Did she tell you about holding baby chicks yesterday?

I took her on a field trip down to Mrs. Haughland's 1st grade room. She hatched baby chicks and is keeping them in her class!

Awww, so sweet

I'm a bit concerned about this IEP draft I'm reading. It just sounds so different than your reports. I'm worried they are trying to move her to a different school. Please feel free to not answer this question of it jeopardizes you at all or if you feel a conflict but do you agree with these statements?

Recess, won't share chalk unless prompted and goes on slide over and over by herself.

This is also concerning to me. Not all what I've shared.

Yes she does go down the slide the entire recess... because it's fun and she loves it!

She does have a hard time with sharing chalk because she wants all to herself. Once I reminder her share with her friends, she's happy to.

That's crazy!
Where would she go

They're trying to get them all in the sped program at cascade view.

That's insane

It's what they wanted to do with [REDACTED] after preschool, we fought it and then Tami welcomed her at Riverview with open arms.

Good grief

She doesn't have a "meaningful education or relationships"

I'm fuming

We'll fight it.

But I don't know if anyone has been successful. The new director Sara Woolverton doesn't want disabled kids in typical classrooms.

She's has a terrible reputation from Seattle school district and I don't expect to win.

I can't even process this right n

Me either. I can't image they would

She was sued at granite falls SD and came here the next year. We will hire the same lawyer as the parents from granite.

Geez!! This is so terrible to keep your child in the school you want

Her own school, with her siblings and her neighbors and FRIENDS!

Because we want her to be a part of her community and not secreted away in a room with " kids like her." As ms. Yeley said.

Just wondering when the first student will be tomorrow? I imagine it's in person? I just want to make sure I'm at the school and plenty of time

Oh my goodness! I'm so sorry! It's been a crazy day. I'll email you this evening. The first kid is at 9:05. Mrs. Houle will bring him to the room while she walks  to OT.

Ok. No students in building tomorrow.
Just found out through Justin.

Do we all need to get tested and quarantine????

No info on that yet. The rules for close contact are total of 15+ minutes of less than 6 ft apart within a 24-hour period. [REDACTED] said to put yes to contact on the attestation in the morning and await further district instructions (although I don't plan on going in now). Not sure what you want to do with that.

E

So on Thursday, [REDACTED] is supposed to come in.... what the hell am I supposed to tell her mom? Ya know? If they aren't sharing this with people, what am I supposed to say!

I'm talking to [REDACTED] tonight. I'll get some clarity (hopefully).

I think mine sounds more like an iep, but I didn't want to add anything from the

Just take what she's got now and go from there!

I'm trying to be slightly more ahead of things than I was on the last one. I'm so behind on IEPs. I still have 7 speech-only that I have to try to schedule and write!
And 10 more with other people 😬

more questions

Is her next year teacher coming today?

Zoe Yeley

Yeah that's a good idea.

Z

And no, I'm not sure who that will be.

Here are texts between myself and Ms. Houle

Wed, Sep 9, 3:45 PM

Hello,

I was at school today and met with Zoe. I have all of [REDACTED] work supplies and curriculum ready for Tuesday. It's in her cubby spot in the resource room.

My plan is to be there Tuesday and Thursday and I'm working on being able to zoom at home the other 3 days day 8.

I obviously have my kids at home and have no option but to be here.

I'm working on childcare currently for Tuesday and Thursday.

The schedule was just brought to my attention so I'm scrambling

Hi Chrissy.
Just wanted to touch base.
I'll be in the building
Wednesday all day.
I'm planning on meeting
with both you and Zoey about [REDACTED] schedule since I will not be on the IEP meeting(new to me).

Ok!! I haven't made the video yet. I'm not sure if you have your kids tomorrow, I'm going to try to do a bit of it tomorrow. I have to take my daughter to get her books and pictures
tomorrow at her middle
