

From: Gregory Hansen <ghansen@sa18.org>

Date: Tue, Mar 22, 2022 at 9:28 AM

Subject: Re: Locke v. Locke Final Order status following Dec. 16th trial completion

To: leslie@leslieannlaw.com <leslie@leslieannlaw.com>, service@spacecoastfamilylaw.com <service@spacecoastfamilylaw.com>

Cc: Edmond Law, LLC. <edmondtriallaw@gmail.com>

Ms. Ferderigos; I am the Assistant State Attorney handling the criminal cases involving your client, Michael Locke. I am preparing a modified bond condition order which needs to reflect the findings of the family law proceedings which concluded Dec. 16, 2021.

I have reviewed the Open Court Minutes following the trial of that matter and I see where the Judge directed you to prepare the Final Order in conformance with her orally announced rulings. I do not, however, see any Final Judgement in BECA nor do I see any Notice of Hearing set to address any objections to a proposed order.

Could you please advise whether a proposed Order has been submitted to Judge Recksiedler for her consideration. Mr. Locke has been granted permission to reside in the marital home by the presiding criminal Judge Bookhardt and I have been tasked with preparing an Amended Bond Condition Order setting forth all of his current conditions of bond.

If there is no Final Order in the family law case, I intend to use the rulings as announced in the Open Court Minutes of December 16, 2021 to prepare my proposed Amended Bond Conditions Order. Thank you in advance for your time and attention to this important matter.

P.S. I am copying Ms. Locke's family law lawyer and Mr. Locke's criminal case lawyer so all counsel will be aware of the steps I am taking in an effort to get an enforceable Amended Bond Conditions Order in place. TY.

Gregory S. Hansen

Fla. Bar #460095

Asst. State Attorney

2725 Judge Fran Jamieson Way

Bldg. D

Viera, Florida 32940-6605

(321)617-7510 Ext. 55615

ghansen@sa18.org

_____ -