Test Design and Item Specifications=20

*Test Design and Item Specifications *for the Washington Comprehensive Asses=

Tenille_Jefferies-Simmons--matt_bittner@enumclaw.wednet.edu_0
on the Science Assessment webpage [<http://www.k12.wa.us/Science/Assessments.aspx>]

The documents describe how clusters (stimulus and item sets) and standalone items for the WCAS assessments are developed to assess the "Washington State 2013 K-12 Science Learning Standards" [<http://www.k12.wa.us/Science/Standards.aspx>] ("Next Generation Science Standards").

The documents include a test design section followed by an item specification section. The test design section includes information about the organization of the WCAS, the item types used, and an overview of the science standards.

The item specification section includes a small sample of specifications that are based on the Performance Expectations (PEs) in the standards. The sample will continue to expand through the 2017-18 and 2018-19 school years until item specifications for all PEs are achieved.

Online WCAS Training Tests

Training Tests for the Washington Comprehensive Assessment of Science (WCAS) for grades 5, 8, and high school are now available on the WCAP Portal [<http://wa.portal.airast.org/>]. To experience the greatest variety of item types and test functionalities, students in 5th, 8th, and 11th grade should interact with the training tests at all three grade levels.

An "Online Training Test Support" document will be posted on Friday, January 5, 2018. The document will provide more information about the training test questions, including a description of ways to practice using the tools for each item type.

Upcoming Science Webinars

The Assessment Development office is hosting two webinars in January to support the release of the Washington Comprehensive Assessment of Science (WCAS) Training Tests and the Test Design and Item Specifications documents. The webinars will be recorded and be available through your district test coordinator. [<http://www.k12.wa.us/TestAdministration/Contacts.aspx>]

Apply to National Youth Science Camp

Washington high school seniors are encouraged to submit an application to attend the 2018 National Youth Science Camp (NYSC).=20

Two Washington high school seniors will be selected from the applicant pool to receive a scholarship to exchange ideas with scientists and other professionals from the academic and corporate worlds. The selected delegates must not only demonstrate academic achievement in science, but also show potential for thoughtful scientific leadership.=20

Application materials are available on the NYSC website at http://apply.nysc.org [<http://apply.nysc.org>]* and must be submitted by February 28, 2018.=C2=A0 *

Prospective candidates are also encouraged to let OSPI know of their intent to apply by emailing Rochelle Gandour-Rood at rochelle.gandourrood@k12.wa.us <rochelle.gandourrood@k12.wa.us>.=20

About the NYSC

The NYSC experience is hosted and operated by the National Youth Science Foundation (www.nysf.com [<http://www.nysf.com>]) and is offered at no cost to participants, so that selected delegates may attend regardless of their financial status. Educational and recreational programming, as well as meals, lodging, and round-trip air passage on scheduled airlines are provided free of charge.=20

The NYSC is held near Bartow in the eastern mountains of West Virginia, within the Monongahela National Forest. Delegates arrive in Charleston, West Virginia, on Wednesday, June 27, 2018, and depart on Saturday, July 21, 2018. The nearly month-long experience includes lectures and hands-on research projects presented by scientists from across the nation, overnight expeditions into the national forests, and a visit to Washington, D.C.=20

Washington Remains Leader for National Board Certification

OLYMPIA=E2=80=94JANUARY 8, 2018=E2=80=94Washington continues to be a leader in increasing its number of National Board Certified teachers.

Numbers released today by the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS) show that Washington has the most new National Board Certified teachers (NBCTs) of any state (1,434*). The total number of 10,135 NBCTs is third in the country overall.

Certification is a one- to five-year process that includes taking an assessment and assembling three portfolios. According to the NBPTS, completing the certification shows that each teacher knows and practices =E2=80=9Cthe definitive standards of accomplished teaching.=E2=80=9D

=E2=80=9CCongratulations to all the newly-certified teachers and those who renewed their certificates,=E2=80=9D said Chris Reykdal, Superintendent of Public Instruction. =E2=80=9CIt takes a lot of sustained and intentional work to become a National Board Certified teacher, and it=E2=80=99s a testament to the dedication of our teachers that so many continue to pursue it.=E2=80=9D

=E2=80=9CThe popularity of the program has taken a statewide effort,=E2=80=9D Reykdal continued. =E2=80=9CGovernor Jay Inslee, the Washington Education Association, and the Center for Strengthening the Teaching Profession =E2=80=93 as well as broad bipartisan legislative support =E2=80=93 has not only put us on the NBCT map, but has kept us there.=E2=80=9D

=E2=80=9CWashington=E2=80=99s teachers are some of the finest in the country and this additional certification will make a tremendous difference to their students, schools, and communities,=E2=80=9D Gov. Inslee said. =E2=80=9CThere is no more important job than a teacher as their work impacts countless lives and futures. I applaud these Nationally Board Certified teachers for their hard work and determination.=E2=80=9D=20

In 2007, the Washington State Legislature began awarding a $5,000 bonus to each NBCT. Teachers can receive up to an additional $5,000 bonus if they teach in =E2=80=9Cchallenging=E2=80=9D schools, which are defined as having a certain percentage of students qualify for free and reduced-price lunch (50 percent for high schools, 60 percent for middle schools, and 70 percent for elementary schools).

Washington by the numbers for 2017:

- * Number of new NBCTs: 1,434 (national rank: 1st)=20
- * Number of renewed certificates: 533=20
- * Total number of NBCTs: 10,135 (national rank: 3rd)=20
- * 88 percent of all Washington=E2=80=99s NBCTs (about 8,900) remain actively engaged in education=20

=E2=80=9CWashington=E2=80=99s educators are among the best in the country in large part because of the support we offer them to grow and develop,=E2=80=9D said Kim Mead, President of the Washington Education Association (WEA). =E2=80=9CI=E2=80=99m proud of the role WEA plays in supporting our members pursuing their national certification with high-quality training and peer support through this rigorous process. Our educators=E2=80=99 commitment to excellence is a reflection of their commitment to our students.=E2=80=9D

we are excited that so many accomplished Washington teachers have successfully demonstrated their accomplishments in the classroom with students and are now NBCTs," said Nasue Nishida, Executive Director for the Center for Strengthening the Teaching Profession (CSTP).

The Washington State National Board Network Partners (CSTP, OSPI, and WEA) have worked together to develop, maintain, and sustain a structure of support for teachers pursuing National Board; incentives after they achieve; and leadership development opportunities as they continue their journey in the profession. This year's number is an indication that what we do in Washington state is working," Nishida continued.

More intentional and more focused

Winlock, Wash., is about an hour's drive north of Vancouver. Nearly four out of every five students at Winlock Miller Elementary School receive free or reduced-price meals. Tori Nelson is a fourth grade English language arts teacher at Winlock Miller and the first teacher in her district to become an NBCT.

Nelson said the process took three years. "I wouldn't have done it without the support of the superintendent at the time," she said. "She pushed me to do it and gave me the time. She saw something in me and felt like it was something I could accomplish."

For Nelson, achieving certification forced her to take a deeper look at how she approached her job. "Teaching is a pretty difficult job," she said. "When you have to break down every little thing you do, you're forced to really reflect on everything you're doing in the classroom. That pushes you to become more intentional and more focused. It also reminds you why you do what you do: to help kids. It's a good incentive to keep the kids as your number-one focus."

There were days when I told myself that I was a better teacher than I thought," Nelson added, "and there were days when I said, 'Wow, I have a lot of things to work on.'"

Nelson noted that being an NBCT has put her in a mentor role in her district. "It's one thing to teach children," she said, "but it's another thing to teach teachers. I think that's a pretty good way to better yourself as an educator."

Nelson said she would recommend other teachers going through the certification process. "Some people may look at it as just another hoop to jump through," she said. "But it really is a process that makes you break down your teaching and helps you grow. It requires you to dissect what you do, and why you do it. That forces you to better yourself."

About Board certification

Since 2009, Washington state has offered a conditional loan program to help candidates pay for the cost of certification. Loans are repaid by teachers with the bonuses they earn after becoming certified. To date, more than 4,000 conditional loans have been offered, and $5.5 million has been repaid to the revolving fund, allowing the state to continue to award future loans.

Certification consists of four components:

- * An assessment of the teacher's content knowledge.
- * A portfolio showing work students have done and the teacher's feedback.

eedback to the student.=20

* Two videos of the teacher in the classroom, showing lessons taught and = the interaction with and among students.=20

* A portfolio of =E2=80=9Creflective=E2=80=9D work: what the teacher does= outside the classroom that translates in the classroom.=20

The last three components are assessed by a national panel of peers.

Created in 1987, the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards [h= ttp://www.nbpts.org/] is an independent, nonpartisan, and nonprofit organi= zation devoted to advancing the quality of teaching and learning.

Interim Resources - Update "01/08/2018" =20

NEW Interim Answer Key Documents

Answer keys for the Smarter Balanced Interim Assessment Blocks (IABs) and I= nterim Comprehensive Assessments (ICAs) are now available. For each grade l= evel, the answer key presents scoring information for the ICAs, the Perform= ance Tasks (PT), and for each IAB. In addition to answers and rubrics, clai=

m and target alignment for each item is also provided.

The answer key documents are considered non-secure, but non-public, like the interims. They are intended to support classroom instruction; however, they should not be distributed or posted to any public website. For interims that have items that require hand scoring, refer to the THSS Materials in TIDE.

The interim answer keys are located in the WCAP Portal inside TIDE with the Teacher Hand Scoring System (THSS) materials. (General Resources menu > THSS Materials). Once in the Interim Scoring Materials folder, choose the subject and grade zip folder to find the grade-level interim answer key files.

Additional Connections Playlists
Smarter Balanced has created Connection Playlists as instructional resources that link student performance on IABs with specific Digital Library resources. Additional playlists have been added since November, for a total of 45 now available in the Digital Library. This project will be complete mid-February when there will be a total of 107 playlists posted, one for each IAB in every grade!

In addition, Smarter Balanced has updated the Digital Library web page [<https://www.smarterbalanced.org/educators/the-digital-library/>] to describe playlists and allow educators to search for available playlists. By selecting a subject and grade, educators may explore the available topics and view sample playlists.

For more information, see the attached Digital Library Playlist flier.

OSPI NEWS RELEASE: Reykdal Proposes Legislation to Ease Funding Burden on School Districts "01/10/2018" =20

State Superintendent Chris Reykdal

=C2=A0

Reykdal Proposes Legislation to Ease Funding Burden on School Districts

OLYMPIA=E2=80=94JANUARY 10, 2018=E2=80=94Superintendent of Public Instruction Chris Reykdal plans to introduce proposed legislation within the next few days that would provide school districts more funding flexibility.

The proposed bill would make changes to House Bill 2242 [<http://app.leg.wa.gov/billsummary?BillNumber=3D2242&Year=3D2017>], which the Legislature passed in 2017. =E2=80=9CThe bill made substantial changes to school finance in addition to making some much needed targeted investments in some areas,=

Reykdal said. We appreciate the hard work of policymakers to produce these significant changes.

However, I've spoken to many school district leaders since the bill passed. They've noted that the bill needs some fine-tuning so they can implement the policies as intended by lawmakers.

One area that concerns some districts is the loss of flexible funds to support students. The changes benefit most, but some districts are struggling to adequately provide programs that are not considered basic education, Reykdal said. In the past, districts could make up deficits in state funding through local levies. But in addition to increasing education funding, the Legislature reduced the amount of money school districts can raise through local levies. That leaves some districts in a bind.

To solve this problem, districts need more funding and they need more flexibility in their local levies, Reykdal said. His proposed legislation will, in short:

- * Revise the local levy amount included in HB 2242 to provide districts with the option of choosing a levy that produces $2,500 per resident student or the rate per student produced by their 2018 maintenance and operations levy (levies above $2.31 per $1,000 of assessed value must reduce by $0.81);

- * Increase levy equalization (which provides additional funds to districts whose property taxes are lower than the state average) to $2,350 to accommodate for the higher levy opportunities;

- * Ensure voters in high-rate districts (those taxing at $2.31 per $1,000 of assessed value or higher) will not see a net increase in property taxes between local and state property tax (this requires the Legislature to add approximately $225 million in additional levy equalization); and

- * Restore about $700 million out of the $1.2 billion that is expected to be reduced in local levies beginning Jan. 1, 2019.

Local voters should decide how much additional support they want to provide to their local schools, Reykdal. And this is the year to make those changes because the rules for levies change Jan. 1, 2019.

CI urge legislators to either make this change or delay the automatic levy reductions by one year in order to develop a more rational and sustainable solution for local districts, he added.

"The Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI) is the primary agency charged with overseeing K-12 education in Washington state. Led by State Superintendent Chris Reykdal, OSPI works with the state's 295 school districts and nine educational service districts to administer basic education programs and implement education reform on behalf of more than one million public school students."

"OSPI provides equal access to all programs and services without discrimination based on sex, race, creed, religion, color, national origin, age, honorably discharged veteran or military status, sexual orientation, gender expression or identity, the presence of any sensory, mental, or physical disability, or the use of a trained dog guide or service animal by a person with a disability."

"Questions and complaints of alleged discrimination should be directed to the Equity and Civil Rights Director at 360-725-6162 or P.O. Box 47200, Olympia, WA 98504-7200."

Reykdal Celebrates First Year in Office; Looks Toward Future

"As of today, Superintendent Chris Reykdal has been in office for one year. Below is his statement."

*OLYMPIA=E2=80=94January 11, 2018=E2=80=94*Today marks the end of my first year serving the people of Washington as our state=E2=80=99s superintendent of public instruction.

Over the past year, we built a leadership team that is beginning to reflect the incredible diversity of our students, and bolstered our legislative advocacy, including working with all four political caucuses to pass legislation to reduce standardized testing and open up multiple pathways to high school graduation.

We took on significant restructuring within the agency, including adding an Educator Growth and Development team and merging our Career and Technical Education department with our Learning and Teaching division.

We affirmed our commitment to equity by standing up for students=E2=80=99 civil rights, urging our congressional delegation to protect Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) students and teachers, and pushing Congress to maintain funding for effective teaching.

The work we=E2=80=99ve done over the past year has built the foundation of our 6-year vision [<http://k12.wa.us/AboutUs/Priorities/default.aspx><http://k12.wa.us/AboutUs/Priorities/default.aspx>] for public K=E2=80=9312 education in Washington state.=20

Our priorities for the next year and beyond include supporting the Legislature to make necessary changes to the "McCleary" legislation passed in 2017 (House Bill 2242 [<http://app.leg.wa.gov/billsummary?BillNumber=3D2242&Year=3D2017>]) to provide school districts with the flexibility needed to effectively support all students.

Additionally, we will continue building research and statewide conversations surrounding increased instructional hours and dual language learning for all students beginning in kindergarten.=C2=A0=20

We will also keep working with policymakers to lower the costs of dual credit opportunities for more students and open up more pathways to high school graduation.

Internally, we will continue laying the groundwork for these priorities by completing new mission, vision, and values statements for our organization; as well as finalizing new equity and strategic plans.

Through all of this work, our overarching focus remains on strengthening our public K=E2=80=9312 education system so every young person in Washington will thrive.=20

I am very grateful for the employees at the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI), who work hard every day to support students, school districts, and policymakers. I deeply appreciate the diverse needs of our students and school districts.=20

Local district leaders advocate passionately for their students and communities, and at OSPI we are building a strong ethos about the importance of local control that balances the policy interests of lawmakers.

We will continue to listen, communicate, advocate, and take risks to make sure our educators and local school leaders have the resources and policies necessary to improve achievement for each and every one of our 1.1 million students.

"About OSPI"

"The Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI) is the primary agency charged with overseeing K-12 education in Washington state. Led by State Superintendent Chris Reykdal, OSPI works with the state's 295 school districts and nine educational service districts to administer basic education programs and implement education reform on behalf of more than one million public school students."

"OSPI provides equal access to all programs and services without discrimination based on sex, race, creed, religion, color, national origin, age, honorably discharged veteran or military status, sexual orientation, gender expression or identity, the presence of any sensory, mental, or physical disability, or the use of a trained dog guide or service animal by a person with a disability."

"Questions and complaints of alleged discrimination should be directed to the Equity and Civil Rights Director at 360-725-6162 or P.O. Box 47200, Olympia, WA 98504-7200."

Apply by February 9, 2018 for Smarter Balanced Assessment Activities! "01/12/2018" =20

Dear Educator,

Smarter Balanced is recruiting qualified educators to support assessment activities in 2018. Specifically, Smarter Balanced is seeking educators with content knowledge in English language arts (ELA) and Math, as well as educators with specialized accessibility knowledge of and/or training for special student populations (e.g. English language learners, students with disabilities). Educators with science and/or social science expertise are also encouraged to apply for ELA item authoring and item review committees.

Associated travel costs, lodging, meals, and substitute reimbursements will be provided for selected in-person meeting attendees.

The recruitment flier [http://www.k12.wa.us/ELA/pubdocs/SmarterRecruitment2018_WA.pdf] includes qualification requirements and detailed information about each opportunity. Please keep in mind that applying for these opportunities does not guarantee participation.

Re: Adoption of Washington State Department of Health Immunization Information System (WAIIS) by the Migrant Education Health Program

Summary: The purpose of this bulletin is to inform districts that the Migrant Education Health Program will be adopting the Washington State Department of Health Immunization Information System (WAIIS) in lieu of the Migrant Student Information System (MSIS) immunization records. Multiple handoffs of immunization records have made it difficult to compile an accurate student immunizations database. As a result, more migrant students lack proper immunization documentation and are found out-of-compliance with state immunization requirements. This decision aims to adopt a single immunization system that will cut back on data entering on behalf of the Migrant Education Program and track immunizations more efficiently. Ultimately, the goal is to prevent disease outbreaks, establish statewide collaboration, and provide accurate immunization data.

Flag Lowering - January 17, 2018 (Dep. McCartney)

Governor Inslee is deeply saddened by the death of Pierce County Deputy Daniel A. McCartney, 34, and directs that Washington State and United States flags at all state agency facilities be lowered to half-staff in his memory on Wednesday, January 17, 2018. Deputy McCartney was shot and killed while responding to a burglary call on January 8, 2018.

Flags should remain at half-staff until close of business or sunset on Wednesday, January 17, 2018.

UPDATE: Dyslexia Report=C2=A0 <http://www.k12.wa.us/LegisGov/2018documents/2018-01-UpdatedDyslexiaSupport.pdf>

It is projected that 10 percent of the United States population have dyslexia; in Washington, that translates to 100,000 Washington students. Those who receive appropriate identification and interventions can make strides in their educational development as they prepare for college, career, and life. During the 2016-17 school year about 100 individuals participated in training offered by the educational service districts.

Educational Data on Military Families=C2=A0 <http://www.k12.wa.us/LegisGov/2018documents/2017-12-MilitaryFamilyIndicators.pdf>

While the funding for the identification and support of students with dyslexia ended in 2010, the Dyslexia Handbook and the variety of professional learning resources are still widely available. During the 2014-15 school year, members from the nine regional educational service districts did not receive any requests for professional development workshops on dyslexia, although many ESDs did provide technical assistance.

Washington's Comprehensive Assessment Program=C2=A0 <http://www.k12.wa.us/LegisGov/2018documents/2017-12-WCompAssessmentProgram.pdf>

The Washington Comprehensive Assessment Program (WCAP) includes all state tests administered in Washington: Smarter Balanced Assessments (ELA and math for student in grades 3-8 and high school), Measurements of Student Progress (science, grades 5 and 8), end-of-course exams in math and biology and specialized testing for English proficiency, alternate achievement standards, and graduation alternatives. The report summarizes participation in the tests, as well as the costs associated with each.

A number of programs in Washington State provide high school students the opportunity to earn high school and college credit at the same time. By earning dual credit, students ease their transition into college by getting a head start on their postsecondary coursework. In 2017, more than 195,000 students about one out of every two students (56.7 percent) completed at least one dual credit course. That number is an increase of 36.8 percent from 2010.

UPDATE: Combined FTE Experience of Students Participating in the Running Start Program <http://www.k12.wa.us/LegisGov/2018documents/2018-01-RunningStartParticipation.pdf>

The Running Start program allows high school juniors and seniors to attend institutions of higher education using state basic education dollars. For many years, those students were funded by the state as a 2.0 full-time equivalent. Beginning in 2011-12, funding was reduced to a maximum of 1.2 FTE per student. This report examines the effect the reduction has had on student course enrollment patterns in the high school and Running Start.

Math Updates

ESHB 2224 Webinar

Join OSPI=80=99s Mathematics Learning and Teaching and Assessment Departments as they share the most recent information and resources about ESHB 2224 for mathematics. The webinar will cover the vision, key components, and resources for implementation of ESHB 2224 and the most recent information on the 10th grade assessment. We will also provide an opportunity for questions and answers.

when: Jan 17, 2018 3:30 PM Pacific Time (US and Canada)
Topic: Mathematics: ESHB 2224 Updates and Resources

About the NYSC

The NYSC experience is hosted and operated by the National Youth Science Foundation (www.nysf.com) and is offered at no cost to participants, so that selected delegates may attend regardless of their financial status. Educational and recreational programming, as well as meals, lodging, and round-trip air passage on scheduled airlines are provided free of charge.

The NYSC is held near Bartow in the eastern mountains of West Virginia, within the Monongahela National Forest. Delegates arrive in Charleston, West Virginia, on Wednesday, June 27, 2018, and depart on Saturday, July 21, 2018. The nearly month-long experience includes lectures and hands-on research projects presented by scientists from across the nation, overnight expeditions into the national forests, and a visit to Washington, D.C.

Please contact Ellen Ebert at 360-725-4962 or ellen.ebert@k12.wa.us or Rochelle Gandour-Rood at 360-725-4976 or rochelle.gandourrood@k12.wa.us, if you have any questions regarding this announcement. a,Arial,sans-serif;">OSPI NEWS RELEASE: Washington Remains Leader for Nati=

"There is no more important job than a teacher as their work impacts countless lives and futures. I applaud these Nationally Board Certified teachers for their hard work and determination."

In 2007, the Washington State Legislature began awarding a $5,000 bonus to each NBCT. Teachers can receive up to an additional $5,000 bonus if they teach in "challenging" schools, which are defined as having a certain percentage of students qualify for free and reduced-price lunch (50 percent for high schools, 60 percent for middle schools, and 70 percent for elementary schools).

washington by the numbers for 2017:

- Number of new NBCTs: 1,434 (national rank: 1st)
- Number of renewed certificates: 533
- Total number of NBCTs: 10,135 (national rank: 3rd)
- 88 percent of all Washington's NBCTs (about 8,900) remain actively engaged in education

"Washington's educators are among the best in the country in large part because of the support we offer them to grow and develop," said Kim Mead, President of the Washington Education Association (WEA). "I'm proud of the role WEA plays in supporting our members pursuing their national certification with high-quality training and peer support through this rigorous process. Our educators' commitment to excellence is a reflection of their commitment to our students."

"We are excited that so many accomplished Washington teachers have successfully demonstrated their 'accomplished-ness' in the classroom with students and are now NBCTs," said Nasue Nishida, Executive Director for the Center for Strengthening the Teaching Profession (CSTP).

"The Washington State National Board Network Partners (CSTP, OSPI, and WEA) have worked together to develop, maintain, and sustain a structure of support for teachers pursuing National Board; incentives after they achieve; and leadership development opportunities as they continue their journey in the profession. This year's number is an indication that what we do in Washington state is working," Nishida continued.

"More intentional and more focused"

Winlock, Wash., is about an hour's drive north of Vancouver. Nearly four out of every five students at Winlock Miller Elementary School receive free or reduced-price meals. Tori Nelson is a fourth grade English language arts teacher at Winlock Miller and the first teacher in her district to become an NBCT.

Nelson said the process took three years. "I wouldn't uo;t have done it without the support of the superintendent at the time,&rdquo; she said. &ldquo;She pushed me to do it and gave me the time. She saw = something in me and felt like it was something I could accomplish.&rdquo;

For Nelson, achieving certification forced her to take a deeper look at how she approached her job. &ldquo;Teaching is a pretty difficult job,&rdquo; she said. &ldquo;When you have to break down every little thing you do, you&rsquo;re forced to really reflect on everything you&rsquo;re doing in the classroom. That pushes you to become more intentional and more focused. It also reminds you why you do what you do: to help kids. It&rsquo;s a good incentive to keep the kids as your number-one focus.&rdquo;

&ldquo;There were days when I told myself that I was a better teacher than I thought,&rdquo; Nelson added, &ldquo;and there were days when I said, &lsquo;wow, I have a lot of things to work on.&rsquo;&rdquo;

Nelson noted that being an NBCT has put her in a mentor role = in her district. &ldquo;It&rsquo;s one thing to teach children,&rdquo; she = said, &ldquo;but it&rsquo;s another thing to teach teachers. I think that&rsquo;s a pretty good way to better yourself as an educator.&rdquo;

Nelson said she would recommend other teachers going through = the certification process. &ldquo;Some people may look at it as just another hoop to jump through,&rdquo; she said. &ldquo;But it really is a process = that makes you break down your teaching and helps you grow. It requires you = to dissect what you do, and why you do it. That forces you to better yourself.&rdquo;

Since 2009, Washington state has offered a conditional loan program to help candidates pay for the cost of certification. Loans are repaid by teachers with the bonuses they earn after becoming certified. To date, more than 4,000 conditional loans have been offered, and $5.5 million has been repaid to the revolving fund, allowing the state to continue to award future loans.

Certification consists of four components:

* This number varies slightly from the number reported by the Board. The Board relies on teachers to self-report and maintain their contact information. Some teachers choose not to share that information. OSPI relies on a combination of personnel data and Board data, which the Office considers to be more accurate.

rif; color: #dd4f29;">Reykdal Proposes Legislation to Ease Funding Burden o= n School Districts

OLYMPIA—JANUARY 10, 2018—Superintendent of Public Instruction Chris Reykdal plans to introduce proposed legislation within the next few days that would provide school districts more funding flexibility.

The proposed bill would make changes to House Bill 2242, which the Legislature passed in 2017. “The bill made substantial changes to school finance in addition to making some much needed targeted investments in some areas,” Reykdal said. “we appreciate the hard work of policymakers to produce these significant changes.”

“However, I’ve spoken to many school district leaders since the bill passed. They’ve noted that the bill needs some fine-tuning so they can implement the policies as intended by lawmakers.”

One area that concerns some districts is the loss of flexible funds to support students. “The changes benefit most, but some districts are struggling to adequately provide programs that are not considered basic education,” Reykdal said. In the past, districts could make up deficits in state funding through local levies. But in addition to increasing education funding, the Legislature reduced the amount of money school districts can raise through local levies. That leaves some districts in a bind.

“To solve this problem, districts need more funding and they need more flexibility in their local levies,” Reykdal said. His proposed legislation will, in short:

- Revise the local levy amount included in HB 2242 to provide districts with the option of choosing a levy that produces $2,500 per resident student or the rate per student produced by their 2018 maintenance and operations levy (levies above $2.31 per $1,000 of assessed value must reduce by $0.81);
- Increase levy equalization (which provides additional funds to districts whose property taxes are lower than the state average) to $2,350 to accommodate for the higher levy opportunities;
- Ensure voters in “high-rate” districts (those taxing at $2.31 per $1,000 of assessed value or higher) will not see a net increase in property taxes between local and state property tax (this requires the Legislature to add approximately $225 million in additional levy equalization); and

OSPI is an equal opportunity employer. We strive to create a working environment that includes and respects cultural, racial, ethnic, sexual orientation and gender identity diversity. Women, racial and ethnic minorities, persons with disabilities, persons over 40 years of age, disabled and Vietnam era veterans and people of all sexual orientations and gender identities are encouraged to apply. Persons needing accommodation in the application process or this announcement in an alternative format may contact the human resources office at 360-725-6270 or 360-725-6066, or hroffice@k12.wa.us.

Apply by February 9, 2018 for Smarter Balanced Assessment Activities!

01/12/2018

Dear Educator,

Smarter Balanced is recruiting qualified educators to support assessment activities in 2018. Specifically, Smarter Balanced is seeking educators with content knowledge in English language arts (ELA) and Math, as well as educators with specialized accessibility knowledge of and/or training for special student populations (e.g. English language learners, students with disabilities). Educators with science and/or social science expertise are also encouraged to apply for ELA item authoring and item review committees.

Associated travel costs, lodging, meals, and substitute reimbursements will be provided for selected in-person meeting attendees.

Washington State Department of Health Immunization Information System (WAIIS)

in lieu of the Migrant Student Information System (MSIS) immunization records.

Multiple handoffs of immunization records have made it difficult to compile an accurate student immunizations database. As a result, more migrant students lack proper immunization documentation and are found out-of-compliance with state immunization requirements. This decision aims to adopt a single immunization system that will cut back on data entering on behalf of the Migrant Education Program and track immunizations more efficiently. Ultimately, the goal is to prevent disease outbreaks, establish statewide collaboration, and provide accurate immunization data.

The Washington Comprehensive Assessment Program (WCAP) includes all state tests administered in Washington: Smarter Balanced Assessments (ELA and math for student in grades 3-8 and high school), Measurements of Student Progress (science, grades 5 and 8), end-of-course exams in math and biology and specialized testing for English proficiency, alternate achievement standards, and graduation alternatives. The report summarizes participation in the tests, as well as the costs associated with each.

Dual Credit Demographic Data Among Academic Acceleration Grantees

A number of programs in Washington State provide high school students the opportunity to earn high school and college credit at the same time. By earning "dual credit," students ease their transition into college by getting a head start on their postsecondary coursework. In 2017, more than 195,000 students — about one out of every two students (56.7 percent) — completed at least one dual credit course. That number is an increase of 36.8 percent from 2010.
