Dear Dave Sage:

Dramatic, thought-provoking and with strong appeal for young readers, Ayn Rand's novels Anthem, The Fountainhead and Atlas Shrugged are classics of American literature.

Our Free Books to Teachers program supplies free classroom sets of Rand's bestselling novels to teachers who commit to teaching them in their classrooms. We think that this program would be a great fit for CENTENNIAL MIDDLE SCHOOL.

Here are a few reasons why more than 45,000 teachers have participated so far:

- Teachers never pay anything! The Ayn Rand Institute's educational programs are funded through the generosity of donors. Their donations allow us to supply teachers, like you, with novels and quality teaching materials that your students will love.
- The Atlas Project is live. This online reading group discussing Atlas Shrugged offers deep insights into the novel, which can give your students a competitive edge in writing their contest essays.

- Your students could win cash for college. Students who read the novels are eligible to enter ARI's essay contests, which offer $132,500 in prize money.
- Teachers win, too! As a thank-you, teachers who submit at least ten essays will earn Amazon gift cards.

“ I love teaching this novel to my kids! After reading, the students all ask to read something just like it. I can't wait to get more for the class. ”

—Teacher from Liberty High School, Bethlehem, PA

“ Today was BY FAR my best day of teaching in 16 years. My students LOVE the book [Anthem]. I've taught it before, but today I actually had tears in my eyes because they were sneaking to read it while I was trying to teach grammar! ”

—Teacher from Boca Raton Community High School, Boca Raton, FL
