The Board Policy for isolation and restraint of students with 504 plans and IEPs is 3247. The procedure is 3247P and lists the conditions under which isolation and restraint can be used. Both the new policy and procedures are posted on the district website.

Hi Noel,

The only time a physical intervention should be used is if it is part of the aversive intervention plan for a student with an IEP or 504 plan.

A para should always be aware of the aversive plan and the team should discuss the correct use of a physical intervention prior to it ever being used.

There is a new board policy on Isolation and Restraint that provides further detail.

I don't have the exact number of the policy off the top of my head and I am out of my office today.   I can get this information to you tomorrow.

Does this help?

them to not touch students, thus the conflicting information. CKESP is requesting clarification on the matter and would like to know which district policy this falls under. Would you or John please provide assistance with this issue?

Thank you for your help,
