to work on any of the vocabulary or any other assignment she's having trouble with. I do not have a strict late policy, except that I usually do not accept work from the past unit once we start a new one.

I am having surgery on Tuesday, but I hope to be back at work by November 4th. Please let me know if you want to meet in person. Tell [REDACTED] not to fret, we'll get her all caught up when I get back.

Hi [REDACTED] – Thank you for your email. Sorry it took me a couple days to get back to you (I wasn't feeling well this weekend). Tuesday will not work, because I have Seniors in my Advisory, and they have a Senior Class meeting on Tuesday. The next day that will work is Friday during Advisory (Nov 1). Let's try for that if you're available. Please be aware that the principal can change our Advisory calendar at any time. Another option is to come after school. We can discuss a date if you'd like to come after school. See you tomorrow. ~Mrs. Romano

Can [REDACTED] ride the bus home with me after school today to help me with the Poetry Final? I think she would be a big help in getting me caught back up. If it's ok with you, can you check with [REDACTED] to get her a pass to ride with me on the bus?

Can [REDACTED] ride the bus home with me after school today to help me with the Poetry Final? I think she would be a big help in getting me caught back up. If it's ok with you, can you check with [REDACTED] to get her a pass to ride with me on the bus?

Can [REDACTED] ride the bus home with me after school today to help me with the Poetry Final? I think she would be a big help in getting me caught back up. If it's ok with you, can you check with [REDACTED] to get her a pass to ride with me on the bus?

Can [REDACTED] ride the bus home with me after school today to help me with the Poetry Final? I think she would be a big help in getting me caught back up. If it's ok with you, can you check with [REDACTED] to get her a pass to ride with me on the bus?

Can [REDACTED] ride the bus home with me after school today to help me with the Poetry Final? I think she would be a big help in getting me caught back up. If it's ok with you, can you check with [REDACTED] to get her a pass to ride with me on the bus?

Thank you for that information. I let Mrs. Martin know of the meeting planning and am waiting to hear back from her regarding her schedule openings. I am hoping that we can make Monday work. I proposed to Mrs. Martin anytime between 10:30-12:50p or after 1:20. Do you have availabilities in those time slots?

Mr. Clouser,

Thank you for calling me today. I just wanted to give you a heads up as you are planning a date/time for a meeting. I will be taking [REDACTED] to a medical appointment in Seattle on Tuesday, the 22nd and will be unable to meet that day. I forgot about the appointment when we were on the phone.

Thank you,

Below is an email from the parents of [REDACTED] [REDACTED]. She is the student I talked with you about on Monday. [REDACTED] propositioned her at Homecoming and parents are looking for some follow up. As you can see, they feel that this is a violation of the contract that he signed. I think maybe a meeting with them or at least an email or phone call would be helpful. They are asking lots of discipline questions of me and I do not have the information. Can you please reach out to them? Or if you are not the administrator for this inquiry please let me know that too.

Good morning,

No problem. I know you are very busy and I appreciate you working on this so quickly, and emailing me an update. [REDACTED] and I discussed the options and we think both would be a good idea. We are comfortable with you giving his parents our contact information and that way if they would like to discuss it with us, they can contact us.

As far as you talking with [REDACTED] we absolutely want him to know we are aware of his inappropriate actions. It does however make me question, if because of the history of him sending inappropriate messages and pictures to [REDACTED] (which he was asked to stop and has had no way to contact her) and the fact that you have the students sign a paper saying they will not dance inappropriately (and he did as well as what he asked her to do) if this isn't a violation of school policy? Is there a consequence for this behavior? Will he be allowed at the next dance that I know my daughter is going to want to attend? He has been extremely aggressive with her and I am concerned that he may get more aggressive after a general talk about boundaries. He proves that he wants nothing to do with her unless it is for a sexual nature. He knows he can manipulate her.

We are in constant conversation with [REDACTED] about who she is choosing to be around, core values, confidence etc. She just wants to make connections and have friends and unfortunately she is lacking the ability to discern appropriate vs. not appropriate attention. We need to prevent situations right now where someone may take advantage of her and that is where I see this situation.

Thank you for your quick action and support. I want to feel that my child is safe when I send her to school. I would like to know your thoughts on this and I will be available to talk at 1:00.

You can call me at 8520

Thank you,

Good morning,

We met with the [REDACTED] family this morning regarding [REDACTED]. They expressed some concern with Geometry and I wanted to follow up with you to see how we can support her. The first question they had was about [REDACTED] finishing up her exam. Could you please set up a time with [REDACTED] to finish up that test? Either before/after school or during advisory. Also, I know that you exempt the first part of the semester before her transfer from her grade. However, she had some points from Mrs. Spitzer from the beginning of the year and I am wondering if that might help her grade. Do you know how to transfer those in? If not, Mrs. Roy could show you how to do that (I am not a PowerTeacher expert by any means). Matt is going to connect [REDACTED] with a math tutor during advisory and Mr. Moore might also be a good resource for her. I am not sure how much information you have on [REDACTED] but due to her neurological condition, her memory and processing speed are both very low. Just something to keep in mind.

The other portion of the meeting was just encouraging teachers to keep a close eye on [REDACTED]. There have been some risky behaviors this year so if you are noticing anything out of the ordinary (i.e. extended trips out of class, etc.) please let me or Matt know.

Thank you very much!

Thank you for that information. I let Mrs. Martin know of the meeting planning and am waiting to hear back from her regarding her schedule openings. I am hoping that we can make Monday work. I proposed to Mrs. Martin anytime between 10:30-12:50p or after 1:20. Do you have availabilities in those time slots?

Thank you for calling me today. I just wanted to give you a heads up as you are planning a date/time for a meeting. I will be taking [REDACTED] to a medical appointment in Seattle on Tuesday, the 22nd and will be unable to meet that day. I forgot about the appointment when we were on the phone.

[REDACTED] propositioned her at Homecoming and parents are looking for some follow up. As you can see, they feel that this is a violation of the contract that he signed. Good morning,

No problem. I know you are very busy and I appreciate you working on this so quickly, and emailing me an update. [REDACTED] and I discussed the options and we think both would be a good idea. We are comfortable with you giving his parents our contact information and that way if they would like to discuss it with us, they can contact us.

As far as you talking with [REDACTED] we absolutely want him to know we are aware of his inappropriate actions. It does however make me question, if because of the history of him sending inappropriate messages and pictures to [REDACTED] (which he was asked to stop and has had no way to contact her) and the fact that you have the students sign a paper saying they will not dance inappropriately (and he did as well as what he asked her to do) if this isn't a violation of school policy? Is there a consequence for this behavior? Will he be allowed at the next dance that I know my daughter is going to want to attend? He has been extremely aggressive with her and I am concerned that he may get more aggressive after a general talk about boundaries. He proves that he wants nothing to do with her unless it is for a sexual nature. He knows he can manipulate her.

We are in constant conversation with [REDACTED] about who she is choosing to be around, core values, confidence etc. She just wants to make connections and have friends and unfortunately she is lacking the ability to discern appropriate vs. not appropriate attention. We need to prevent situations right now where someone may take advantage of her and that is where I see this situation.

Thank you for your quick action and support. I want to feel that my child is safe when I send her to school. I would like to know your thoughts on this and I will be available to talk at 1:00.

Good morning,

We met with the [REDACTED] family this morning regarding [REDACTED]. They expressed some concern with Geometry and I wanted to follow up with you to see how we can support her. The first question they had was about [REDACTED] finishing up her exam. Could you please set up a time with [REDACTED] to finish up that test? Either before/after school or during advisory. Also, I know that you exempt the first part of the semester before her transfer from her grade. However, she had some points from Mrs. Spitzer from the beginning of the year and I am wondering if that might help her grade. Do you know how to transfer those in? If not, Mrs. Roy could show you how to do that (I am not a PowerTeacher expert by any means). Matt is going to connect [REDACTED] with a math tutor during advisory and Mr. Moore might also be a good resource for her. I am not sure how much information you have on [REDACTED] but due to her neurological condition, her memory and processing speed are both very low. Just something to keep in mind.

The other portion of the meeting was just encouraging teachers to keep a close eye on [REDACTED]. There have been some risky behaviors this year so if you are noticing anything out of the ordinary (i.e. extended trips out of class, etc.) please let me or Matt know.

Thank you very much!

Thank you for calling me today. I just wanted to give you a heads up as you are planning a date/time for a meeting. I will be taking [REDACTED] to a medical appointment in Seattle on Tuesday, the 22nd and will be unable to meet that day. I forgot about the appointment when we were on the phone.

Below is an email from the parents of [REDACTED] [REDACTED]. She is the student I talked with you about on Monday. [REDACTED] propositioned her at Homecoming and parents are looking for some follow up. As you can see, they feel that this is a violation of the contract that he signed. I think maybe a meeting with them or at least an email or phone call would be helpful. They are asking lots of discipline questions of me and I do not have the information. Can you please reach out to them? Or if you are not the administrator for this inquiry please let me know that too.

Good morning,

No problem. I know you are very busy and I appreciate you working on this so quickly, and emailing me an update. [REDACTED] and I discussed the options and we think both would be a good idea. We are comfortable with you giving his parents our contact information and that way if they would like to discuss it with us, they can contact us.

As far as you talking with [REDACTED] we absolutely want him to know we are aware of his inappropriate actions. It does however make me question, if because of the history of him sending inappropriate messages and pictures to [REDACTED] (which he was asked to stop and has had no way to contact her) and the fact that you have the students sign a paper saying they will not dance inappropriately (and he did as well as what he asked her to do) if this isn't a violation of school policy? Is there a consequence for this behavior? Will he be allowed at the next dance that I know my daughter is going to want to attend? He has been extremely aggressive with her and I am concerned that he may get more aggressive after a general talk about boundaries. He proves that he wants nothing to do with her unless it is for a sexual nature. He knows he can manipulate her.

We are in constant conversation with [REDACTED] about who she is choosing to be around, core values, confidence etc. She just wants to make connections and have friends and unfortunately she is lacking the ability to discern appropriate vs. not appropriate attention. We need to prevent situations right now where someone may take advantage of her and that is where I see this situation.

Thank you for your quick action and support. I want to feel that my child is safe when I send her to school. I would like to know your thoughts on this and I will be available to talk at 1:00.

You can call me at 8520

Good morning,

We met with the [REDACTED] family this morning regarding [REDACTED]. They expressed some concern with Geometry and I wanted to follow up with you to see how we can support her. The first question they had was about [REDACTED] finishing up her exam. Could you please set up a time with [REDACTED] to finish up that test? Either before/after school or during advisory. Also, I know that you exempt the first part of the semester before her transfer from her grade. However, she had some points from Mrs. Spitzer from the beginning of the year and I am wondering if that might help her grade. Do you know how to transfer those in? If not, Mrs. Roy could show you how to do that (I am not a PowerTeacher expert by any means). Matt is going to connect [REDACTED] with a math tutor during advisory and Mr. Moore might also be a good resource for her. I am not sure how much information you have on [REDACTED] but due to her neurological condition, her memory and processing speed are both very low. Just something to keep in mind.

The other portion of the meeting was just encouraging teachers to keep a close eye on [REDACTED]. There have been some risky behaviors this year so if you are noticing anything out of the ordinary (i.e. extended trips out of class, etc.) please let me or Matt know.

Thank you very much!

Subject: [REDACTED] Safety and Academic Support Concerns

Mr. Monroe,

We are reaching out to you at this time to follow up on a conversation [REDACTED] had with Mr. Johnson Friday morning before school, 11/8/19. During this conversation, [REDACTED] requested that [REDACTED]'s teachers be asked to email us in an effort to support her learning during this time of absence from school. Our goal was to make sure we were provided with clear learning expectations so we could help her continue progressing academically while we support her intense emotional needs at this time. Mr. Johnson stated he would contact her teachers and notify them of this request. As of today, 11/9/19 we have confirmation from [REDACTED]'s teachers that no such contact was made requesting them to provide us with needed academic information.

We continue to make efforts at working with CKHS administration only to end up with them failing to do their part. We are gravely concerned at this lack of follow through during a time of such serious safety issues within CKHS. This lack of effort makes it clear to us that [REDACTED]'s education and safety are not viewed as a priority by the administration at CKHS. We would expect a situation of this magnitude to be considered high priority and that we would see genuine effort to support our daughter. We are incredibly disturbed not only as parents by what we are experiencing but also as district employees by what we know should be happening in a situation such as this.

Due to the inability of CKHS administration to not only keep our daughter safe at school but to now make no effort to support her academic learning needs, we are making our first request. We are asking that Central Kitsap School District provide a daily in home tutor to support and accommodate [REDACTED]'s academic and special needs. We are requesting that this support be initiated as soon as possible.

We plan to meet with you on Tuesday as was discussed. We are working on a time that will allow us both to meet with the you and have care for [REDACTED] while we are away.

Sincerely,

█ and █

This lack of effort makes it clear to us that [REDACTED]'s education and safety are not viewed as a priority by the administration at CKHS. We would expect a situation of this magnitude to be considered high priority and that we would see genuine effort to support our daughter. We are incredibly disturbed not only as parents by what we are experiencing but also as district employees by what we know should be happening in a situation such as this.

Due to the inability of CKHS administration to not only keep our daughter safe at school but to now make no effort to support her academic learning needs, we are making our first request. We are asking that Central Kitsap School District provide a daily in home tutor to support and accommodate [REDACTED]'s academic and special needs. We are requesting that this support be initiated as soon as possible.

We plan to meet with you on Tuesday as was discussed. We are working on a time that will allow us both to meet with the you and have care for [REDACTED] while we are away.

Sincerely,

Subject: [REDACTED] Safety and Academic Support Concerns

Mr. Monroe,

We are reaching out to you at this time to follow up on a conversation [REDACTED] had with Mr. Johnson Friday morning before school, 11/8/19. During this conversation, [REDACTED] requested that [REDACTED]'s teachers be asked to email us in an effort to support her learning during this time of absence from school. Our goal was to make sure we were provided with clear learning expectations so we could help her continue progressing academically while we support her intense emotional needs at this time. Mr. Johnson stated he would contact her teachers and notify them of this request. As of today, 11/9/19 we have confirmation from [REDACTED]'s teachers that no such contact was made requesting them to provide us with needed academic information.

We continue to make efforts at working with CKHS administration only to end up with them failing to do their part. We are gravely concerned at this lack of follow through during a time of such serious safety issues within CKHS. This lack of effort makes it clear to us that [REDACTED]'s education and safety are not viewed as a priority by the administration at CKHS. We would expect a situation of this magnitude to be considered high priority and that we would see genuine effort to support our daughter. This lack of effort makes it clear to us that █████'s education and safety are not viewed as a priority by the administration at CKHS. We would expect a situation of this magnitude to be considered high priority and that we would see genuine effort to support our daughter. We are incredibly disturbed not only as parents by what we are experiencing but also as district employees by what we know should be happening in a situation such as this.

Due to the inability of CKHS administration to not only keep our daughter safe at school but to now make no effort to support her academic learning needs, we are making our first request. We are asking that Central Kitsap School District provide a daily in home tutor to support and accommodate [REDACTED]'s academic and special needs. We are requesting that this support be initiated as soon as possible.

We plan to meet with you on Tuesday as was discussed. We are working on a time that will allow us both to meet with the you and have care for [REDACTED] while we are away.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED] and [REDACTED]

Mr. Monroe,

We are reaching out to you at this time to follow up on a conversation [REDACTED] had with Mr. Johnson Friday morning before school, 11/8/19. During this conversation, [REDACTED] requested that [REDACTED]'s teachers be asked to email us in an effort to support her learning during this time of absence from school. Our goal was to make sure we were provided with clear learning expectations so we could help her continue progressing academically while we support her intense emotional needs at this time. Mr. Johnson stated he would contact her teachers and notify them of this request. As of today, 11/9/19 we have confirmation from

██████'s teachers that no such contact was made requesting them to provide us with needed academic information.

We continue to make efforts at working with CKHS administration only to end up with them failing to do their part. We are gravely concerned at this lack of follow through during a time of such serious safety issues within CKHS. This lack of effort makes it clear to us that ██████'s education and safety are not viewed as a priority by the administration at CKHS. We would expect a situation of this magnitude to be considered high priority and that we would see genuine effort to support our daughter. Keri, I know that [REDACTED] will still need to do some time with you so you can hang on to this until she shows.

She is working on a calligraphy project that is due on Friday. She can chose to do a "Thanksgiving Menu" or a thankful quote that she would take with her to the person or family hosting Thanksgiving. She should have everything she needs for the project.

Thanks. Laura

[REDACTED] I may be at a loss for words to express how we truly feel today. But I've had no trouble expressing what I think regarding this terrible situation our own district has put us in. After 25 years of working for CK school district, I've never experienced anything close to this level of administrative neglect or genuine lack of concern for the care, welfare and safety of children. The administration at CKHS should be ashamed for what they allowed to happen in their school. [REDACTED] and I have done everything in our power to help [REDACTED] overcome a disability that impacts her each day of her life. We have given everything we have in our professional educational positions for CK, yet have asked for very little. What we did ask for was help to keep our daughter safe in school. To be standing here in front of you, recognizing the many attempts we made to communicate the seriousness of this situation (including the morning of the assault) and to have administrators literally do nothing has made us angry, sad, sick and more than anything disappointed that we represent the same district where these people are considered leaders. The CKHS administration has destroyed any chance of [REDACTED] having a normal high school experience moving forward as well as possibly changed who she might be as a young woman in the future. There are deep systemic problems that absolutely must be addressed in CKHS for something like this not to be viewed with a high level of urgency and our hope is this will happen as part of the outcome. I will leave you with these words, my daughter and any future students like her deserve so much more from the adults who have been given the privilege of educating them. I hope one day we can regain the faith and confidence that the welfare and safety of students at CKHS is viewed as a priority. I do not see this day coming anytime soon.

Keri, I know that [REDACTED] will still need to do some time with you so you can hang on to this until she shows.

She is working on a calligraphy project that is due on Friday. She can chose to do a "Thanksgiving Menu" or a thankful quote that she would take with her to the person or family hosting Thanksgiving. She should have everything she needs for the project.

Thanks. Laura

Hi Toby,

I've had people asking me questions following the email coming out about leave sharing for [REDACTED]. Rather than trying to address this person to person, would you feel comfortable with me sharing a general email about [REDACTED] needing to care for [REDACTED] =A0

Such as:

I have had some people reach out asking if everything is ok with my family. You may have noticed my wife's name came up for sick leave sharing. The reason for the request is that we are working through some serious events regarding my daughter [REDACTED] that will require extended support. I would like to thank each of you for your concern and care. I appreciate your thoughts and genuinely enjoy working with all of you at Clear Creek! =A0

I appreciate your positive words and outlook!

██████████ is doing ok, but our daughter ██████████ is needing support as we work through some difficult events. This will require either ██████████ or myself to be out of school part or full days.

Thank you for your concern!

I saw a leave request for ██████████ Is she alright?

"Great conference! No concerns – he's doing absolutely amazing. Kids ask him to be on their sports team, caught up to 4th grade level in math...choir teacher and para expressed how much they love him and the joy he brings and that he is extremely funny. And, then we ran into his 4th grade teacher who gushed about how much she misses him.
I love hearing it! Mrs. Hartman was so excited to show us an essay he wrote where he was correctly citing his source and the page number. I am just so happy for [REDACTED] that he is happy. And, my therapist broke up with me on Tuesday – apparently I have good coping skills now or

Good afternoon CC staff,

I have had some people reach out asking if everything is ok with my family. You may have noticed my wife's name came up for sick leave sharing. The reason for the request is that we are working through some serious events regarding my daughter [REDACTED] that will require extended support. I would like to thank each of you for your concern and care. I appreciate your thoughts and genuinely enjoy working with all of you at Clear Creek!

Thank you,

Good afternoon CC staff,

I have had some people reach out asking if everything is ok with my family. You may have noticed my wife's name came up for sick leave sharing. The reason for the request is that we are working through some serious events regarding my daughter [REDACTED] that will require extended support. I would like to thank each of you for your concern and care. I appreciate your thoughts and genuinely enjoy working with all of you at Clear Creek!

Thank you,

[REDACTED]

Good afternoon CC staff,

I have had some people reach out asking if everything is ok with my family. You may have noticed my wife's name came up for sick leave sharing. The reason for the request is that we are working through some serious events regarding my daughter [REDACTED] that will require extended support. I would like to thank each of you for your concern and care. I appreciate your thoughts and genuinely enjoy working with all of you at Clear Creek!

Thank you,

[REDACTED]

Subject: [REDACTED] Safety and Academic Support Concerns

Mr. Monroe,

We are reaching out to you at this time to follow up on a conversation [REDACTED] had with Mr. Johnson Friday morning before school, 11/8/19. During this conversation, [REDACTED] requested that [REDACTED]'s teachers be asked to email us in an effort to support her learning during this time of absence from school. Our goal was to make sure we were provided with clear learning expectations so we could help her continue progressing academically while we support her intense emotional needs at this time. Mr. Johnson stated he would contact her teachers and notify them of this request. As of today, 11/9/19 we have confirmation from [REDACTED]'s teachers that no such contact was made requesting them to provide us with needed academic information.

We continue to make efforts at working with CKHS administration only to end up with them failing to do their part. We are gravely concerned at this lack of follow through during a time of such serious safety issues within CKHS. This lack of effort makes it clear to us that [REDACTED]'s education and safety are not viewed as a priority by the administration at CKHS. We would expect a situation of this magnitude to be considered high priority and that we would see genuine effort to support our daughter. We are incredibly disturbed not only as parents by what we are experiencing but also as district employees by what we know should be happening in a situation such as this.

Due to the inability of CKHS administration to not only keep our daughter safe at school but to now make no effort to support her academic learning needs, we are making our first request. We are asking that Central Kitsap School District provide a daily in home tutor to support and accommodate [REDACTED]'s academic and special needs. We are requesting that this support be initiated as soon as possible.

We plan to meet with you on Tuesday as was discussed. We are working on a time that will allow us both to meet with the you and have care for [REDACTED] while we are away.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED] and [REDACTED]

Hello Whitney,

I am writing to respond with an estimate to your initial request that was contained in the email sent last week for video – also noted as No. 2 here – even though I know you have requested it here as part of this process, I'd like to keep the other part proper as well.

As we talked about on the phone, the video has been pulled, and we are currently reviewing and editing down to the appropriate parts for review. We estimate that we will have video ready for your review on December 6, 2019.

Call or email me anytime if any questions. I'll provide a formal response to the remainder of your requested items tomorrow.

Sincerely,
Cheryl

I think that this might be a discussion for the team. Let's discuss it when we have her eval meeting. As I said I will be testing her next week so if there is any change it will take place before we get too far into the semester.

Mr. Kahler,

I am sorry about your family issues. I hope things will improve quickly for you and your family.

As far as the study skills, we did not find that helpful in the past, and actually that is when we started having a lot of behavior issues with her. I don't know if it is different than last year, but if it is the same structure and student makeup, I don't know that it would be beneficial. She is very happy in band and ASL, and she has really bonded with both of those teachers. I do know she needs some kind of monitoring. Do you have any other check in systems in place for students?

Also, [REDACTED] mentioned that her peers in the other science class were allowed to use notes on their final. Do you know if they took the same final in both classes? Do you think she would do better with a different science teacher?

Thank you,

[REDACTED]

I am so sorry I haven't gotten back to you, I have been out with some family issues. I will start [REDACTED]'s eval testing next week after finals are over (no need to stress her). We will set up an appointment after the testing is done. As far as her missing assignments and low grades are concerned I do think that [REDACTED] would benefit from a study skills class, the structure and monitoring at the very least. I know we pulled her out last year. Can this be an option again? Short of that I can do twice weekly check ins with her to monitor her planner and remind her about assignments and project due dates. Please let me know if you want to make a change as the new semester begins next week.

Hi Mr. Kahler,

I wanted to touch base about where we left off with [REDACTED] after her IEP meeting. I know we talked about meeting again next month, and I wanted to see if you knew when that would be? You also said that you would be trying to check in with her more to help with her organization. Is this still part of the plan? Are there any other plans in place at this time? Do you have any suggestions as to how to help her pull her grades up? She is struggling to know which assignments are missing, (like can't remember what the assignment was) where they are, and how to catch back up.

We did get her to successfully write in her planner all last week and she earned her phone on Friday to take pictures of the assignment boards.

She also told us that the class retook the STAR reading test. Do you know if she did any better?

Thank you,

I think that this might be a discussion for the team. Let's discuss it when we have her eval meeting. As I said I will be testing her next week so if there is any change it will take place before we get too far into the semester.

Mr. Kahler,

I am sorry about your family issues. I hope things will improve quickly for you and your family.

As far as the study skills, we did not find that helpful in the past,

Hello Mr. and Mrs. [REDACTED].

I was able to meet with [REDACTED] today- she did a little math for me and we discussed some accommodations for tests. We thought being able to use one page of notes on tests might be helpful for her, since she says she forgets what she studied when she sits down to take the tests.

I have been doing a little research into the partial Agenesis of the Corpus Callosum. I see that it can lead to difficulty with social comprehension, abstract reasoning, and problem solving, and that as kids enter adolescence these problems can become more apparent. What challenges have you seen for [REDACTED] in these areas? Is there anything else you would like to tell me? What concerns do you have in this area? I have attached the official meeting invitation as a PDF- please let me know if you would like a printed copy.

Thanks!

Anna Robbins
