Dear Ms. Fox,

Pursuant to the Florida Sunshine Law please supply;

1. The document authored by your office or any other State prosecutorial authority (executive branch official) commencing the case State of Florida v. Huminski, 17-mm-815, Lee County Court including the criminal information, indictment or any other document used to commence the case and secure standing by the State as a plaintiff,
2. The proof of service of the document in Para. 1 that was effectuated by a State of Florida prosecutorial authority (not a show cause order served by the judicial branch in a civil matter),
3. Any document related to the State v. Huminski that contains a criminal statute that supports a criminal prosecution by the sovereign (not F.S. 900.04 which simply governs the conduct of a judge to exercise contempt powers).

Under Florida law and Due Process, a pleading is required to initiate any civil or criminal case. Trial courts “lack jurisdiction” until proper pleadings are filed. Lovett v. Lovett, 112 So. 768, 776 (Fla. 1927) accord Lewis v. Lewis, 78 So.2d 711, 712. A trial court's lack of subject-matter jurisdiction makes its judgment void. NWT v. LHD (In re DNHW), 955 So.2d 1236, 1238 (Fla. 2d DCA 2007). A judgment of conviction that is entered against a defendant without service of a charging instrument is absent personal jurisdiction over the defendant and is regarded as a void judgment. Great Am. Ins. Co. v. Bevis, 652 So.2d 382, 383 (Fla. 2d DCA 1995).

Certainly, you must have documents that were filed by your office supporting a 3-year-long prosecution by your office begun while you were Chief Assistant State's Attorney and continuing while you were State's Attorney that proximately caused the loss of liberty interests – incarceration. Please supply your charging information/document and proof of service by your office of that document. Service of a show cause order by a judge in a civil case does not confer jurisdiction upon a criminal court or standing of the sovereign. Failure to supply a valid document indicates crime and corruption concerning the docketing/prosecution.

Very Truly Yours,

Scott Huminski
