Good afternoon all,

I wanted to pass along some good tips for best practices when using PPE. Please review these videos and tips at your leisure and let me know if you have any questions.

Proper handwashing techniques <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=lisgnbMfKvI>
Proper latex/nitrile glove practices https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=YOWa__qWp6U
How to properly wear a facemask <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JwPWdkbyizw>

Be well and be safe.

Thanks, Ian. Found I was right by storing my mask in a ziplock bag.

I am looking forward to answering your emails remotely as our library building is closed due to covid-19.

So Jeanine brought up a question about glove disposal. I cannot find anything from the CDC or on the web outside of proper removal and handwashing. Would you be able to reach out to some other libraries and see what they are planning on doing? I can't imagine having a medical disposal company come to get used PPE, but then again I don't know. Wow, this really opens up another can of worms.

Sorry to add more to the ever filling cup of what now... I need a drink. See you soon.

Ian-will gloves be considered a 'biohazard' and have to be discarded into special biohazard trash containers? Will staff discard them into any garbage can or will specific containers with lids be used to reduce the chance of creating aerosols when they are discarded? Also, I was thinking of the maintenance crews safety and ease of collection. Thanks.

Since we are not in a healthcare setting, we are not required to dispose of PPE as hazardous waste. Look on OSHA site.
