INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the City of Amazon!

On October 2, 2017 the City of Stonecrest approved a resolution to de-annex 345 acres of land off Lithonia Industrial Boulevard and rename the site: Amazon, Georgia in an effort to be creative, “think outside the box” and offer Amazon an opportunity to create a corporate city with an eternal brand. With shipments coming from Amazon, Georgia; Amazon HQ2 could have a lasting legacy while allowing the City of Stonecrest to handle all their city services. City and state leaders are ready to welcome Amazon to the City of Stonecrest and the City of Amazon, Georgia!

The City of Stonecrest is located in the southeastern portion of DeKalb County with a population of 53,000 (DeKalb, largest city). Stonecrest cityhood was approved by voters in the November 2016 General Election after a dedicated effort by the Stonecrest City Alliance, a group of involved residents whose priority was to create a more economically viable future for the Stonecrest community. In March 2017, the residents of Stonecrest elected their first mayor and five-member City Council.

Mayor Jason Lary is committed to improving the economic conditions in the city and is eager to work creatively to accomplish this mission. Amazon’s recent announcement to create a second headquarters is one that Stonecrest is ready to champion. Unlike most metropolitan cities, Stonecrest has an abundance of available land space, access to a major highway, arterial roads, mass transit and more. The business friendly-climate and professionalism of all the elected officials make Stonecrest the ideal location for the second Amazon Headquarters.

KEY PREFERENCE AREAS

A suburb of Atlanta, Stonecrest is conveniently located near the heart of the city. A drive to the city-center and education hub at the Georgia Institute of Technology, home to an abundance of technical talent, is just 25 minutes away. A mere 30 minutes from Stonecrest is the world’s busiest airport, Hartsfield-Jackson International.

Site/Building

The City of Stonecrest has 345 acres of available greenspace upon which Amazon could locate a new headquarters. With more than the requested 100 acres, Amazon will have the option to expand, build residential and mixed-use developments, parks and more. Amazon has the advantage of being creative with this space and building whatever they need with land to spare. Most of the land is currently zoned Heavy Industrial (HI); however, there are two small parcels that are zoned Light Industrial (LI). Stonecrest is immediately ready to welcome Amazon HQ2 to our great city with zero cost for the land.
Land Survey / Map
An industrial tract worksheet is included and can be used for site plans. Because this is greenspace, Amazon has the flexibility to design and create the space exactly as they prefer. Amazon could take advantage of the additional acreage by creating an industrial hub for the company. See attached map.

Zoning
A majority of the property is zoned Heavy Industrial (HI) with the remainder zoned Light Industrial (LI).

Existing Infrastructure
Sanitary sewer and water connections are available at the proposed site and any requested improvements can be made once Stonecrest is selected. The City of Stonecrest will receive in excess of $40 million in funds which can be used for infrastructure improvements with our Special Purpose Local Option Sales Tax (SPLOST) this fall.

Current Property Ownership
The property is currently owned by one family and is managed by their attorney. All involved parties coordinate with this attorney and are eager to work with the City of Stonecrest and Amazon to bring 50,000 jobs to the City of Stonecrest.

There is no governmental or state control of the property at this time; however, the City of Stonecrest is preparing to purchase the property from the current owner and offer it at no cost to the Amazon if selected.

Logistics
Stonecrest is a suburb of Atlanta, located just 25 minutes from the heart of the city-center. The 345 acres of available greenspace is located within walking distance of major highways and arterial roads, including Lithonia Industrial Park and a short drive to Interstate 20. Stonecrest is also just 30 minutes from Hartsfield International Airport.

Location / Transportation
Stonecrest is located off Interstate 20 which connects to major roadways such as Lithonia Industrial Boulevard and Panola Road. Stonecrest is 30 from Hartsfield International Airport. The Metropolitan Atlanta Rapid Transit Authority (MARTA), the rail line in metropolitan Atlanta, has included three stops in its existing MARTA expansion plan. One of these stops is directly at the proposed Amazon site. The schedule for completion coincides with Amazon’s timeline and could be expedited is Stonecrest is selected. See attached map.
Parks / Trails
Stonecrest is home to the Arabia Mountain National Heritage Area, which offers nature, biking and walking trails. It hosts several events throughout the year and is open for the public to enjoy. Much of this trail resides immediately near the proposed Amazon site, offering a beautiful option for employees to explore. The City of Stonecrest is considering an expansion of the Arabia Mountain trail to enhance the proposed Amazon site. See attached map.

Labor Force
The City of Stonecrest is just 25 minutes away from the Georgia Institute of Technology and the education hub of the metropolitan Atlanta area, to include Georgia State University, Emory University and the University of Georgia to the north. The MBA program at Georgia State University and Emory University offers a pool of talented students and graduates with skills in logistics and transportation management. Strong technical talent is born in this city and Stonecrest is a short commute from the city-center.

Capital and Operating Costs / Incentives
Stonecrest is a new city that was built with the promise of no new taxes to the residential and business community. In addition to 345 acres of free greenspace, Amazon will take advantage of the 0% millage rate in the city of Stonecrest as well as waivers of business fees. Business owners in the Lithonia Industrial Park and surrounding areas have expressed an interest in establishing a Community Improvement District (CID) to spur economic development in the area. A CID is a defined area in which businesses pay an additional millage. Funds raised from the additional millage are spent directly within the CID and can be used for seven purposes: water, public transportation, street and road maintenance, parks and recreational areas and facilities, storm water and sewage, parking and other areas to include public safety and additional beautification projects. CIDs have been hugely successful in Georgia and have led to increased property values, transformation of business districts, increased business recruitment and more. The halo effect of economic development is also apparent as surrounding areas also benefit from the CID.

Additionally, the State of Georgia offers a plethora of business and tax incentives to businesses bringing new jobs and capital investment into the State and Amazon would be eligible for many of these to include the Mega Project Tax Credit which is based on capital investment, for which Amazon exceeds the minimum requirements.

STONCREST BUSINESSES
Acuity Brands, Inc. (NYSE: AYI), the leading provider of lighting and building management solutions with $3.3B in sales in 2016 and 12,000 employees in North America, Europe and Asia. With a focus on technology and data analytics, Acuity attracts and retains strong technical talent in their employment pool. Various engineers, application developers and technicians are employed by Acuity which is headquartered in Stonecrest, GA.
Bosch, the leading IoT company providing mobility solutions, industrial technology, consumer goods and energy and building technology. Bosch employs 390,000 people worldwide and generated $13.7B in sales in 2016. Bosch is able to attract and retain the technical talent necessary in Stonecrest.

HomeChef is a meal delivery service company that provides meal kits and recipes to subscribers. HomeChef employs roughly 700 people and delivers 2.5 million meals monthly across the United States.

Atlanta Sports City (ASC) is a 190 acre sports and entertainment development that will be located adjacent to the Mall at Stonecrest. ASC will feature a myriad of sports facilities, retail and dining venues, hotels, a 15,000-seat professional stadium and more. A map and brochure are included for more information.

AMAZON, GEORGIA

Amazon has the unique opportunity to create its own city if Stonecrest is selected. Because Stonecrest is a new city, they have the flexibility to be more creative than our competitors. Amazon could create a corporate city in the metropolitan Atlanta area and expand their eternal brand.

Stonecrest is offering a unique space to host Amazon’s second headquarters. This is the largest available land space in the metropolitan Atlanta area and the local officials are ready to welcome Amazon with open arms and loads of flexibility to be as creative as Amazon is willing to be.

Stonecrest welcomes Amazon to come visit us and tour the proposed site at their convenience. Stonecrest does not require a Special Land Use Permit to build on this site, so much of the red-tape required by other municipalities is eliminated.
