Good morning,

You're the records request person now, right? FYI, I never received the first request they say they sent in July. Must have just gone to Randy. Anyway, this is a report I can run out of the system. I will have it to you by Monday.

Thanks.

Subject: SmartProcure Public Records Request - Status Update
To: randy.bolerjack@mercerislandschools.org, liz.dodd@mercerislandschools.org

Dear Randy or Custodian of Public Records,

SmartProcure is requesting a status update on our public records request submitted on 2015-07-16. If this request was never received, please see the original request below.

SmartProcure is submitting a public records request to the Mercer Island School District for an electronic record (without scanning or printing) of purchase orders dated 2015-01-07 to current.

The information requested is:

1. Purchase order number or equivalent
2. Purchase order date
3. Line item details
4. Line item quantity
5. Line item price
6. Vendor ID number, name, address, contact person and email address

Please email the information or use the following web link. There is no file size limitation:

http://upload.smartprocure.us/?st=WA&org=MercerIslandSchoolDistrict

If this request was misrouted, please forward to the correct contact person and reply to this communication with the appropriate contact information.

If you have any questions regarding this request please reply to this communication or contact me by telephone at 954-692-6964.

Regards,

Danick Baron

Hi Susan, thanks for your continued research. It's not the CTE certificate that's the issue for my teacher. It was the salary placement. Both of my teachers in question had an emergency sub certificate, but that has no bearing on their CTE certs. Originally, I was having an issue with it because I thought the two were one in the same—using the work experience for the certificate AND salary placement. I've learned a lot in the last few weeks, and I'm not sure I learned it correctly. I think we have it decided in our district, but I look forward to presenting this to our KCVA group in September at our all-day in-service. Crazy stuff. Have a great weekend!

Hi Ladies, I was just doing a little light reading in the S-275 reporting manual ☺

On Page 28, I found:

The Vocational CTE Conditional Certificate is not issued based on a degree; employees with such certificates may be reported as non-degreed (degree type V) if all requirements are met. I think that is what we will need to teach in the future. Don't get the person a "sub" certificate – get them a conditional certificate!

Hi there.

I answered the question relative to employees not earning credits unless working toward a BA in red text below.

Regarding the Emergency Substitute Certificate, my first thought was with Susan (thinking that the Emergency Sub Certificate wouldn't count against the employee because the person didn't complete an ed training program to get the certificate), however after reading Ross's response and looking closely at WAC 392-121-250 which defines nondegreed as long as the BA degree was not a requirement of any education certificate pursuant to WAC 181-79A (and this WAC includes all certificates, including Emergency Substitute). In this case the BA was a requirement of earning the Emergency Sub Certificate, so it wouldn't qualify as non-degreed. Bottom line take away for me is that ANY teaching certificate would exempt someone from being Non-degreed.

WAC 392-121-250

Definition—Highest degree level.

As used in this chapter, the term "highest degree level" means:

(1) The highest degree earned by the employee from an accredited institution of higher education, pursuant to WAC 392-121-249; or

(2) "Nondegreed" for a certificated instructional employee who:

(a) Holds no bachelor's or higher level degree; or

(b) Holds a bachelor's or higher level degree and a valid vocational/career and technical education certificate, but:

(i) The bachelor's or higher level degree was not a requirement of any past or present education certificate or permit, including the vocational/career and technical education certificate, pursuant to chapter 181-77 or 181-79A WAC; and

(ii) Whose highest placement pursuant to WAC 392-121-270 is as a nondegreed certificated instructional employee.

I do not think Ross Bunda is correct in stating that the person cannot use credits unless working towards a BA. A degreed placed individual can move across the salary with additional clock hours and credits. A person placed vocationally can move AFTER they meet the initial certification requirements (6,000 hours of industry experience and completion of a plan II program). That individual can move all the way to the MA column (even if they don't have a bachelor's degree) but can't move beyond the masters column until they earn a master's in education or a related content to what they are teaching. Check out slides 21-23.

Also, check out the example on the middle of page 16 in the S-275 reporting manual. Note that there is no mention of a degree and the individual is placed by the occupational hours. Page 27 is also helpful.

Katie is my colleague that also presents on this topic. Katie, will you review what has been written below?

I agree with Susan here. Nondegreed can count any clock hours/credits after they complete their Initial CTE certificate and can move to the MA column. It's true in the case of your teacher who now has to be placed as degreed instead of non-degreed, that he couldn't have counted his clock hours for Applied Math, etc as a non-degreed teacher because he hadn't earned his Initial yet, so that is one small positive to the situation! Your statement could be altered to read "If he's non-degreed he can only count credits up to the MA column and must stay here until he earns a MA degree. ~~certain number of credits, and he can never use any credits/clock hours after this unless, of course, it's a BA he's working toward.~~ "

Subject: CTE Teacher Salary Placement Question

Hi Susan, Karen Hay suggested I contact you regarding an issue with our district and salary placement for a new Plan 2 Agriculture teacher. She gave me the handouts you gave out at the new CTE directors' workshop at WA-ACTE. I am the CTE director in the Riverview School District. We've met before, but it was brief so I'm not sure if you remember me.

Hey, I have a question for you about salary placement. Attached is what our HR person sent me last week that she received in an HR training. I have a teacher with the following facts:

- I hired an industry person to fill one of my agriculture position.
- He was a horticulture major but not ag ed. Did he get a BA or MA? Yes, sorry, I forgot to say he has a BA in horticulture.
- He has about 10 years of experience as a manager at Flower World. He is more than qualified.
- He is going to take the CTE teacher cert classes starting this fall at SSCC.
- He has an emergency sub cert because he subbed a few times the last 1 ½ years during the winter when Flower World was closed on Mondays.
- He will have no problem getting his initial and continuing certs with his years of experience.
- I was informed by our HR person that he will NOT be able to count ANY years of experience after he received the emergency cert to sub to move up the salary schedule based upon the flowchart attached. One question – when he subbed, I'm assuming it was a sub rate, not a rate of pay based on salary placement. The flowchart referenced refers to a bachelor's degree in teaching. Since he did not complete a teaching program, he could not get a traditional education certificate. He subbed only without a traditional education certificate.

He can be placed either by his degree or his industry hours, whichever places him higher. If he worked full time (2,000 hours per year) for 10 years and has verification of that, he should be placed in the MA column. Also, he can count hours he worked last year in industry. So let's say he subbed 120 hours and worked 2200 hours in industry. You could only count 1880 industry hours towards salary placement as the other 120 hours was teaching. Our HR people got a response from Ross Bunda at WSPA. He said unequivocally that the emergency sub certificate negates any work experience whether he subbed or not. He didn't sub very much. That's the bad news. The good news is that since he is "degreed," he is able to count any credits/clock hours since he got his conditional to count toward his pay scale. He went to Applied Math training, is taking welding certification class, and will start his CTE teacher cert classes this fall. If he's non-degreed he can only count up to a certain number of credits, and he can never use any credits/clock hours after this unless, of course, it's a BA he's working toward. The other bad news is that our district paid my business and marketing teacher (Plan 2 with a BA in Business Admin) based upon his work experience, but now he has to pay that back to us. It's so screwed up. He is going to be so upset, and I don't blame him. What matters, according to Bunda, is if the district in which either of these guys subbed—one was Lake Stevens and the other is Riverview—used their degrees AND that district required a degree to be an emergency sub, then no work experience can count prior to the issuance of that certificate. It makes more sense to me now, but I still don't like it. Either way, there will be two unhappy CTE teachers tomorrow after their meeting with HR. Good times.

- Have you experienced this before? Is it true?
- If I read the flowchart correctly, he screwed up his opportunity to count all of his years of work experience when he applied for and received an emergency sub cert a couple of years ago. This seems like a punishment to this industry person who has a 4-year degree and because he wanted to sub some to see if he liked teaching. This is incorrect – he would have had to have earned a degree in teaching/education and obtained a traditional certificate. He did not, so this does not apply. An emergency sub certificate in CTE from industry does not apply to the flowchart. Bunda says it does NOT matter whether the degree is teaching/education or other. As the flowchart points out, it says, "bachelor's degree." It does NOT say bachelor's in a teaching program, and the flowchart says "any teaching certificate." It's so mangled and it seems (ha! ha!) that the CTE certification department and the personnel salary schedule people at OSPI actually worked in tandem and the two were parallel and NOT skewed in opposite directions over definitions. By the way, your flowchart from your presentation is by the same folks that presented to our HR folks a couple of weeks ago, but they look different. HR thought that was interesting. Again, mixed messages to all. I am going to bring this up with my KCVA group because I'm SURE there are a LOT of school districts that are doing what you and I believe to be fair practice but is NOT according to WSPA. I'm so confused. I would call you but I'm heading out as we speak. Maybe we can talk tomorrow. Marianna Goheen (my first contact) wants me to let her know what the "answer" is since she didn't know. I'll call her tomorrow too.
- Has this ever happened to you? If so, how was it resolved? Can we count the years PRIOR to his emergency cert certificate?

Any help you can provide for me to pass on to our HR department would be great. Thanks, Susan!

I'm pretty tied up until Friday am so feel free to call me then if there are still questions.

Katie is my colleague that also presents on this topic. Katie, will you review what has been written below?

I agree with Susan here. Nondegreed can count any clock hours/credits after they complete their Initial CTE certificate and can move to the MA column. It's true in the case of your teacher who now has to be placed as degreed instead of non-degreed, that he couldn't have counted his clock hours for Applied Math, etc as a non-degreed teacher because he hadn't earned his Initial yet, so that is one small positive to the situation! Your statement could be altered to read "If he's non-degreed he can only count credits up to the MA column and must stay here until he earns a MA degree. ~~certain number of credits, and he can never use any credits/clock hours after this unless, of course, it's a BA he's working toward.~~ "

Subject: CTE Teacher Salary Placement Question

Hi Susan, Karen Hay suggested I contact you regarding an issue with our district and salary placement for a new Plan 2 Agriculture teacher. She gave me the handouts you gave out at the new CTE directors' workshop at WA-ACTE. I am the CTE director in the Riverview School District. We've met before, but it was brief so I'm not sure if you remember me.

Hey, I have a question for you about salary placement. Attached is what our HR person sent me last week that she received in an HR training. I have a teacher with the following facts:

- I hired an industry person to fill one of my agriculture position.
- He was a horticulture major but not ag ed. Did he get a BA or MA? Yes, sorry, I forgot to say he has a BA in horticulture.
- He has about 10 years of experience as a manager at Flower World. He is more than qualified.
- He is going to take the CTE teacher cert classes starting this fall at SSCC.
- He has an emergency sub cert because he subbed a few times the last 1 ½ years during the winter when Flower World was closed on Mondays.
- He will have no problem getting his initial and continuing certs with his years of experience.
- I was informed by our HR person that he will NOT be able to count ANY years of experience after he received the emergency cert to sub to move up the salary schedule based upon the flowchart attached. One question – when he subbed, I'm assuming it was a sub rate, not a rate of pay based on salary placement. The flowchart referenced refers to a bachelor's degree in teaching. Since he did not complete a teaching program, he could not get a traditional education certificate. He subbed only without a traditional education certificate. He can be placed either by his degree or his industry hours, whichever places him higher. If he worked full time (2,000 hours per year) for 10 years and has verification of that, he should be placed in the MA column. Also, he can count hours he worked last year in industry. So let's say he subbed 120 hours and worked 2200 hours in industry. You could only count 1880 industry hours towards salary placement as the other 120 hours was teaching. Our HR people got a response from Ross Bunda at WSPA. He said unequivocally that the emergency sub certificate negates any work experience whether he subbed or not. He didn't sub very much. That's the bad news. The good news is that since he is "degreed," he is able to count any credits/clock hours since he got his conditional to count toward his pay scale. He went to Applied Math training, is taking welding certification class, and will start his CTE teacher cert classes this fall. If he's non-degreed he can only count up to a certain number of credits, and he can never use any credits/clock hours after this unless, of course, it's a BA he's working toward. The other bad news is that our district paid my business and marketing teacher (Plan 2 with a BA in Business Admin) based upon his work experience, but now he has to pay that back to us. It's so screwed up. He is going to be so upset, and I don't blame him. What matters, according to Bunda, is if the district in which either of these guys subbed—one was Lake

Stevens and the other is Riverview—used their degrees AND that district required a degree to be an emergency sub, then no work experience can count prior to the issuance of that certificate. It makes more sense to me now, but I still don't like it. Either way, there will be two unhappy CTE teachers tomorrow after their meeting with HR. Good times.

- Have you experienced this before? Is it true?
- If I read the flowchart correctly, he screwed up his opportunity to count all of his years of work experience when he applied for and received an emergency sub cert a couple of years ago. This seems like a punishment to this industry person who has a 4-year degree and because he wanted to sub some to see if he liked teaching. This is incorrect – he would have had to have earned a degree in teaching/education and obtained a traditional certificate. He did not, so this does not apply. An emergency sub certificate in CTE from industry does not apply to the flowchart. Bunda says it does NOT matter whether the degree is teaching/education or other. As the flowchart points out, it says, "bachelor's degree." It does NOT say bachelor's in a teaching program, and the flowchart says "any teaching certificate." It's so mangled and it seems (ha! ha!) that the CTE certification department and the personnel salary schedule people at OSPI actually worked in tandem and the two were parallel and NOT skewed in opposite directions over definitions. By the way, your flowchart from your presentation is by the same folks that presented to our HR folks a couple of weeks ago, but they look different. HR thought that was interesting. Again, mixed messages to all. I am going to bring this up with my KCVA group because I'm SURE there are a LOT of school districts that are doing what you and I believe to be fair practice but is NOT according to WSPA. I'm so confused. I would call you but I'm heading out as we speak. Maybe we can talk tomorrow. Marianna Goheen (my first contact) wants me to let her know what the "answer" is since she didn't know. I'll call her tomorrow too.
- Has this ever happened to you? If so, how was it resolved? Can we count the years PRIOR to his emergency cert certificate?

Any help you can provide for me to pass on to our HR department would be great. Thanks, Susan!

I'm pretty tied up until Friday am so feel free to call me then if there are still questions.

Thank you, Katie. I just finished telling my ag teacher what the final decision was. He was a little disappointed, but he understood. The best part is that I have a teacher I hired last year, and he now has to pay money back to the district. Huge mess. I'm ready to retire. ☺ Thanks to both of you for your assistance and knowledge with this issue. I really appreciate it.

Subject: RE: CTE Teacher Salary Placement Question

Hi there.

I answered the question relative to employees not earning credits unless working toward a BA in red text below.

Regarding the Emergency Substitute Certificate, my first thought was with Susan (thinking that the Emergency Sub Certificate wouldn't count against the employee because the person didn't complete an ed training program to get the certificate), however after reading Ross's response and looking closely at WAC 392-121-250 which defines nondegreed as long as the BA degree was not a requirement of any education certificate pursuant to WAC 181-79A (and this WAC includes all certificates, including Emergency Substitute). In this case the BA was a requirement of earning the Emergency Sub Certificate, so it wouldn't qualify as non-degreed. Bottom line take away for me is that ANY teaching certificate would exempt someone from being Non-degreed.

WAC 392-121-250

Definition—Highest degree level.

As used in this chapter, the term "highest degree level" means:
(1) The highest degree earned by the employee from an accredited institution of higher education, pursuant to WAC 392-121-249; or
(2) "Nondegreed" for a certificated instructional employee who:
(a) Holds no bachelor's or higher level degree; or
(b) Holds a bachelor's or higher level degree and a valid vocational/career and technical education certificate, but:
(i) The bachelor's or higher level degree was not a requirement of any past or present education certificate or permit, including the vocational/career and technical education certificate, pursuant to chapter 181-77 or 181-79A WAC; and
(ii) Whose highest placement pursuant to WAC 392-121-270 is as a nondegreed certificated instructional employee.

I do not think Ross Bunda is correct in stating that the person cannot use credits unless working towards a BA. A degreed placed individual can move across the salary with additional clock hours and credits. A person placed vocationally can move AFTER they meet the initial certification requirements (6,000 hours of industry experience and completion of a plan II program). That individual can move all the way to the MA column (even if they don't have a bachelor's degree) but can't move beyond the masters column until they earn a master's in education or a related content to what they are teaching. Check out slides 21-23.

Also, check out the example on the middle of page 16 in the S-275 reporting manual. Note that there is no mention of a degree and the individual is placed by the occupational hours. Page 27 is also helpful.

Republican Candidates Take Part In New Hampshire Education Policy Forum.

An education summit in New Hampshire for Republican presidential candidates generated significant coverage focused on the rivals' competing education policy ideas. The New York Times (8/20, Rich, Subscription Publication) reports that six Republican presidential candidates took part in "an unusual panel discussion on education in Londonderry, New Hampshire." The contenders "performed a balancing act as they tried to embrace high standards for schoolchildren while shying away from the Common Core." Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker and New Jersey Gov. Chris Christie "spent a lot of their time criticizing teachers' unions." Meanwhile, Christie, Louisiana Gov. Bobby Jindal, and former Hewlett-Packard CEO Carly Fiorina "reiterated their opposition to the Common Core," while former Florida Gov. Jeb Bush and Ohio Gov. John Kasich defended the standards.

The Washington Post (8/20, Balingit) reports that the forum was organized by the Seventy Four, which is an education news and policy website founded by former CNN journalist Campbell Brown. The Post reports that Brown planned "to use the 'education summit' to grill candidates" on "their knowledge of education policy."

The AP (8/20) ran a brief item previewing the event.

The Boston Globe (8/20, Pindell) reports that the event was also sponsored by the pro-charter American Federation for Children. Brown interviewed the candidates "on how they would improve education as president, their opinion of the Common Core educational standards, and who advised them on education policy." Politico (8/19, Emma) reports that education policy has been largely ignored in recent presidential election campaigns, and that the event will push the issue to the forefront.

Parents, Residents Criticize CPS Budget At Public Hearing.

The Chicago Tribune (8/19, Perez) reports that parents and residents criticized the $200 million budget cut proposed by Chicago Public Schools during a public hearing on Tuesday. The Chicago Board of Education is expected to vote on the new budget next Wednesday. The Tribune notes that the budget cuts included reduced spending on special education programs. However, according to district officials, the cut stems from a review that revealed an excess in spending on special education, particularly in terms of staffing.

Proponents of Marijuana Legalization Estimate $40 Million For Arizona Schools.

The Arizona Republic (8/20, Sanchez) reports that according to the Campaign to Regulate Mar juana Like Alcohol, legalizing marijuana could raise $40 million for Arizona's schools, with half funding K-12 and the other half funding all-day kindergarten programs. The state's Chamber of Commerce, business leaders, and governor have opposed legislation to legalize marijuana. The Republic notes that there has been no independent analysis in the state of tax revenues from legalization.

Oklahoma Launches Program That Covers ACT Prep Test Costs.

The AP (8/19, Murphy) reports that Oklahoma’s School Superintendent on Wednesday announced a $1.5 million pilot program which will allow every high school junior in the state to take the ACT prep test for free. The superintendent hopes the program will boost enrollment for the test, which currently only half of juniors take each year. The AP notes that critics of the program have questions whether the program was a good use of funds, given the state’s shrinking budget.

Alaska Standardized Tests Show Decline In Math, Reading Proficiency.

The AP (8/19) reports that results from new standardized tests in Alaska reveal a decline in student proficiency in math and reading from previous years. However, the state commissioner of education warned that this year’s test cannot be compared to previous ones because the new test has a different baseline, which makes comparisons of scores inaccurate.

USA Today: Parents Should Not Be Allowed To Opt-Out Of Standardized Tests.

USA Today (8/19) editorializes in support of standardized tests, explaining that the tests offer the “most objective measures” of overall performance of students and the school. Furthermore, USA Today criticizes the opt-out provision, stating it sends the wrong message to children, namely that they can escape hardships in life and “defy rules designed for the good of the community.”

In response to the editorial, Jeanette Deutermann and Lisa Rudley, public school parents and founders of New York State Allies for Public Education, write in USA Today (8/19) that school curriculum designed around standardized tests does not benefit learning. Additionally, Deutermann and Rudley argue that by standing up against standardized tests they teach their children to speak up for themselves and organize for a shared cause.

Finn, Wright: Education System Does Not Challenge Smartest Students.

In a Wall Street Journal (8/20, Subscription Publication) op-ed, Chester Finn and Brandon Wright of the Thomas B. Fordham Institute say a problem of the education system is that the best students are not challenged to reach their full potential. The authors say US policy focuses on weak students at the expense of more gifted pupils.

Decline In Teacher Training Program Enrollments Across US.

NPR (8/19) reports in the “NprEd” blog that several states across the US have seen sharp drops in enrollment for teacher training programs, including California, New York, and Texas. According to Bill McDiarmid, the dean of the University of North Carolina School of Education, this is due to the resurgence of the US economy and increasing perceptions that teaching is not a stable career and is heavily susceptible to the political environment. Meanwhile, the head of a consortium of reform-minded deans of colleges of education, Benjamin Riley explains that there is no “empirically defens ble” reason for the decline. Riley suggests that there may not be a shortage, but rather a mismatch of the type of teachers in demand.

OCR Investigating Racial Discrimination Claims In Salt Lake City.

The Salt Lake (UT) Tribune (8/20) reports that ED’s Office for Civil Rights has confirmed that it is investigating claims of racial discrimination in the public schools in Salt Lake City, Utah. Board member Michael Clara filed a complaint with OCR in June alleging that “students of color are targeted for disciplinary action and the school-based police offices are disproportionately assigned to areas with high racial diversity.” The piece reports that a spokesman for the district “said district administrators are working to ensure equity and welcome federal investigators’ objective review of their programs.”

The Deseret (UT) News (8/20) reports that OCR “will investigate the district in response to a complaint of disproportionate discipline for black, Latino, Polynesian and Native American students,” noting that the investigation was announced by the American Civil Liberties Union. The article relates statistics showing disparities in school discipline for students of various races, and notes that civil rights advocates say that this impacts academic outcomes. The piece notes that OCR officials “say the investigation will be ‘prompt.’” The AP (8/20) and KSTU-TV Salt Lake City (8/19) also cover this story.

California OCR Complaint Alleges PE Racial Disparities.

Bryan Toporek writes at the Education Week (8/20) “Schooled in Sports” blog that a coalition of health and civil rights groups in California have filed a complaint with ED’s Office for Civil Rights alleging that the state is violating “Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 by not providing equal access to physical education opportunities to minority students.” The groups site research showing that the state is failing to live up to its own laws mandating certain amounts of time of physical education in schools with high concentrations of minority students.

Louisiana Panel Begins Common Core Review.

The AP (8/20, Deslatte) reports that a standards review committee in Louisiana has begun the process of reviewing the state educational standards "amid an ongoing political storm over Common Core." The piece notes that the panel has a February deadline to report its findings to the state BOE, but reports that some "feared the deadline is too short and the panel would end up rebranding the controversial standards."

The New Orleans Times-Picayune (8/20) reports that the committee was formed as part of a legislative compromise over the standards, noting that members indicated this week that the panel "will likely tweak, and not throw out, the Common Core standards." The Shreveport (LA) Times (8/19) also covers this story.

Retired General: Common Core Helps Military Families.

In commentary for the Military Times (8/19), retired Army Maj. Gen. Spider Marks writes that as military families are transferred from post to post, and their children are forced to enroll in several different schools over the course of their K-12 academic career, it is difficult to assess how prepared they will be for the academic standards in new schools. He writes that the implementation of the Common Core Standards "resolved that for so many military families, offering them assurances for the first time that their children will be on par academically with new classmates, eliminating one of the most stressful aspects of military moves."

LATimes: State Should Reject Exit Exam Hiatus.

The Los Angeles Times (8/20) editorializes that California's legislature should reject SB 172, which calls for a three year hiatus for high school exit exams, while a panel study is completed on the test to make sure it is in line with the new curriculum based on Common Core. The bill is strongly endorsed by the state's school chief. Instead, the Times supports the decision to amend another education bill, which will allow 5,000 students currently in limbo to be awarded diplomas without an exit exam, while also allowing time for a more thorough and effective review of an updated exam.

Los Angeles Unified Starts Off Year With Positive Changes.

The Los Angeles Times (8/20, Blume, Kohli) reports on Los Angeles Unified, a massive school system in the heart of Los Angeles, which will embark on a new school year with increased funding. This funding has so far restored programs and staff that were lost during the recession and increased salaries for staff.

Profile of Idaho Superintendent, Sherri Ybarra.

The Idaho Statesman (8/18, Roberts) reports that Idaho Superintendent of Public Instruction Sherri Ybarra is being praised by educators and lawmakers, for her strategy on public education in the state. Most notably, educators have appreciated her efforts to give local school districts greater agency and more space to voice their requests. The Statesman notes that Ybarra is currently working on 15 bills to present in January, along with a budget due in September. The bills include requirements for superintendents of public instruction to hold specific credentials, and a temporary tax credit for teachers.

Vermont Board Of Education Approves District Merger.

The AP (8/19) reports that the Vermont Board of Education on Tuesday signed off on a proposal to merge three school districts, Essex, Essex Junction, and Westford. The merger will move to a public vote in November. If the merger is approved, residents of the new district will receive tax breaks.

Panel Designed To Provide Insight And Support For New Principals.

Education Week (8/18, Superville) reports on the National Panel of New Principals, a group of 1,100 first and second year principals from across the country. The group serves as a support community for new principals, as well as a resource for data, collected through surveys of the panel members, that will inform advocacy and development programs for early-career principals. The first surveys of the group from last fall revealed high stress levels amongst new principals and a lack of understanding of pre-kindergarten programs.

Technology

ED Seeking System To Evaluate K-12 Education Technology.

Michele Molnar writes at the Education Week (8/20) "Marketplace K-12" blog that ED is seeking bids for "a prototype system to quickly evaluate ed-tech in K-12 schools, in hopes of making it easier for educators to figure out what works in products they purchase with federal funding." The piece quotes Office of Educational Technology senior adviser Katrina Stevens saying, "What does 'what works' mean? And who gets to decide what works?" ED will select a "research and implementation team" to "tackle these and other central questions in its design of 'rapid-cycle' evaluations—one- to three-month tests of ed-tech software."

Transportation

New York Education Department Sued For Excessive Heat On Special Education Buses.

The New York Daily News (8/18, Chapman) reports that public advocate Letitia James filed a lawsuit on Wednesday against the city's Education Department for excessive heat on school buses transporting disabled students.

Clemson Researchers Developing App For Early Detection Of Cyberbullying.

The Greenville (SC) News (8/19) reports that researchers at Clemson University "are developing an app that could alert parents and school administrators to signs of cyberbullying as it starts," noting that the research is being funded by a $240,000 grant from the National Science Foundation. Researchers will scour online communications for "key words and patterns that indicate cyberbullying." When the app detects potential bullying, it will send an alert to "the victim's parent, a school administrator and the identified bully."

The Anderson (SC) Independent-Mail (8/19) reports that the initiative comes amid an increase in online bullying in recent years, explaining that the researchers will "scour the Internet for bullying language and images used by school-aged children around the world and study common behavioral patterns of bullies and their victims." When completed, the app will be called VC Defender. WSPA-TV Greenville, SC (8/19) and WHNS-TV Greenville, SC (8/20) also cover this story.

Board member Michael Clara filed a complaint with OCR in June alleging that "students of color are targeted for disciplinary action and the school-based police offices are disproportionately assigned to areas with high racial diversity." The piece reports that a spokesman for the district "said district administrators are working to ensure equity and welcome federal investigators' objective review of their programs."

The Deseret (UT) News <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6613698-42f2&l=01a-671&t=c> (8/20) reports that OCR "will investigate the district in response to a complaint of disproportionate discipline for black, Latino, Polynesian and Native American students," noting that the investigation was announced by the American Civil Liberties Union. The article relates statistics showing disparities in school discipline for students of various races, and notes that civil rights advocates say that this impacts academic outcomes. The piece notes that OCR officials "say the investigation will be 'prompt.'" ED Seeking System To Evaluate K-12 Education Technology.

Michele Molnar writes at the Education Week <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6613698-42f2&l=01d-f9a&t=c> (8/20) "Marketplace K-12" blog that ED is seeking bids for "a prototype system to quickly evaluate ed-tech in K-12 schools, in hopes of making it easier for educators to figure out what works in products they purchase with federal funding." The piece quotes Office of Educational Technology senior adviser Katrina Stevens saying, "What does 'what works' mean? And who gets to decide what works?" ED will select a "research and implementation team" to "tackle these and other central questions in its design of 'rapid-cycle' evaluations—one- to three-month tests of ed-tech software."

Louisiana Panel Begins Common Core Review.

The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6613698-42f2&l=01e-1ea&t=c> (8/20, Deslatte) reports that a standards review committee in Louisiana has begun the process of reviewing the state educational standards "amid an ongoing political storm over Common Core." The piece notes that the panel has a February deadline to report its findings to the state BOE, but reports that some "feared the deadline is too short and the panel would end up rebranding the controversial standards."

The New Orleans Times-Picayune <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6613698-42f2&l=01f-116&t=c> (8/20) reports that the committee was formed as part of a legislative compromise over the standards, noting that members indicated this week that the panel "will likely tweak, and not throw out, the Common Core standards." The Shreveport (LA) Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6613698-42f2&l=020-b9c&t=c>

Retired General: Common Core Helps Military Families.

In commentary for the Military Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6613698-42f2&l=021-4d7&t=c> (8/19), retired Army Maj. Gen. Spider Marks writes that as military families are transferred from post to post, and their children are forced to enroll in several different schools over the course of their K-12 academic career, it is difficult to assess how prepared they will be for the academic standards in new schools. He writes that the implementation of the Common Core Standards "resolved that for so many military families, offering them assurances for the first time that their children will be on par academically with new classmates, eliminating one of the most stressful aspects of military moves."

Oklahoma Launches Program That Covers ACT Prep Test Costs.

The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6613698-42f2&l=022-5c4&t=c> (8/19, Murphy) reports that Oklahoma's School Superintendent on Wednesday announced a $1.5 million pilot program which will allow every high school junior in the state to take the ACT prep test for free. The superintendent hopes the program will boost enrollment for the test, which currently only half of juniors take each year. The AP notes that critics of the program have questions whether the program was a good use of funds, given the state's shrinking budget.

ED To Overhaul Student Debt Forgiveness Process.

The Washington Post <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6613698-42f2&l=023-182&t=c> (8/20, Douglas-Gabriel) reports that ED announced Wednesday that in the wake of the implosion of Corinthian Colleges Inc., it plans to "overhaul the loan forgiveness process for students who believe they have been defrauded by their colleges." The article explains the "defense to repayment claim" process for such students, noting that "critics say the process...is complicated and difficult to navigate." Next month, ED will start "streamlining" the process and strengthening "provisions to hold colleges accountable for the discharged loans, limiting the cost to taxpayers." The Post quotes Education Secretary Arne Duncan saying, "The process we are beginning today aims to create a clearer, more comprehensive system. And we think it is critical that this solution also does right by American taxpayers. That's what they deserve." Under Secretary Ted Mitchell "said when there are institutions like Corinthian without substantial assets, the department will try to use enforcement actions to help students before the company collapses."

Noting that a final rule won't be out before November 2016, the Los Angeles Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6613698-42f2&l=024-463&t=c> (8/20, Kirkham) reports that Mitchell "said the rules will complement an initiative already underway that allows potentially hundreds of thousands of former Corinthian students to apply for federal student-loan forgiveness." Mitchell is quoted saying, "We want institutions to know, in no uncertain terms, that they are responsible for the malfeasance that they create." The Times notes that ED has faced pressure to help former Corinthian students in the wake of the firm's collapse.

Bloomberg News <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6613698-42f2&l=025-7f2&t=c> (8/19, Lorin) reports that ED said Wednesday that the Corinthian shutdown "demonstrated the need to help students seek debt relief in a more 'straightforward, comprehensive process,' while limiting damage to taxpayers." The article notes that Corinthian "closed in April and filed for bankruptcy in May amid allegations it falsified job placement data in its marketing and altered grades and attendance figures."

The Chronicle of Higher Education <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6613698-42f2&l=026-797&t=c> (8/20), BuzzFeed <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6613698-42f2&l=027-daf&t=c> (8/19), and iSchoolGuide <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6613698-42f2&l=028-243&t=c> (8/19) also cover this story.

The senders, led by Massachusetts Attorney General Maura Healy "recommend that the department allow states to participate in the loan discharge cases and submit evidence of fraud they've gathered against a college."

Tennessee Stops Requiring Remedial Courses For Less-Prepared Students.

PBS NewsHour <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6613698-42f2&l=02a-60b&t=c> (8/20, Mason) reports that Tennessee's community colleges will now no longer require students with low ACT scores to enroll in remedial full-semester courses. Instead, students with low scores will be placed in regular introductory courses with required enrollment in a "learning support" class. The vice president of academic affairs at the Tennessee Board of Regents said that remedial courses were discouraging for new college students. NewsHour also noted that remedial courses required students to spend a full-semester on a course and pay full tuition without actually being enrolled in a college course.

Clemson Researchers Developing App For Early Detection Of Cyberbullying.

The Greenville (SC) News <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=003-ed3&t=c> (8/19) reports that researchers at Clemson University "are developing an app that could alert parents and school administrators to signs of cyberbullying as it starts," noting that the research is being funded by a $240,000 grant from the National Science Foundation. Researchers will scour online communications for "key words and patterns that indicate cyberbullying." When the app detects potential bullying, it will send an alert to "the victim's parent, a school administrator and the identified bully."

The Anderson (SC) Independent-Mail <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=004-31c&t=c> (8/19) reports that the initiative comes amid an increase in online bullying in recent years, explaining that the researchers will "scour the Internet for bullying language and images used by school-aged children around the world and study common behavioral patterns of bullies and their victims." When completed, the app will be called VC Defender. Parents, Residents Criticize CPS Budget At Public Hearing.

The Chicago Tribune <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=007-111&t=c> (8/19, Perez) reports that parents and residents criticized the $200 million budget cut proposed by Chicago Public Schools during a public hearing on Tuesday. The Chicago Board of Education is expected to vote on the new budget next Wednesday. The Tribune notes that the budget cuts included reduced spending on special education programs. However, according to district officials, the cut stems from a review that revealed an excess in spending on special education, particularly in terms of staffing.

Proponents of Marijuana Legalization Estimate $40 Million For Arizona Schools.

The Arizona Republic <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=008-0ed&t=c> (8/20, Sanchez) reports that according to the Campaign to Regulate Marijuana Like Alcohol, legalizing marijuana could raise $40 million for Arizona's schools, with half funding K-12 and the other half funding all-day kindergarten programs. The state's Chamber of Commerce, business leaders, and governor have opposed legislation to legalize marijuana. The Republic notes that there has been no independent analysis in the state of tax revenues from legalization.

LATimes: State Should Reject Exit Exam Hiatus.

The Los Angeles Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=009-86f&t=c> (8/20) editorializes that California's legislature should reject SB 172, which calls for a three year hiatus for high school exit exams, while a panel study is completed on the test to make sure it is in line with the new curriculum based on Common Core. The bill is strongly endorsed by the state's school chief. Instead, the Times supports the decision to amend another education bill, which will allow 5,000 students currently in limbo to be awarded diplomas without an exit exam, while also allowing time for a more thorough and effective review of an updated exam.

Panel Designed To Provide Insight, Support For New Principals.

Education Week <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=00a-c18&t=c> (8/18, Superville) reports on the National Panel of New Principals, a group of 1,100 first and second year principals from across the country. The group serves as a support community for new principals, as well as a resource for data, collected through surveys of the panel members, that will inform advocacy and development programs for early-career principals. The first surveys of the group from last fall revealed high stress levels amongst new principals and a lack of understanding of pre-kindergarten programs.

USA Today: Parents Should Not Be Allowed To Opt-Out Of Standardized Tests.

USA Today <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=00b-2d3&t=c> (8/19) editorializes in support of standardized tests, explaining that they offer the "most objective measures" of overall performance of students and the school. Furthermore, USA Today criticizes the opt-out provision, stating it sends the wrong message to children, namely that they can escape hardships in life and "defy rules designed for the good of the community."

In response to the editorial, Jeanette Deutermann and Lisa Rudley, public school parents and founders of New York State Allies for Public Education, write in USA Today <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=00c-a90&t=c> (8/19) that school curriculum designed around standardized tests does not benefit learning. Additionally, Deutermann and Rudley argue that by standing up against standardized tests they teach their children to speak up for themselves and organize for a shared cause.

Decline In Teacher Training Program Enrollments Across US.

NPR <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=00d-ea1&t=c> (8/19) reports in the "NprEd" blog that several states across the US have seen sharp drops in enrollment for teacher training programs, including California, New York, and Texas. According to Bill McDiarmid, the dean of the University of North Carolina School of Education, this is due to the resurgence of the US economy and increasing perceptions that teaching is not a stable career and is heavily susceptible to the political environment. Meanwhile, the head of a consortium of reform-minded deans of colleges of education, Benjamin Riley explains that there is no "empirically defensible" reason for the decline. Riley suggests that there may not be a shortage, but rather a mismatch of the type of teachers in demand.

New York City Approves Half-Day Pre-K Slots.

The Wall Street Journal <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=00e-5b1&t=c> (8/20, Hollander, Subscription Publication) reports that New York City announced this week that it will offer 4,500 slots for half-day pre-kindergarten. The slots were created to address concerns from parents that their children were not prepared for a full-day program, highlighting the fact that full-day pre-kindergarten programs are not suitable for all families. Schools were informed about the approved programs this week, just three weeks before the school year begins, leading to many schools and parents to rapidly make the appropriate plans.

Republican Candidates Take Part In New Hampshire Education Policy Forum.

An education summit in New Hampshire for Republican presidential candidates generated significant coverage focused on the rivals' competing education policy ideas. The New York Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=014-c0e&t=c> (8/20, Rich, Subscription Publication) reports that six Republican presidential candidates took part in "an unusual panel discussion on education in Londonderry, New Hampshire." The contenders "performed a balancing act as they tried to embrace high standards for schoolchildren while shying away from the Common Core." Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker in New Jersey Gov. Chris Christie "spent a lot of their time criticizing teachers' unions." Meanwhile, Christie, Louisiana Gov. Bobby Jindal, and former Hewlett-Packard CEO Carly Fiorina "reiterated their opposition to the Common Core," while former Florida Gov. Jeb Bush and Ohio Gov. John Kasich defended the standards.

Retired General: Common Core Helps Military Families.

In commentary for the Military Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=021-4d7&t=c> (8/19), retired Army Maj. Gen. Spider Marks writes that as military families are transferred from post to post, and their children are forced to enroll in several different schools over the course of their K-12 academic career, it is difficult to assess how prepared they will be for the academic standards in new schools. He writes that the implementation of the Common Core Standards "resolved that for so many military families, offering them assurances for the first time that their children will be on par academically with new classmates, eliminating one of the most stressful aspects of military moves."

Oklahoma Launches Program That Covers ACT Prep Test Costs.

The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=022-5c4&t=c> (8/19, Murphy) reports that Oklahoma's School Superintendent on Wednesday announced a $1.5 million pilot program which will allow every high school junior in the state to take the ACT prep test for free. The superintendent hopes the program will boost enrollment for the test, which currently only half of juniors take each year. The AP notes that critics of the program have questions whether the program was a good use of funds, given the state's shrinking budget.

ED To Overhaul Student Debt Forgiveness Process.

The Washington Post <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=023-182&t=c> (8/20, Douglas-Gabriel) reports that ED announced Wednesday that in the wake of the implosion of Corinthian Colleges Inc., it plans to "overhaul the loan forgiveness process for students who believe they have been defrauded by their colleges." The article explains the "defense to repayment claim" process for such students, noting that "critics say the process...is complicated and difficult to navigate." Next month, ED will start "streamlining" the process and strengthening "provisions to hold colleges accountable for the discharged loans, limiting the cost to taxpayers." The Post quotes Education Secretary Arne Duncan saying, "The process we are beginning today aims to create a clearer, more comprehensive system. And we think it is critical that this solution also does right by American taxpayers. That's what they deserve." Under Secretary Ted Mitchell "said when there are institutions like Corinthian without substantial assets, the department will try to use enforcement actions to help students before the company collapses."

Noting that a final rule won't be out before November 2016, the Los Angeles Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=024-463&t=c> (8/20, Kirkham) reports that Mitchell "said the rules will complement an initiative already underway that allows potentially hundreds of thousands of former Corinthian students to apply for federal student-loan forgiveness." Mitchell is quoted saying, "We want institutions to know, in no uncertain terms, that they are responsible for the malfeasance that they create." The Times notes that ED has faced pressure to help former Corinthian students in the wake of the firm's collapse.

Bloomberg News <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=025-7f2&t=c> (8/19, Lorin) reports that ED said Wednesday that the Corinthian shutdown "demonstrated the need to help students seek debt relief in a more 'straightforward, comprehensive process,' while limiting damage to taxpayers." The article notes that Corinthian "closed in April and filed for bankruptcy in May amid allegations it falsified job placement data in its marketing and altered grades and attendance figures."

The Chronicle of Higher Education <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=026-797&t=c> (8/20), BuzzFeed <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=027-daf&t=c> (8/19), and iSchoolGuide <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=028-243&t=c> (8/19) also cover this story.

Inside Higher Ed <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=029-c14&t=c> (8/19) reports that eleven state attorneys general have called on ED "to seek their input" for the overhaul in a letter to Education Secretary Arne Duncan. The senders, led by Massachusetts Attorney General Maura Healy "recommend that the department allow states to participate in the loan discharge cases and submit evidence of fraud they've gathered against a college."

Tennessee Stops Requiring Remedial Courses For Less-Prepared Students.

PBS NewsHour <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6609736-0999&l=02a-60b&t=c> (8/20, Mason) reports that Tennessee's community colleges will now no longer require students with low ACT scores to enroll in remedial full-semester courses. Instead, students with low scores will be placed in regular introductory courses with required enrollment in a "learning support" class. The vice president of academic affairs at the Tennessee Board of Regents said that remedial courses were discouraging for new college students. NewsHour also noted that remedial courses required students to spend a full-semester on a course and pay full tuition without actually being enrolled in a college course.

Clemson Researchers Developing App For Early Detection Of Cyberbullying.

The Greenville (SC) News <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=003-ed3&t=c> (8/19) reports that researchers at Clemson University "are developing an app that could alert parents and school administrators to signs of cyberbullying as it starts," noting that the research is being funded by a $240,000 grant from the National Science Foundation. Researchers will scour online communications for "key words and patterns that indicate cyberbullying." When the app detects potential bullying, it will send an alert to "the victim's parent, a school administrator and the identified bully."

The Anderson (SC) Independent-Mail <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=004-31c&t=c> (8/19) reports that the initiative comes amid an increase in online bullying in recent years, explaining that the researchers will "scour the Internet for bullying language and images used by school-aged children around the world and study common behavioral patterns of bullies and their victims." When completed, the app will be called VC Defender. WSPA-TV <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=005-6c8&t=c> Greenville, SC (8/19) and WHNS-TV <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=006-419&t=c> Greenville, SC (8/20) also cover this story.

Parents, Residents Criticize CPS Budget At Public Hearing.

The Chicago Tribune <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=007-111&t=c> (8/19, Perez) reports that parents and residents criticized the $200 million budget cut proposed by Chicago Public Schools during a public hearing on Tuesday. The Chicago Board of Education is expected to vote on the new budget next Wednesday. The Tribune notes that the budget cuts included reduced spending on special education programs. However, according to district officials, the cut stems from a review that revealed an excess in spending on special education, particularly in terms of staffing.

Proponents of Marijuana Legalization Estimate $40 Million For Arizona Schools.

The Arizona Republic <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=008-0ed&t=c> (8/20, Sanchez) reports that according to the Campaign to Regulate Marijuana Like Alcohol, legalizing marijuana could raise $40 million for Arizona's schools, with half funding K-12 and the other half funding all-day kindergarten programs. The state's Chamber of Commerce, business leaders, and governor have opposed legislation to legalize marijuana. The Republic notes that there has been no independent analysis in the state of tax revenues from legalization.

LATimes: State Should Reject Exit Exam Hiatus.

The Los Angeles Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=009-86f&t=c> (8/20) editorializes that California's legislature should reject SB 172, which calls for a three year hiatus for high school exit exams, while a panel study is completed on the test to make sure it is in line with the new curriculum based on Common Core. The bill is strongly endorsed by the state's school chief. Instead, the Times supports the decision to amend another education bill, which will allow 5,000 students currently in limbo to be awarded diplomas without an exit exam, while also allowing time for a more thorough and effective review of an updated exam.

Panel Designed To Provide Insight, Support For New Principals.

Education Week <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=00a-c18&t=c> (8/18, Superville) reports on the National Panel of New Principals, a group of 1,100 first and second year principals from across the country. The group serves as a support community for new principals, as well as a resource for data, collected through surveys of the panel members, that will inform advocacy and development programs for early-career principals. The first surveys of the group from last fall revealed high stress levels amongst new principals and a lack of understanding of pre-kindergarten programs.

USA Today: Parents Should Not Be Allowed To Opt-Out Of Standardized Tests.

USA Today <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=00b-2d3&t=c> (8/19) editorializes in support of standardized tests, explaining that they offer the "most objective measures" of overall performance of students and the school. Furthermore, USA Today criticizes the opt-out provision, stating it sends the wrong message to children, namely that they can escape hardships in life and "defy rules designed for the good of the community."

In response to the editorial, Jeanette Deutermann and Lisa Rudley, public school parents and founders of New York State Allies for Public Education, write in USA Today <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=00c-a90&t=c> (8/19) that school curriculum designed around standardized tests does not benefit learning. Additionally, Deutermann and Rudley argue that by standing up against standardized tests they teach their children to speak up for themselves and organize for a shared cause.

Decline In Teacher Training Program Enrollments Across US.

NPR <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=00d-ea1&t=c> (8/19) reports in the "NprEd" blog that several states across the US have seen sharp drops in enrollment for teacher training programs, including California, New York, and Texas. According to Bill McDiarmid, the dean of the University of North Carolina School of Education, this is due to the resurgence of the US economy and increasing perceptions that teaching is not a stable career and is heavily susceptible to the political environment. Meanwhile, the head of a consortium of reform-minded deans of colleges of education, Benjamin Riley explains that there is no "empirically defensible" reason for the decline. Riley suggests that there may not be a shortage, but rather a mismatch of the type of teachers in demand.

New York City Approves Half-Day Pre-K Slots.

The Wall Street Journal <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=00e-5b1&t=c> (8/20, Hollander, Subscription Publication) reports that New York City announced this week that it will offer 4,500 slots for half-day pre-kindergarten. The slots were created to address concerns from parents that their children were not prepared for a full-day program, highlighting the fact that full-day pre-kindergarten programs are not suitable for all families. Schools were informed about the approved programs this week, just three weeks before the school year begins, leading to many schools and parents to rapidly make the appropriate plans.

Education Policy

Republican Candidates Take Part In New Hampshire Education Policy Forum.

An education summit in New Hampshire for Republican presidential candidates generated significant coverage focused on the rivals' competing education policy ideas. The New York Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=014-c0e&t=c> (8/20, Rich, Subscription Publication) reports that six Republican presidential candidates took part in "an unusual panel discussion on education in Londonderry, New Hampshire." The contenders "performed a balancing act as they tried to embrace high standards for schoolchildren while shying away from the Common Core." Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker in New Jersey Gov. Chris Christie "spent a lot of their time criticizing teachers' unions." Meanwhile, Christie, Louisiana Gov. Bobby Jindal, and former Hewlett-Packard CEO Carly Fiorina "reiterated their opposition to the Common Core," while former Florida Gov. Jeb Bush and Ohio Gov. John Kasich defended the standards.

The Washington Post <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=015-527&t=c> (8/20, Balingit) reports that the forum was organized by the Seventy Four, which is an education news and policy website founded by former CNN journalist Campbell Brown. The Post reports that Brown planned "to use the 'education summit' to grill candidates" on "their knowledge of education policy."

The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=016-05d&t=c> (8/20) ran a brief item previewing the event.

The Boston Globe <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=017-cfc&t=c> (8/20, Pindell) reports that the event was also sponsored by the pro-charter American Federation for Children. Brown interviewed the candidates "on how they would improve education as president, their opinion of the Common Core educational standards, and who advised them on education policy." Politico <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=018-e32&t=c> (8/19, Emma) reports that education policy has been largely ignored in recent presidential election campaigns, and that the event will push the issue to the fore.

OCR Investigating Racial Discrimination Claims In Salt Lake City.

The Salt Lake (UT) Tribune <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=019-6da&t=c> (8/20) reports that ED's Office for Civil Rights has confirmed that it is investigating claims of racial discrimination in the public schools in Salt Lake City, Utah. Board member Michael Clara filed a complaint with OCR in June alleging that "students of color are targeted for disciplinary action and the school-based police offices are disproportionately assigned to areas with high racial diversity." The piece reports that a spokesman for the district "said district administrators are working to ensure equity and welcome federal investigators' objective review of their programs."

The Deseret (UT) News <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=01a-671&t=c> (8/20) reports that OCR "will investigate the district in response to a complaint of disproportionate discipline for black, Latino, Polynesian and Native American students," noting that the investigation was announced by the American Civil Liberties Union. The article relates statistics showing disparities in school discipline for students of various races, and notes that civil rights advocates say that this impacts academic outcomes. The piece notes that OCR officials "say the investigation will be 'prompt.'" The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=01b-317&t=c> (8/20) and KSTU-TV <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=01c-2b5&t=c> Salt Lake City (8/19) also cover this story.

ED Seeking System To Evaluate K-12 Education Technology.

Michele Molnar writes at the Education Week <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=01d-f9a&t=c> (8/20) "Marketplace K-12" blog that ED is seeking bids for "a prototype system to quickly evaluate ed-tech in K-12 schools, in hopes of making it easier for educators to figure out what works in products they purchase with federal funding." The piece quotes Office of Educational Technology senior adviser Katrina Stevens saying, "What does 'what works' mean? And who gets to decide what works?" ED will select a "research and implementation team" to "tackle these and other central questions in its design of 'rapid-cycle' evaluations—one- to three-month tests of ed-tech software."

Louisiana Panel Begins Common Core Review.

The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=01e-1ea&t=c> (8/20, Deslatte) reports that a standards review committee in Louisiana has begun the process of reviewing the state educational standards "amid an ongoing political storm over Common Core." The piece notes that the panel has a February deadline to report its findings to the state BOE, but reports that some "feared the deadline is too short and the panel would end up rebranding the controversial standards."

The New Orleans Times-Picayune <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=01f-116&t=c> (8/20) reports that the committee was formed as part of a legislative compromise over the standards, noting that members indicated this week that the panel "will likely tweak, and not throw out, the Common Core standards." The Shreveport (LA) Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=020-b9c&t=c>

Spider Marks writes that as military families are transferred from post to post, and their children are forced to enroll in several different schools over the course of their K-12 academic career, it is difficult to assess how prepared they will be for the academic standards in new schools. He writes that the implementation of the Common Core Standards "resolved that for so many military families, offering them assurances for the first time that their children will be on par academically with new classmates, eliminating one of the most stressful aspects of military moves."

Oklahoma Launches Program That Covers ACT Prep Test Costs.

The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=022-5c4&t=c> (8/19, Murphy) reports that Oklahoma's School Superintendent on Wednesday announced a $1.5 million pilot program which will allow every high school junior in the state to take the ACT prep test for free. The superintendent hopes the program will boost enrollment for the test, which currently only half of juniors take each year. The AP notes that critics of the program have questions whether the program was a good use of funds, given the state's shrinking budget.

ED To Overhaul Student Debt Forgiveness Process.

The Washington Post <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=023-182&t=c> (8/20, Douglas-Gabriel) reports that ED announced Wednesday that in the wake of the implosion of Corinthian Colleges Inc., it plans to "overhaul the loan forgiveness process for students who believe they have been defrauded by their colleges." The article explains the "defense to repayment claim" process for such students, noting that "critics say the process...is complicated and difficult to navigate." Next month, ED will start "streamlining" the process and strengthening "provisions to hold colleges accountable for the discharged loans, limiting the cost to taxpayers." Mitchell is quoted saying, "We want institutions to know, in no uncertain terms, that they are responsible for the malfeasance that they create." The Times notes that ED has faced pressure to help former Corinthian students in the wake of the firm's collapse.

Bloomberg News <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=025-7f2&t=c> (8/19, Lorin) reports that ED said Wednesday that the Corinthian shutdown "demonstrated the need to help students seek debt relief in a more 'straightforward, comprehensive process,' while limiting damage to taxpayers." The article notes that Corinthian "closed in April and filed for bankruptcy in May amid allegations it falsified job placement data in its marketing and altered grades and attendance figures."

Inside Higher Ed <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=029-c14&t=c> (8/19) reports that eleven state attorneys general have called on ED "to seek their input" for the overhaul in a letter to Education Secretary Arne Duncan. The senders, led by Massachusetts Attorney General Maura Healy "recommend that the department allow states to participate in the loan discharge cases and submit evidence of fraud they've gathered against a college."

Tennessee Stops Requiring Remedial Courses For Less-Prepared Students.

PBS NewsHour <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6615315-8ec1&l=02a-60b&t=c> (8/20, Mason) reports that Tennessee's community colleges will now no longer require students with low ACT scores to enroll in remedial full-semester courses. Instead, students with low scores will be placed in regular introductory courses with required enrollment in a "learning support" class. The vice president of academic affairs at the Tennessee Board of Regents said that remedial courses were discouraging for new college students. NewsHour also noted that remedial courses required students to spend a full-semester on a course and pay full tuition without actually being enrolled in a college course.

Clemson Researchers Developing App For Early Detection Of Cyberbullying.

The Greenville (SC) News <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=003-ed3&t=c> (8/19) reports that researchers at Clemson University "are developing an app that could alert parents and school administrators to signs of cyberbullying as it starts," noting that the research is being funded by a $240,000 grant from the National Science Foundation. Researchers will scour online communications for "key words and patterns that indicate cyberbullying." When the app detects potential bullying, it will send an alert to "the victim's parent, a school administrator and the identified bully."

The Anderson (SC) Independent-Mail <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=004-31c&t=c> (8/19) reports that the initiative comes amid an increase in online bullying in recent years, explaining that the researchers will "scour the Internet for bullying language and images used by school-aged children around the world and study common behavioral patterns of bullies and their victims." When completed, the app will be called VC Defender. WSPA-TV <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=005-6c8&t=c> Greenville, SC (8/19) and WHNS-TV <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=006-419&t=c> Greenville, SC (8/20) also cover this story.

Parents, Residents Criticize CPS Budget At Public Hearing.

The Chicago Tribune <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=007-111&t=c> (8/19, Perez) reports that parents and residents criticized the $200 million budget cut proposed by Chicago Public Schools during a public hearing on Tuesday. The Chicago Board of Education is expected to vote on the new budget next Wednesday. The Tribune notes that the budget cuts included reduced spending on special education programs. However, according to district officials, the cut stems from a review that revealed an excess in spending on special education, particularly in terms of staffing.

Proponents of Marijuana Legalization Estimate $40 Million For Arizona Schools.

The Arizona Republic <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=008-0ed&t=c> (8/20, Sanchez) reports that according to the Campaign to Regulate Marijuana Like Alcohol, legalizing marijuana could raise $40 million for Arizona's schools, with half funding K-12 and the other half funding all-day kindergarten programs. The state's Chamber of Commerce, business leaders, and governor have opposed legislation to legalize marijuana. The Republic notes that there has been no independent analysis in the state of tax revenues from legalization.

LATimes: State Should Reject Exit Exam Hiatus.

The Los Angeles Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=009-86f&t=c> (8/20) editorializes that California's legislature should reject SB 172, which calls for a three year hiatus for high school exit exams, while a panel study is completed on the test to make sure it is in line with the new curriculum based on Common Core. The bill is strongly endorsed by the state's school chief. Instead, the Times supports the decision to amend another education bill, which will allow 5,000 students currently in limbo to be awarded diplomas without an exit exam, while also allowing time for a more thorough and effective review of an updated exam.

Panel Designed To Provide Insight, Support For New Principals.

Education Week <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=00a-c18&t=c> (8/18, Superville) reports on the National Panel of New Principals, a group of 1,100 first and second year principals from across the country. The group serves as a support community for new principals, as well as a resource for data, collected through surveys of the panel members, that will inform advocacy and development programs for early-career principals. The first surveys of the group from last fall revealed high stress levels amongst new principals and a lack of understanding of pre-kindergarten programs.

USA Today: Parents Should Not Be Allowed To Opt-Out Of Standardized Tests.

USA Today <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=00b-2d3&t=c> (8/19) editorializes in support of standardized tests, explaining that they offer the "most objective measures" of overall performance of students and the school. Furthermore, USA Today criticizes the opt-out provision, stating it sends the wrong message to children, namely that they can escape hardships in life and "defy rules designed for the good of the community."

In response to the editorial, Jeanette Deutermann and Lisa Rudley, public school parents and founders of New York State Allies for Public Education, write in USA Today <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=00c-a90&t=c> (8/19) that school curriculum designed around standardized tests does not benefit learning. Additionally, Deutermann and Rudley argue that by standing up against standardized tests they teach their children to speak up for themselves and organize for a shared cause.

Decline In Teacher Training Program Enrollments Across US.

NPR <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=00d-ea1&t=c> (8/19) reports in the "NprEd" blog that several states across the US have seen sharp drops in enrollment for teacher training programs, including California, New York, and Texas. According to Bill McDiarmid, the dean of the University of North Carolina School of Education, this is due to the resurgence of the US economy and increasing perceptions that teaching is not a stable career and is heavily susceptible to the political environment. Meanwhile, the head of a consortium of reform-minded deans of colleges of education, Benjamin Riley explains that there is no "empirically defensible" reason for the decline. Riley suggests that there may not be a shortage, but rather a mismatch of the type of teachers in demand.

New York City Approves Half-Day Pre-K Slots.

The Wall Street Journal <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=00e-5b1&t=c> (8/20, Hollander, Subscription Publication) reports that New York City announced this week that it will offer 4,500 slots for half-day pre-kindergarten. The slots were created to address concerns from parents that their children were not prepared for a full-day program, highlighting the fact that full-day pre-kindergarten programs are not suitable for all families. Schools were informed about the approved programs this week, just three weeks before the school year begins, leading to many schools and parents to rapidly make the appropriate plans.

Education Policy

Republican Candidates Take Part In New Hampshire Education Policy Forum.

An education summit in New Hampshire for Republican presidential candidates generated significant coverage focused on the rivals' competing education policy ideas. The New York Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=014-c0e&t=c> (8/20, Rich, Subscription Publication) reports that six Republican presidential candidates took part in "an unusual panel discussion on education in Londonderry, New Hampshire." The contenders "performed a balancing act as they tried to embrace high standards for schoolchildren while shying away from the Common Core." Wisconsin Gov. Scott Walker in New Jersey Gov. Chris Christie "spent a lot of their time criticizing teachers' unions." Meanwhile, Christie, Louisiana Gov. Bobby Jindal, and former Hewlett-Packard CEO Carly Fiorina "reiterated their opposition to the Common Core," while former Florida Gov. Jeb Bush and Ohio Gov. John Kasich defended the standards.

The Washington Post <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=015-527&t=c> (8/20, Balingit) reports that the forum was organized by the Seventy Four, which is an education news and policy website founded by former CNN journalist Campbell Brown. The Post reports that Brown planned "to use the 'education summit' to grill candidates" on "their knowledge of education policy."

The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=016-05d&t=c> (8/20) ran a brief item previewing the event.

The Boston Globe <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=017-cfc&t=c> (8/20, Pindell) reports that the event was also sponsored by the pro-charter American Federation for Children. Brown interviewed the candidates "on how they would improve education as president, their opinion of the Common Core educational standards, and who advised them on education policy." Politico <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=018-e32&t=c> (8/19, Emma) reports that education policy has been largely ignored in recent presidential election campaigns, and that the event will push the issue to the fore.

OCR Investigating Racial Discrimination Claims In Salt Lake City.

The Salt Lake (UT) Tribune <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=019-6da&t=c> (8/20) reports that ED's Office for Civil Rights has confirmed that it is investigating claims of racial discrimination in the public schools in Salt Lake City, Utah. Board member Michael Clara filed a complaint with OCR in June alleging that "students of color are targeted for disciplinary action and the school-based police offices are disproportionately assigned to areas with high racial diversity." The piece reports that a spokesman for the district "said district administrators are working to ensure equity and welcome federal investigators' objective review of their programs."

The Deseret (UT) News <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=01a-671&t=c> (8/20) reports that OCR "will investigate the district in response to a complaint of disproportionate discipline for black, Latino, Polynesian and Native American students," noting that the investigation was announced by the American Civil Liberties Union. The article relates statistics showing disparities in school discipline for students of various races, and notes that civil rights advocates say that this impacts academic outcomes. The piece notes that OCR officials "say the investigation will be 'prompt.'" The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=01b-317&t=c> (8/20) and KSTU-TV <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=01c-2b5&t=c> Salt Lake City (8/19) also cover this story.

ED Seeking System To Evaluate K-12 Education Technology.

Michele Molnar writes at the Education Week <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=01d-f9a&t=c> (8/20) "Marketplace K-12" blog that ED is seeking bids for "a prototype system to quickly evaluate ed-tech in K-12 schools, in hopes of making it easier for educators to figure out what works in products they purchase with federal funding." The piece quotes Office of Educational Technology senior adviser Katrina Stevens saying, "What does 'what works' mean? And who gets to decide what works?" ED will select a "research and implementation team" to "tackle these and other central questions in its design of 'rapid-cycle' evaluations—one- to three-month tests of ed-tech software."

Louisiana Panel Begins Common Core Review.

The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=01e-

1ea&t=c> (8/20, Deslatte) reports that a standards review committee in Louisiana has begun the process of reviewing the state educational standards "amid an ongoing political storm over Common Core." The piece notes that the panel has a February deadline to report its findings to the state BOE, but reports that some "feared the deadline is too short and the panel would end up rebranding the controversial standards."

The New Orleans Times-Picayune <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=01f-116&t=c> (8/20) reports that the committee was formed as part of a legislative compromise over the standards, noting that members indicated this week that the panel "will likely tweak, and not throw out, the Common Core standards." The Shreveport (LA) Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=020-b9c&t=c> (8/19) also covers this story.

Retired General: Common Core Helps Military Families.

In commentary for the Military Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=021-4d7&t=c> (8/19), retired Army Maj. Gen. Spider Marks writes that as military families are transferred from post to post, and their children are forced to enroll in several different schools over the course of their K-12 academic career, it is difficult to assess how prepared they will be for the academic standards in new schools. He writes that the implementation of the Common Core Standards "resolved that for so many military families, offering them assurances for the first time that their children will be on par academically with new classmates, eliminating one of the most stressful aspects of military moves."

Oklahoma Launches Program That Covers ACT Prep Test Costs.

The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=022-5c4&t=c> (8/19, Murphy) reports that Oklahoma's School Superintendent on Wednesday announced a $1.5 million pilot program which will allow every high school junior in the state to take the ACT prep test for free. The superintendent hopes the program will boost enrollment for the test, which currently only half of juniors take each year. The AP notes that critics of the program have questions whether the program was a good use of funds, given the state's shrinking budget.

ED To Overhaul Student Debt Forgiveness Process.

The Washington Post <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=023-182&t=c> (8/20, Douglas-Gabriel) reports that ED announced Wednesday that in the wake of the implosion of Corinthian Colleges Inc., it plans to "overhaul the loan forgiveness process for students who believe they have been defrauded by their colleges." The article explains the "defense to repayment claim" process for such students, noting that "critics say the process...is complicated and difficult to navigate." Next month, ED will start "streamlining" the process and strengthening "provisions to hold colleges accountable for the discharged loans, limiting the cost to taxpayers." The Post quotes Education Secretary Arne Duncan saying, "The process we are beginning today aims to create a clearer, more comprehensive system. And we think it is critical that this solution also does right by American taxpayers. That's what they deserve." Under Secretary Ted Mitchell "said when there are institutions like Corinthian without substantial assets, the department will try to use enforcement actions to help students before the company collapses."

Noting that a final rule won't be out before November 2016, the Los Angeles Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=024-463&t=c> (8/20, Kirkham) reports that Mitchell "said the rules will complement an initiative already underway that allows potentially hundreds of thousands of former Corinthian students to apply for federal student-loan forgiveness." Mitchell is quoted saying, "We want institutions to know, in no uncertain terms, that they are responsible for the malfeasance that they create." The Times notes that ED has faced pressure to help former Corinthian students in the wake of the firm's collapse.

Bloomberg News <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=025-7f2&t=c> (8/19, Lorin) reports that ED said Wednesday that the Corinthian shutdown "demonstrated the need to help students seek debt relief in a more 'straightforward, comprehensive process,' while limiting damage to taxpayers." The article notes that Corinthian "closed in April and filed for bankruptcy in May amid allegations it falsified job placement data in its marketing and altered grades and attendance figures."

The Chronicle of Higher Education <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=026-797&t=c> (8/20), BuzzFeed <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=027-daf&t=c> (8/19), and iSchoolGuide <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=7031721-cb57&l=028-243&t=c> (8/19) also cover this story.

Clemson Researchers Developing App For Early Detection Of Cyberbullying.

The Greenville (SC) News <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=003-ed3&t=c> (8/19) reports that researchers at Clemson University "are developing an app that could alert parents and school administrators to signs of cyberbullying as it starts," noting that the research is being funded by a $240,000 grant from the National Science Foundation. Researchers will scour online communications for "key words and patterns that indicate cyberbullying." When the app detects potential bullying, it will send an alert to "the victim's parent, a school administrator and the identified bully."

The Anderson (SC) Independent-Mail <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=004-31c&t=c> (8/19) reports that the initiative comes amid an increase in online bullying in recent years, explaining that the researchers will "scour the Internet for bullying language and images used by school-aged children around the world and study common behavioral patterns of bullies and their victims." When completed, the app will be called VC Defender. WSPA-TV <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=005-6c8&t=c> Greenville, SC (8/19) and WHNS-TV <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=006-419&t=c> Greenville, SC (8/20) also cover this story.

Parents, Residents Criticize CPS Budget At Public Hearing.

The Chicago Tribune <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=007-111&t=c> (8/19, Perez) reports that parents and residents criticized the $200 million budget cut proposed by Chicago Public Schools during a public hearing on Tuesday. The Chicago Board of Education is expected to vote on the new budget next Wednesday. The Tribune notes that the budget cuts included reduced spending on special education programs. However, according to district officials, the cut stems from a review that revealed an excess in spending on special education, particularly in terms of staffing.

Proponents of Marijuana Legalization Estimate $40 Million For Arizona Schools.

The Arizona Republic <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=008-0ed&t=c> (8/20, Sanchez) reports that according to the Campaign to Regulate Marijuana Like Alcohol, legalizing marijuana could raise $40 million for Arizona's schools, with half funding K-12 and the other half funding all-day kindergarten programs. The state's Chamber of Commerce, business leaders, and governor have opposed legislation to legalize marijuana. The Republic notes that there has been no independent analysis in the state of tax revenues from legalization.

LATimes: State Should Reject Exit Exam Hiatus.

The Los Angeles Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=009-86f&t=c> (8/20) editorializes that California's legislature should reject SB 172, which calls for a three year hiatus for high school exit exams, while a panel study is completed on the test to make sure it is in line with the new curriculum based on Common Core. The bill is strongly endorsed by the state's school chief. Instead, the Times supports the decision to amend another education bill, which will allow 5,000 students currently in limbo to be awarded diplomas without an exit exam, while also allowing time for a more thorough and effective review of an updated exam.

Panel Designed To Provide Insight, Support For New Principals.

Education Week <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=00a-c18&t=c> (8/18, Superville) reports on the National Panel of New Principals, a group of 1,100 first and second year principals from across the country. The group serves as a support community for new principals, as well as a resource for data, collected through surveys of the panel members, that will inform advocacy and development programs for early-career principals. The first surveys of the group from last fall revealed high stress levels amongst new principals and a lack of understanding of pre-kindergarten programs.

USA Today: Parents Should Not Be Allowed To Opt-Out Of Standardized Tests.

USA Today <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=00b-2d3&t=c> (8/19) editorializes in support of standardized tests, explaining that they offer the "most objective measures" of overall performance of students and the school. Furthermore, USA Today criticizes the opt-out provision, stating it sends the wrong message to children, namely that they can escape hardships in life and "defy rules designed for the good of the community."

In response to the editorial, Jeanette Deutermann and Lisa Rudley, public school parents and founders of New York State Allies for Public Education, write in USA Today <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=00c-a90&t=c> (8/19) that school curriculum designed around standardized tests does not benefit learning. Additionally, Deutermann and Rudley argue that by standing up against standardized tests they teach their children to speak up for themselves and organize for a shared cause.

Decline In Teacher Training Program Enrollments Across US.

NPR <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=00d-ea1&t=c> (8/19) reports in the "NprEd" blog that several states across the US have seen sharp drops in enrollment for teacher training programs, including California, New York, and Texas. According to Bill McDiarmid, the dean of the University of North Carolina School of Education, this is due to the resurgence of the US economy and increasing perceptions that teaching is not a stable career and is heavily susceptible to the political environment. Meanwhile, the head of a consortium of reform-minded deans of colleges of education, Benjamin Riley explains that there is no "empirically defensible" reason for the decline. Riley suggests that there may not be a shortage, but rather a mismatch of the type of teachers in demand.

New York City Approves Half-Day Pre-K Slots.

The Wall Street Journal <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=00e-5b1&t=c> (8/20, Hollander, Subscription Publication) reports that New York City announced this week that it will offer 4,500 slots for half-day pre-kindergarten. The slots were created to address concerns from parents that their children were not prepared for a full-day program, highlighting the fact that full-day pre-kindergarten programs are not suitable for all families. Schools were informed about the approved programs this week, just three weeks before the school year begins, leading to many schools and parents to rapidly make the appropriate plans.

Education Policy

Republican Candidates Take Part In New Hampshire Education Policy Forum.

An education summit in New Hampshire for Republican presidential candidates generated significant coverage focused on the rivals' competing education policy ideas. The New York Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=014-c0e&t=c> (8/20, Rich, Subscription Publication) reports that six Republican presidential candidates took part in "an unusual panel discussion on education in Londonderry, New Hampshire." The contenders "performed a balancing act as they tried to embrace high standards for schoolchildren while shying away from the Common Core." Wisconsin Gov.

Scott Walker in New Jersey Gov. Chris Christie "spent a lot of their time criticizing teachers' unions." Meanwhile, Christie, Louisiana Gov. Bobby Jindal, and former Hewlett-Packard CEO Carly Fiorina "reiterated their opposition to the Common Core," while former Florida Gov. Jeb Bush and Ohio Gov. John Kasich defended the standards.

The Washington Post <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=015-527&t=c> (8/20, Balingit) reports that the forum was organized by the Seventy Four, which is an education news and policy website founded by former CNN journalist Campbell Brown. The Post reports that Brown planned "to use the 'education summit' to grill candidates" on "their knowledge of education policy."

The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=016-05d&t=c> (8/20) ran a brief item previewing the event.

The Boston Globe <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=017-cfc&t=c> (8/20, Pindell) reports that the event was also sponsored by the pro-charter American Federation for Children. Brown interviewed the candidates "on how they would improve education as president, their opinion of the Common Core educational standards, and who advised them on education policy." Politico <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=018-e32&t=c> (8/19, Emma) reports that education policy has been largely ignored in recent presidential election campaigns, and that the event will push the issue to the fore.

OCR Investigating Racial Discrimination Claims In Salt Lake City.

The Salt Lake (UT) Tribune <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=019-6da&t=c> (8/20) reports that ED's Office for Civil Rights has confirmed that it is investigating claims of racial discrimination in the public schools in Salt Lake City, Utah. Board member Michael Clara filed a complaint with OCR in June alleging that "students of color are targeted for disciplinary action and the school-based police offices are disproportionately assigned to areas with high racial diversity." The piece reports that a spokesman for the district "said district administrators are working to ensure equity and welcome federal investigators' objective review of their programs."

The Deseret (UT) News <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=01a-671&t=c> (8/20) reports that OCR "will investigate the district in response to a complaint of disproportionate discipline for black, Latino, Polynesian and Native American students," noting that the investigation was announced by the American Civil Liberties Union. The article relates statistics showing disparities in school discipline for students of various races, and notes that civil rights advocates say that this impacts academic outcomes. The piece notes that OCR officials "say the investigation will be 'prompt.'" The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=01b-317&t=c> (8/20) and KSTU-TV <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=01c-2b5&t=c> Salt Lake City (8/19) also cover this story.

ED Seeking System To Evaluate K-12 Education Technology.

Michele Molnar writes at the Education Week <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=01d-f9a&t=c> (8/20) "Marketplace K-12" blog that ED is seeking bids for "a prototype system to quickly evaluate ed-tech in K-12 schools, in hopes of making it easier for educators to figure out what works in products they purchase with federal funding." The piece quotes Office of Educational Technology senior adviser Katrina Stevens saying, "What does 'what works' mean? And who gets to decide what works?" ED will select a "research and implementation team" to "tackle these and other central questions in its design of 'rapid-cycle' evaluations—one- to three-month tests of ed-tech software."

Louisiana Panel Begins Common Core Review.

The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=01e-1ea&t=c> (8/20, Deslatte) reports that a standards review committee in Louisiana has begun the process of reviewing the state educational standards "amid an ongoing political storm over Common Core." The piece notes that the panel has a February deadline to report its findings to the state BOE, but reports that some "feared the deadline is too short and the panel would end up rebranding the controversial standards."

The New Orleans Times-Picayune <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=01f-116&t=c> (8/20) reports that the committee was formed as part of a legislative compromise over the standards, noting that members indicated this week that the panel "will likely tweak, and not throw out, the Common Core standards." The Shreveport (LA) Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=020-b9c&t=c> (8/19) also covers this story.

Retired General: Common Core Helps Military Families.

In commentary for the Military Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=021-4d7&t=c> (8/19), retired Army Maj. Gen. Spider Marks writes that as military families are transferred from post to post, and their children are forced to enroll in several different schools over the course of their K-12 academic career, it is difficult to assess how prepared they will be for the academic standards in new schools. He writes that the implementation of the Common Core Standards "resolved that for so many military families, offering them assurances for the first time that their children will be on par academically with new classmates, eliminating one of the most stressful aspects of military moves."

Oklahoma Launches Program That Covers ACT Prep Test Costs.

The AP <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=022-5c4&t=c> (8/19, Murphy) reports that Oklahoma's School Superintendent on Wednesday announced a $1.5 million pilot program which will allow every high school junior in the state to take the ACT prep test for free. The superintendent hopes the program will boost enrollment for the test, which currently only half of juniors take each year. The AP notes that critics of the program have questions whether the program was a good use of funds, given the state's shrinking budget.

ED To Overhaul Student Debt Forgiveness Process.

The Washington Post <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=023-182&t=c> (8/20, Douglas-Gabriel) reports that ED announced Wednesday that in the wake of the implosion of Corinthian Colleges Inc., it plans to "overhaul the loan forgiveness process for students who believe they have been defrauded by their colleges." The article explains the "defense to repayment claim" process for such students, noting that "critics say the process...is complicated and difficult to navigate." Next month, ED will start "streamlining" the process and strengthening "provisions to hold colleges accountable for the discharged loans, limiting the cost to taxpayers." The Post quotes Education Secretary Arne Duncan saying, "The process we are beginning today aims to create a clearer, more comprehensive system. And we think it is critical that this solution also does right by American taxpayers. That's what they deserve." Under Secretary Ted Mitchell "said when there are institutions like Corinthian without substantial assets, the department will try to use enforcement actions to help students before the company collapses."

Noting that a final rule won't be out before November 2016, the Los Angeles Times <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=024-463&t=c> (8/20, Kirkham) reports that Mitchell "said the rules will complement an initiative already underway that allows potentially hundreds of thousands of former Corinthian students to apply for federal student-loan forgiveness." Mitchell is quoted saying, "We want institutions to know, in no uncertain terms, that they are responsible for the malfeasance that they create." The Times notes that ED has faced pressure to help former Corinthian students in the wake of the firm's collapse.

Bloomberg News <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=025-7f2&t=c> (8/19, Lorin) reports that ED said Wednesday that the Corinthian shutdown "demonstrated the need to help students seek debt relief in a more 'straightforward, comprehensive process,' while limiting damage to taxpayers." The article notes that Corinthian "closed in April and filed for bankruptcy in May amid allegations it falsified job placement data in its marketing and altered grades and attendance figures."

The Chronicle of Higher Education <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=026-797&t=c> (8/20), BuzzFeed <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=027-daf&t=c> (8/19), and iSchoolGuide <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=028-243&t=c> (8/19) also cover this story.

State AGs Want To Weigh In. Inside Higher Ed <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=029-c14&t=c> (8/19) reports that eleven state attorneys general have called on ED "to seek their input" for the overhaul in a letter to Education Secretary Arne Duncan. The senders, led by Massachusetts Attorney General Maura Healy "recommend that the department allow states to participate in the loan discharge cases and submit evidence of fraud they've gathered against a college."

Tennessee Stops Requiring Remedial Courses For Less-Prepared Students.

PBS NewsHour <http://mailview.bulletinmedia.com/mailview.aspx?m=2015082001nassp&r=6623090-b00d&l=02a-60b&t=c> (8/20, Mason) reports that Tennessee's community colleges will now no longer require students with low ACT scores to enroll in remedial full-semester courses. Instead, students with low scores will be placed in regular introductory courses with required enrollment in a "learning support" class. The vice president of academic affairs at the Tennessee Board of Regents said that remedial courses were discouraging for new college students. NewsHour also noted that remedial courses required students to spend a full-semester on a course and pay full tuition without actually being enrolled in a college course.

Goals for 2015-16

[redacted]

Goal 1: Continue to train staff on the functions available to the financial users of Skyward.

Goal 2: Implement Skybuild importing for journal vouchers and cash receipts.

Goal 3: Continue professional development through SBO meetings, NWRDC Skyward user forums, annual WASWUG conference and workshops throughout the year.

Actions on 2014-15 goals

Goal 1: Increase participation of online budget transfers and entry by users of Skyward.

Online budget entry was made available to the buildings and departments this year. A couple of the elementary secretaries were able to use the process to building their MSOC budgets.

Goal 2: Train new staff to use Skyward for budget monitoring and reporting.

Through individual meeting sessions, I was able to demonstrate and train on using the reporting options and queries available in Skyward.

Goal 3: Continue professional development through SBO meetings, NWRDC Skyward user forums, annual WASWUG conference and workshops throughout the year.

I attended workshops presented by NWRDC on the HR and fiscal functions of Skyward to use in my daily duties. The Business Official meetings at PSESD are also another source of information about the current changes in school district accounting and reporting. User forums at NWRDC have been a good way to network with other districts. Workshops presented WASBO and WSPA to continue to be resources to stay informed on the regulations that impact school districts.

Dear Gini,

Please help us promote a new, online HPV vaccine provider education course! Please find details below including sample texts for newsletters and other social media posts as well as promotional materials attached. Thank you for your support in spreading the word about this great resource.

WithinReach, in partnership with Cardea and the Washington State Department of Health is excited to announce a new, continuing education course You Are the Key to HPV Cancer Prevention. This free, hour-long HPV vaccine provider education course is designed for physicians, pharmacists, advanced practice clinicians, nurses, and other staff who work with children, adolescents and their parents in primary care settings.

Provider-Focused Distance Learning Course

Research shows that clinicians underestimate the value parents place on the HPV vaccine and that one of the top 5 reasons cited by parents for not vaccinating is because the vaccine was not recommended. This course helps providers frame the HPV vaccine conversation, encourages providers to make a strong vaccination recommendation and offers responses for the most common concerns and questions held by parents. Earn credit for free and learn tips for recommending the HPV vaccine to children, adolescents and their parents!

Independent Study

Expiration date: April 15, 2017

You Are the Key to HPV Cancer Prevention

Understanding the Burden of HPV Disease, the Importance of the HPV Vaccine Recommendation, and Communicating about HPV Vaccination

About this Independent Study

Low HPV vaccination rates in the U.S. are leaving boys and girls vulnerable to devastating HPV cancers. However, HPV vaccination could prevent most of these cancers. This course provides the most up-to-date information on HPV infection, related disease and cancers, vaccine recommendations, and vaccine safety and impact. Additionally, this course offers evidence-based suggestions for successful HPV vaccine communication with patients and their parents, frequently asked questions that providers hear from parents, and suggested responses to common questions.

Who Should Attend

Physicians, pharmacists, advanced practice clinicians, nurses and other staff who work with children, adolescents and their parents in primary care settings

Learning Objectives

By the end of this course, the learner will be able to:

- Define the importance of HPV vaccination for cancer prevention
- Explain the rationale for vaccinating at ages 11 or 12
- List the indications for HPV vaccine for girls
- List the indications for HPV vaccine for boys
- Share strategies for providing useful and compelling information about HPV vaccine to parents to aid in their decision to vaccinate

Presenter

Yolanda N. Evans, MD, MPH

Dr. Evans is a physician in the Division of Adolescent Medicine at Seattle Children's Hospital and is faculty at the University of Washington. She completed her Adolescent Medicine fellowship through the UW Center for AIDS and STD Research with a focus on sexually transmitted infection prevention.

The slides were adapted from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and Dr. Ed Marcuse.

Continuing Education (CE)

Cardea designates this enduring material for a maximum of 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This credit may also be applied to the CMA Certification in Continuing Medical Education.

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the Institute for Medical Quality/ California Medical Association (IMQ/CMA) through the Joint Sponsorship of WithinReach and Cardea. Cardea is accredited by the IMQ/CMA for issuing AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™ for physicians.

Continuing Nursing Education (CNE)

Cardea Services is an approved provider of continuing nursing education by the Washington State Nurses Association Continuing Education Approval & Recognition Program (CEARP), an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.

Upon successful completion of this CE activity 1 contact hour, including 1 hour of pharmacology credit, will be awarded.

Successful completion of this continuing nursing education activity includes the following:

- Completing the entire CE activity
- Completing the online evaluation
- Submitting an online CE Request

Continuing Pharmacy Education (CPE)

ACPE#: 0130-9999-15-020-H04-P | Activity Type: Knowledge | initial release date: 4/15/2015 | expiration date: 4/15/2017 | 1 hour of CPE

The Washington State Pharmacy Association (WSPA) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education as a provider of continuing pharmacy education.

Pharmacists that would like CPE will need to view the complete activity then go to the link (http://wspa.wcea.education/) which is hosted by WCEA. You will need to create an account once you are on the education portal and will need to supply your NABP e-Profile ID and birthdate (MMDD). You must successfully answer all of the test questions and submit an evaluation. Once completing all of the requirements, you will be able to print your certificate and the CE will be automatically uploaded to the CPE Monitor.

Registration & Fees

This event is free of charge; however, registration is required.

Independent Study

Expiration date: April 15, 2017

You Are the Key to HPV Cancer Prevention

Understanding the Burden of HPV Disease, the Importance of the HPV Vaccine Recommendation, and Communicating about HPV Vaccination

About this Independent Study

Low HPV vaccination rates in the U.S. are leaving boys and girls vulnerable to devastating HPV cancers. However, HPV vaccination could prevent most of these cancers. This course provides the most up-to-date information on HPV infection, related disease and cancers, vaccine recommendations, and vaccine safety and impact. Additionally, this course offers evidence-based suggestions for successful HPV vaccine communication with patients and their parents, frequently asked questions that providers hear from parents, and suggested responses to common questions.

Who Should Attend

Physicians, pharmacists, advanced practice clinicians, nurses and other staff who work with children, adolescents and their parents in primary care settings

Learning Objectives

By the end of this course, the learner will be able to:

- Define the importance of HPV vaccination for cancer prevention
- Explain the rationale for vaccinating at ages 11 or 12
- List the indications for HPV vaccine for girls
- List the indications for HPV vaccine for boys
- Share strategies for providing useful and compelling information about HPV vaccine to parents to aid in their decision to vaccinate

Presenter

Yolanda N. Evans, MD, MPH

Dr. Evans is a physician in the Division of Adolescent Medicine at Seattle Children's Hospital and is faculty at the University of Washington. She completed her Adolescent Medicine fellowship through the UW Center for AIDS and STD Research with a focus on sexually transmitted infection prevention.

The slides were adapted from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and Dr. Ed Marcuse.

Continuing Education (CE)

Cardea designates this enduring material for a maximum of 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This credit may also be applied to the CMA Certification in Continuing Medical Education.

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the Institute for Medical Quality/ California Medical Association (IMQ/CMA) through the Joint Sponsorship of WithinReach and Cardea. Cardea is accredited by the IMQ/CMA for issuing AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™ for physicians.

Continuing Nursing Education (CNE)

Cardea Services is an approved provider of continuing nursing education by the Washington State Nurses Association Continuing Education Approval & Recognition Program (CEARP), an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.

Upon successful completion of this CE activity 1 contact hour, including 1 hour of pharmacology credit, will be awarded.

Successful completion of this continuing nursing education activity includes the following:

- Completing the entire CE activity
- Completing the online evaluation
- Submitting an online CE Request

Continuing Pharmacy Education (CPE)

ACPE#: 0130-9999-15-020-H04-P | Activity Type: Knowledge | initial release date: 4/15/2015 | expiration date: 4/15/2017 | 1 hour of CPE

The Washington State Pharmacy Association (WSPA) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education as a provider of continuing pharmacy education.

Pharmacists that would like CPE will need to view the complete activity then go to the link (http://wspa.wcea.education/) which is hosted by WCEA. You will need to create an account once you are on the education portal and will need to supply your NABP e-Profile ID and birthdate (MMDD). You must successfully answer all of the test questions and submit an evaluation. Once completing all of the requirements, you will be able to print your certificate and the CE will be automatically uploaded to the CPE Monitor.

Hi Kathleen,

I understand that this your your area of expertise, but I fully intend to argue this as I have the current list of approved clock hour providers from the OSPI website (which is attached) and Teacher CEU Toolbox is approved for the current school year as well as previous. I paid Teacher CEU Toolbox for my courses and they are an approved provider. Who do I need to contact to argue this?

Hi, Jessica.

I'm sorry I haven't gotten back to you sooner regarding this -- I wasn't ignoring you, I promise! I was actually trying to find a "loophole" so I could count the coursework you completed through UNLV. I was hoping that the "transcript" that Teacher CEU Toolbox was referring to on their website was an actual official university transcript from UNLV, not just a CEU transcript. Then I was hoping to find that loophole using the CEU transcript, but unfortunately, pursuant to OSPI guidelines, CEUs cannot be used for salary placement purposes unless your assignment requires an ESA Certificate (counselor, nurse, SLP, etc.). What that means is that I cannot accept any of the courses you submitted from Teacher CEU Toolbox. I've attached your current credit/clock hour record indicating what I was able to record for you.

If you have questions, please let me know.

Kathleen

Hello!

I was wondering if you could confirm whether my membership is currently active or not. I have tried to login a few different times and each time have received an error. I'm also not receiving the emails regarding the upcoming region meetings so this leads me to believe my membership lapsed, but I just wanted to confirm. My name is Kathleen Long and I'm with Mercer Island School District.

Thanks so much!

Kathleen

Your membership has been expired since 8/31/14. Let me know if you would like to renew and I will take care of it for you. Because it has been set to inactive I will have to do the renewal for you.

Thanks

Chris

The membership year ends August 31st. I typically roll forward to the next year June 1st. So If you renewed on June 1st it would last until August 31, 2016.

Thank you,

Region 4 Elections – Statements by Candidates

Region 4 Secretary:

Robin C. Nowlin, a Benefit Specialist/HR Generalist for Chief Leschi Schools and has over 11+ years working in the Human Resources field as a Benefit Specialist, Recruiter, HRIS Specialist, HR Generalist, Credentialing Specialist, Employee Relations, Payroll Specialist, and Wellness Coordinator. Currently, Robin is enrolled at Strayer University finishing her Bachelors with a concentration in Human Resource Management December 2015. She will then continue her education to accomplish her Master's in Science of Human Resource Management. Robin has attended Evergreen State College, the University of Washington and Tacoma Community College. Robin is an active member of the Society of Human Resources Management (SHRM) and has sat on as an active member of Indian Educations Parent Advisory Committee. Robin is from Alexandria, Virginia and relocated to Washington permanently in 2009 and her upcoming projects is to complete her education to ultimately end up with her Doctorate in Business/Education.

Region 4 Co-Representative:

Cathi Brinck Price: I am excited to ask you for your support to continue as Co-Representative for WSPA Region IV for the 2015-2017 term. I have had the privilege of serving Region IV since 2013. During that time, I have worked for our region by providing learning opportunities that support our professional successes. I have worked hard to seek experienced presenters who have helped to expand our members' understanding of school HR requirements, policies and processes. I understand the importance and the power of our Region IV meetings when I see how the meetings provide our members with a connection to peers, expand networking opportunities, and provide resources to reach out to when questions or situations arise. I love supporting that!

As a member of the Human Resources Operations team in Tacoma, my daily work includes all things related to employees - highly qualified, certification, leaves of absence, FMLA, salary placement, employee file maintenance, employee evaluations, collective bargaining, and so much more. My experience in the Kent and Puyallup districts and private industry personnel positions bring knowledge and perspective to identify topics and find experts to ensure we are prepared for our work. Plus, I am enthusiastic about the work that we all do!

Additionally, I am fully committed to recruiting a fabulous team from Region IV to plan and host the 2016 WSPA Annual Conference. I am confident it will be the best one yet!

I ask for your vote as your next Co-Representative for Region IV.

Stacia Dorman: I am interested in being your Region 4 co-representative. I have worked in education since 2006 and have been a WSPA member since beginning my HR career in 2010. My roles have included HR Secretary, HR Specialist and my current position of Administrative Assistant of Human Resources. I have attended HELP as well as many WSPA sponsored events and value the knowledge and relationships established throughout this wonderful organization. I would be honored to serve as a representative of this association. Thank you for your consideration.

Region 4 Elections – Statements by Candidates

Scot Embrey, Principal, Yelm Community Schools: I am honored to have received a nomination as Co-Rep for Region IV. I have worked in the education field for 21 years. I have been an elementary principal for 14 of those years. During my principal tenure, most of which has been with Yelm Community Schools, I have taken part in a wealth of HR related experiences such as the following: Lead certificated and classified bargainer, Grievance Hearing officer, TPEP Professional Development and Support, Graduate of the WSPA Executive Leadership program, and attended several Fall and Spring WSPA Conferences. Currently, I am pursuing a Superintendent Program degree from WSU, primarily to better prepare myself as a Human Resources administrator and future superintendent. Throughout my career and experiences in education, I have passionately supported getting our staff the necessary professional development to compliment their skill set and ensure their overall effectiveness. I would thoroughly enjoy the opportunity to provide that same passion to WSPA members, in the form of current knowledge and professional development opportunities, that have the most practical application to needs of an HR professional.

Greetings Conference Registrants:

Conference materials for the WSPA Annual Conference are available electronically. You must visit our Annual Conference page and login with a special username and password. Your WSPA membership account username and password will not access the materials.

Please go to the Annual Conference page:

Annual Conference 2015

Here you can see the Conference Agenda, Conference Menu and visit the Vendors page.

To access your conference materials, simply click on the Conference Materials link. If you receive a message that you do not have permission to view the page, make sure that you logout and login using the following conference username and password:

Conference username: [redacted]

Conference password: [redacted]

Make sure and check back frequently as I will continue to add presentations as they are made available up to and throughout the conference. All presenters who do not have the conference materials available prior to the conference date will bring handouts.

Please keep this information available if you intend on logging in during the conference.

I look forward to seeing you next week.

Chris Callaham, WSPA Executive Assistant

Hi Bruce,

As a former CTE Director and now HR, we do pay for the conditional certification. We found that it accelerates the process and we can have all needed certificates in hand/on file prior to the start of the school year.

As for Cultural Competency training, we have jumped into this work this year. In our community, I found that I really needed to grow the staff's capacity to even begin the conversation and chose not to implement a packaged training. I am looking at those types of trainings over the next year with my Diversity Advisory Committee (a group of parents, community members, staff, and police chief started last Fall). We are working on a guest speaker and some facilitated dialogue at each building and then we will implement a specific training. Please keep me in the loop as you begin to define your work as I would really like to trade notes. I will do the same. Good luck.

Subject: WSPA Board Nominations for 2015-2016
Date: Monday, July 6, 2015 12:16:17 AM

Greetings WSPA Members,

The WSPA Board elections will take place next month. We are currently seeking nominations for the following open board positions:

WSPA Incoming President (3 year term)

WSPA Secretary (2 year term)

WSPA Treasurer (3 year term)

All newly elected board members will be invited to attend our annual board retreat June 4-5, 2015. The official start date of all elected terms will begin July 1, 2015.

If you would like a description of the office, please refer to the WSPA Bylaws which are located on our website under the "about us" link.

If you would like to run for any of the above offices, or would like to nominate someone to run for open positions, please contact us at admin@wspa.net.

Region Elections will also be held at a regional level in the near future. We have region representative open positions as follows:

Region 1 Representative

Region 2 Co-Representative

Region 3 Representative

Region 4 Co-Representative

Region 5 Representative

Region 6 Co-Representative

Please contact your region representative if you are interested in becoming a region rep or you can contact me at admin@wspa.net and I will be happy to forward your interest for you. All region positions are two year terms. Newly elected region representatives will also be invited to attend our board retreat and your position will begin on July 1, 2015.

WSPA will take nominations for board positions of Incoming President, Secretary and Treasurer through March 13, 2015. Elections will be held the week of March 16, 2015.

Thank you,

Chris Callaham
WSPA Executive Assistant

Subject: WSPA Annual Conference
Date: Monday, July 6, 2015 1:12:31 AM

Greetings, WSPA Members:

Do not forget to register for the 2015 Annual Conference which will be held February 23, 2015 through February 25, 2015 in Spokane at the Davenport Hotel. The location and accommodations will provide you with a wonderful opportunity to experience Spokane, and the slate of presenters and topics will provide any member of your Human Resources department or district administration with the excellent professional development you have come to expect from the Washington School Personnel Association.

The conference committee is excited about what we have to offer you in February, and we look forward to seeing you next month!

Sincerely,

Tennille Jeffries-Simmons

2014-2015 WSPA President

WSPA Statements for Board Nominations

Incoming President:

Debby Carter – Edmonds School District

I have been the Edmonds School District's Executive Director of Human Resources for the past 8 ½ years. In this role, I oversee the operations of human resources, data management, payroll and benefits. Previously, I was the Classified HR Director at Edmonds for 6 years and worked at the Tumwater School District for 14 years. In all three roles, I have served as the lead bargainer and worked closely with various employee groups, as well as performed all aspects of human resources management.

I have been an active member of WSPA for more than 20 years and am extremely proud to be a graduate of the HELP program. My affiliation with WSPA has greatly benefited my career and professional life. It is because of WSPA's focus on supporting its members through professional development, access to resources, and networking that I want to serve on the WSPA Board. I believe I can contribute to the organization's mission and continue to be a strong advocate for service and support to human resources and personnel professionals in our state.

I have been fortunate to serve as the Board's secretary and have previously been a region representative. I have served on the HELP advisory committee since its inception. I have also taught HELP classes and served as a mentor. I have participated on several conference planning teams and have presented at annual conferences. These experiences have given me a broad perspective of the critical role WSPA can provide and the variety of services and support needed. I believe my active participation and knowledge of the organization can serve WSPA well in the role of President-elect.

Why am I running to continue to serve on the Board? Not only do I want to give back to the organization that has given me so much, but I see a need for consistent leadership and oversight. I want to be part of the team committed to continuous improvement as we work to understand and meet the needs of our members. As a Board member I want to: build on the work that has begun over the past few years regarding relevant and affordable professional development; be responsive to new member services and support; maintain efficient and strategic use of our resources; and continue to be a voice in legislative and policy issues.

I am enthusiastic about the opportunity to continue on the Board and the contributions I can make in keeping our Association relevant and meaningful and would ask for your support.

Heather Crail – Wenatchee School District

I have 20 years as a HR professional, mostly in private industry. Currently, I have been the Director of Human Recourse for the Wenatchee School District for 5 years. I have my Bachelor's degree from CW and a Professional Certificate in HR

I hope my experience from the private industry combined with school HR can be beneficial to the WSPA organization.

Janet Hodson – Federal Way School District

I have worked in public education since 1978j. For the past twenty years I have been working in Human Resources and attending classes to have a complete understanding of the various functions that are the responsibility of a human resources department.

I am currently employed as Director for Employment Services for the Federal Way School District. I completed the three-year WSPA Human Resources Educational Leadership Program where I earned a Human Resource Specialist Certificate. While serving a 2-year term as Co-Rep for Region IV, we surveyed our region to promote more involvement in regional meetings and began dividing the meeting location from the Renton SD office to half the meetings being located in the Fife/Tacoma area.

I have demonstrated good written and oral communication skills, as well as effective working relationships with my staff, principals, and the various departments within the district. I have applied my skills successfully to numerous teamwork and committee projects in the human resources department. I maintain an excellent rapport with certificated and classified employees while working through sensitive employment and payroll issues. I am involved in a variety of human resource activities such as: labor management, bargaining, ADA, leaves, professional development, absence tracking, and interpreting and implementing four collective bargaining agreements, as well as the Washington Administrative Code (WAC) and Revised Code of Washington (RCW) that govern school districts. I have been the HR lead for the computer conversion and any related issues that involve our integrated financial accounting system.

I look forward to the opportunity to serve on the board as president-elect.

Mike Johnson – Arlington Public Schools

Board Secretary:

Valerie Burkhauser – Auburn School District

My name is Valerie Burkhauser and I am an auditor and data analyst for the Auburn School District. I have been with ASD for 11 years, nine of which have been in HR. I am interested in running for the position of secretary for WSPA as I see it as a way to give back to an organization which provides so much to both individuals and districts alike. I am a H.E.L.P. graduate and was on the planning committee for the 2010 spring conference. I am a team player, like to think outside the box and am always looking for ways to make processes more efficient for all those concerned.

My husband and I have two daughters, both away at college so the only "kids" left at home are our two dogs. I enjoy traveling, gardening, all forms of needlework and taking college classes on my way to earning my degree.

As I previously stated I appreciate all the benefits that I have personally gained through WSPA events and feel that the position of secretary would be a rewarding way for me to give back. Thank you.

Denise Kennedy – Bremerton School District

Hello! My name is Denise Kennedy and I am running for the position of Secretary for the Washington Schools Personnel Association. I have been a member of WSPA since 2006, when I began in School Human Resources. I just completed the Human Resources Educational Leadership Program (HELP) in July of 2014. I have been serving as our Region 5 Representative beginning in June of 2013.

As my two year term as Region Rep draws to a close, I am very excited for the possibility to continue my service on the WSPA Board as Secretary. The impact WSPA has had on my career is immeasurable. Serving in this capacity allows me to continue to give back to this valuable organization and encourage others to do the same.

Thank you for considering me for Secretary for WSPA!

Board Treasurer:

Cathi Brinck Price – Tacoma Public Schools

I am interested in representing you as Treasurer on our Association board for the 2015-2018 term.
While serving as a Region 4 Co-Representative this past term, I have learned a great deal about the work all of us in Human Resource roles do, and the Association's work on our behalf. The idea of continuing to serve those we represent through my involvement with WSPA is exciting!

I am currently a Human Resources Generalist in the Tacoma Public Schools, and have held increasingly responsible positions within HR in Kent and Puyallup; and in private industry before I entered the world of education. In each of my positions my responsibilities included maintaining accurate records, and auditing and reporting, as well as timely communication of the status of a project or situation. The added experience I will bring in supporting the board and organization will be a balance of new ideas and collaboration.

Thank you for considering me as our Association's next board Treasurer.

Lisa Turner – Wenatchee School District

I currently serve in the role of Executive Director of Human Resources at Wenatchee School District. I was joined the District in 2007 as the HR Director working primarily with the classified staff. In 2010 I assumed the role of Executive Director after Steve Cole returned to Yakima. Prior to the coming to the school district, I worked in the private sector. I was the Human Resource Manager at a non-union, manufacturing plant for 16 years.

I graduated from Central Washington University with a BS in Business Management with a Human Resource specialization. I have held a Professional Human Resource Certification from the Society of Human Resource Management (SHRM) since 2007.

I was a charter member of the Apple Valley Chapter of SHRM in 1995, serving 3 terms as a board member. I held the role of Secretary for two terms and President for 1 term.

I originally went to college to become an accountant, but found HR to be much more fascinating. However, I have always kept my love of numbers and have been the bookkeeper for my husband's construction company for the past 6 years. I volunteer to do "simple taxes" for my friends and family, because I enjoy accounting. I am proficient with Quickbooks, Quicken and Excel software.

I have a desire to give back to WSPA and the members by supporting the goals of the association while being fiscally responsible

Subject: WSPA follow-up: Electronic Personnel Recordkeeping
Date: Sunday, July 5, 2015 11:48:56 PM

Mr. Roschy,

I left a message for you with Kathleen but thought email might be an easier way for us to connect. I hope you were able to meet my colleague, Nick DeBuyl, at the conference last week. He said there was a lot of conversation going on about electronic personnel recordkeeping and what districts are looking to do now and in the future. Our system, TalentEd Records, is being used by several districts in the state to help address challenges that come with gathering, managing, and storing staff information.

If you would like to learn more, I would welcome a 10-15 minute conversation to see if it makes sense for us to continue the conversation. You can also find more information here: http://www.talentedk12.com/products/talented-records/.

I'll look forward to hearing back either way.

Thanks,
Craig Goth

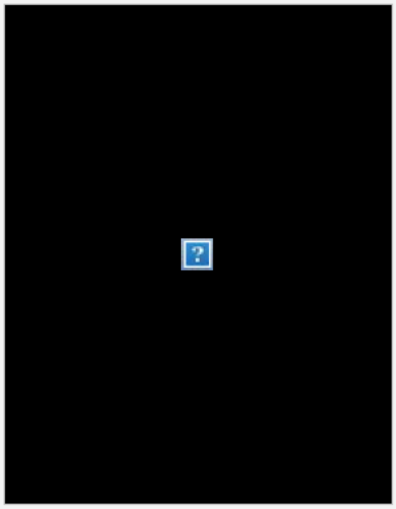
Subject: WSPA conference followup
Date: Sunday, July 5, 2015 11:40:36 PM

Hi Mark,

It was great attending the Washington School personnel conference a few weeks ago at the Davenport hotel in Spokane. It was my first conference, and I learned alot from many of the attendees who expressed the need for teachers in their districts. As the demand for quality educators continues, I hope to be a resource for your District. As you can recall in my short address to the audience, Walden University would like to partner with School districts throughout Washington State to provide continued quality education for the educators. We can offer your employees incredible online learning degrees with NCATE accreditation, a partnership discount on all of our programs, and a personal representative in me to have a physical presence in your district where needed.



I would love an opportunity to speak with you more about this. Please let me know if you are interested, and if we can schedule a time to discuss this further over the phone.

I look forward to talking with you soon,

Warm Regards,

Andrea Mallonee

Subject: Washington Educator Career Fair Listing of Teachers
Date: Sunday, July 5, 2015 11:09:49 PM
Attachments: WECF_Listing_of_Candidates_2015.xls

Greetings Career Fair Registrants,

I am pleased to attach the Excel Spreadsheet listing of those teachers and administrators who attended our Career Fairs in Spokane and Tacoma to aid you in your continued search for educators.

Please forward this listing to the appropriate person(s) in your district for their use in recruiting.

Thank you for your participation and for making our 2015 Career Fairs a huge success. We welcome any comments or suggestions you have for next year's fairs. We look forward to seeing you in 2016.

Hello Mark,

Alexandra Manuel asked that I respond to your email regarding Alternate Route to Teaching Certification and individuals seeking information from the school district's human resources department. I am glad that you have shared your opinions and concerns. You are not alone in not knowing much about the program and the benefits the program can have for your district; we are trying to do better with our communication. Even though the guidelines have been in place since 2001 for Alternative Route Programs (RCW 28A.660.040), there is still a lot of work to be done in getting the message out to districts.

Just a few facts about an Alternate Route to Teaching Certification program:

- Alternate Route to Teaching Certification program is not for someone to add and endorsement, but for someone to obtain a teaching certificate.
- The school districts are the drivers for who they feel would be a great candidate for the alternate route to teaching program, as routes 1, 2, and 4 involve individuals who are employed in their district. Therefore, it is important that individuals check with the district first to see if there is a need to diversify the teacher workforce and/or fill teacher shortage areas. Coordination with a teacher prep provider (with an alternate route program) is required in order for someone to be placed in the district. See How the Alternate Route to Teaching Certificate Works.
- Some districts may not have a need to diversifying their teacher workforce or do not have any concerns with filling positions. If this is the case, they can simply let individuals who are inquiring about the alternate route to teaching opportunities in their district know that they do not have a need at this time. However, districts looking to find alternative ways to "grow their own" or fill the hard to fill positions can identify employees and/or others they feel would make great educators and work with a teacher prep program to help certify them as teachers.
- Currently RCW 28A.660.040 indicates four alternative route programs that allows districts to recruit paraeducators/staff and other individuals in the local community to become certified as teachers through one of the four routes.
    - Route 1: Alternative routes for classified staff, paraprofessional
    - Route 2: Alternative routes for classified staff who hold a minimum of a Bachelor of Arts Degree from a regionally accredited institution
    - Route 3: Alternative route for individuals with subject-matter expertise in shortage areas currently employed outside the school system
    - Route 4: Alternative route for individuals teaching with conditional certificates

The following is what has and will take place regarding messaging:

- Recent Meetings: The Director of Educator Pathways has met with district superintendents, discussed at a recent WSPA conference, and has held Alternate Route Redesign Work Group meetings with university teacher prep programs and school districts. For more information about the work group visit PESB Alternate Route Redesign Work Group.

- Upcoming Event: Informational sessions scheduled for June 17 & 19, to discuss Alternate Route to Teaching programs and a Block Grant, up to $350,000 for two years. Block Grant designed for university/teacher prep program, districts, and other partners to work collaboratively to recruit, grow their own in the high needs areas and to diversify the teacher workforce. For more information, visit Alternate Route Block Grants.
- Future Event: In addition, PESB is looking to coordinate a webinar for school district human resources and increase the messaging of alternate route to teaching benefits.

I have added the following to what is online "Please note not all districts are aware of or may not have a need to participate in partnership with a teacher preparation program to utilize the alternate route to teaching certification program benefits. If this is the case, contact the teacher preparation program offering an alternate route to teaching program, and inquire about possible solutions."

It is our hope to have individuals make contact first with their districts, so districts are aware of staff interested in becoming teachers. I do hope the above helped to clarify some of your questions and concerns. Please let me know if you have any additional questions.

Take care,

Subject: updated information on website

Hi Alexandra,

I see that your website has been updated, in particular on the Alternative Pathways page. Unfortunately, I was troubled to find the first paragraph basically sending the inquiring person back to my office:

- Consult with the district you are currently working (Routes 1,2,4): Your district's HR department and/or school principal should be able to advise you if your district is seeking candidates to participate in the Alternate Route Program to grow their teachers in designated areas. Each district will have their own screening process in coordination with a partnering teacher prep program. You will need to coordinate with your district and the teacher prep provider. Route 3 should consult with the school district's HR department, regarding high needs, partner teacher preparation programs, and process to be placed in the district.

I would be okay with this if I felt informed enough to provide them the needed information. To date, I have not seen the new rule changes and the document provided by OSPI is not complete enough to deal with all applicable scenarios. I would ask that you either provide support and training to HR personnel to be able to support people you are sending back to us or updated your website to steer people to someone who can actually assist them (or both). When people are looking to add an endorsement to their certificate, I send them to your website. Now I see that they will simply be sent back to me. It has already become far too complex and confusing for staff to now have them see us pointing to each other.

Please advise and thank you.

Hi Student Teachers:

Here we go with your last week of teaching during the Student Teaching course. Best wishes to you! I will see you for the Final Evaluation soon. Be sure to send me a time and also don't forget your Log of Hours and Reflection this weekend!! Enjoy your students and do your best work this week! Your Cooperating Teacher and Principal are still watching. Leave with a wonderful reputation at your school! Now is not the time to let down. I am sure you realize this fact. Be the star you are! (See attachments!)

Judy

Supervisor Newsletter #10

You are all stars!!!

Important Dates for this Week:

March 10th through 13th: Final Evaluations - Cooperating Teachers, Field Supervisors, and Student Teachers will meet to decide the marks for the Final Evaluation form and the Attribute Scale.

March 17th through 21st: Visitations to Other Teachers - Student Teachers go to eight visitations during that week and return to spend the last day, March 21st in their own classroom/gym.

Tues., March 18th: Exit Seminar - Student Teachers will all meet at the CWU Des Moines Center in room 381 from 4:00 PM - 5:30 PM. Bring your Professional Growth Plan signed and in final draft form.

Fri., March 21st: Last Day of Student Teaching

edTPA Scores: No News Yet!

I know, this is not good news, but we should hear soon. Here is what I do know. If you must do some remediation, you can try and finish this quarter if possible. Two other options are to remediate next quarter or you may take a year to redo the edTPA Tasks not passed. You will pass student teaching without passing the edTPA and also graduate. You just will not have a Washington State Teaching Certificate, so you will not be able to be hired for a teaching job. A mentor will be assigned to you and you will then meet with them to get information and resources as to how to complete the remediation process. But....you will all pass so you don't have to worry!

Evaluation Meeting:

Cooperating Teachers: Please fill out again the Attribute Scale and Final Evaluation form before our meeting. Write your Reflective Comments and send them to me before we get-together and I will come with them typed into the document. That way our meeting will go much more quickly. Thank you!

Student Teachers: Please fill out the Final Evaluation form. You do not have to write Reflective Comments. Please send me a time for our meeting. We'll need about 45 - 60 min. to complete all the Final Evaluation business.

Very Important for this Week!

Plan Book and Notes: You will need to have "lesson plans" this week, but they can be in the form of placing important information in a Teacher Plan Book box for each day and then write your notes in any form that you may like. Some use index cards and other write on a tablet or on an iPad. Make the box clear enough that a substitute teacher could understand what to do with the class. Put in the box the target(s) and page # or if there is a handout, note that. Extra information will be in your notes. I'll check these when I come for the Final Evaluation. You are now going to teach like the certificated teachers teach! Yahoo!

Don't Forget:

- 2014 WA Educator Career Fair at the Tacoma Dome - Register Now! http://www.wspa.net
- Mock Interviews: If you would like me to do a mock interview with you, I am glad to help. We can do it next quarter. Just send me some dates and times. Usually we just meet at a Starbucks and go through the interview.

Have a good week...your last teaching week. Show your best work! Shine! Judy

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Student Data Breaches: Is Your District Prepared?

Unauthorized disclosure of confidential student data can occur, despite best efforts. Disclosure occurs when personally identifiable information (PII) from a student's education records is made available to a third party who does not have legal authority to access the information.

This can happen through a malicious attack by hackers gaining access to school computer systems or inadvertently when laptops, phones, or thumb drives are lost, stolen, or temporarily misplaced, employees negligently leave a password list in a publicly accessible location or misconfigure a security device, or through system failure such as the failure to backup security measures.

FERPA does not contain specific breach notification requirements, although it does require that school districts records each incident of data disclosure. 34 CFR §99.32.

Washington law requires any agency that owns or licenses computerized data that includes personal information to disclose any breach of the security of the system following discovery or notification of the breach to any individual whose unencrypted personal information may have been acquired by an unauthorized person. RCW 42.56.590.

Districts should consider putting policies and procedures in place to define "student data breach" and detail its efforts to prevent breaches as well as its response plan including notification of affected individuals and relevant agencies.

Additionally, direct student notification is advisable if the compromised data includes student SSNs and other identifying information that could lead to identity theft.

The Family Policy Compliance Office (FPCO), U.S. Department of Education has offered letters of guidance:

- Letter to Parades (2005)

Laptop containing student information was stolen and FPCA praised "quick and thorough" response to report incident to local police department and immediately notify students and assist in contacting credit bureaus.

- Letter to Fagan (2012)

School attorney reported to FPCA that flash drive containing students' education records went missing from a classroom. FPCO confirmed that it was an "inadvertent disclosure."

U.S. Department of Education Privacy Technical Assistance Center (PTAC) Data Breach Response Checklist

The items in this checklist (developed by PTAC) are the essential building blocks of an effective and efficient data breach response plan. The list below is not exhaustive and should be used only as a general guide, to be expanded and tailored to your district's unique operational and safety needs:

Before the Breach

✔ Establish and implement a written data breach response policy.

✔ Review your information system(s) and data and identify where PII and other sensitive information resides.

✔ Continuously monitor for PII and other sensitive data leakage and loss.

✔ Conduct frequent privacy and security awareness trainings as part of an on-going training and awareness program.

Responding to the Breach

✔ Validate the data breach

✔ Once a breach has been validated, immediately assign an incident manager to be responsible for the investigation

✔ Assemble incident response team

✔ Determine the scope and composition of the breach

✔ Determine the scope and composition of the breach

✔ Consider notifying FPCO and seeking technical assistance from PTAC

✔ Determine whether to notify the authorities/law enforcement (situation dependent)

✔ Decide how to investigate the data breach to ensure that the investigative evidence is appropriately handled and preserved

✔ Determine whether notification of affected individuals is appropriate and, if so, when and how to provide such notification

✔ Determine whether notification of affected individuals is appropriate and, if so, when and how to provide such notification

Mercer Island has provided Principals with supplemental contracts commensurate with the size of their project and the additional organizational work involved. They are ranging from $1500 for a project adding 3 classrooms and remodeling 3 more with some reconfiguration to $6000 for a larger project that involves demolition of 1/3 of campus and a rebuild of a Phase 1 of 2 replacement. All projects are overseen and managed from the district office, this compensation is specifically for the impact and additional workload involved with managing the impact while running the school.

Sarah Nelson from Tumwater School District is interested in responses about how other districts support and/or compensate principals whose schools are undergoing construction and remodel.

I am happy to complete that for you. I am not sure what could have caused the link to work – maybe just a glitch. I have attached your invoice. Just as a reminder your membership has also expired.

If you have any dietary restrictions please let me know and I will add that.

Thank you

Hey there! Hopefully we were doing something fun like drinking or cooking and we weren't at work! ☺

How are things? I miss you all so much and wish I could "transplant" you all here! I will definitely come by if I'm in the area. I'm hoping there will be a good WSPA luncheon topic one of these days and I can come down for that. I would love to hear what everyone is up to.

Take care!

Kathleen

I spoke with Jan and she said since it's early release today the kids will probably be here until at least 4:30, if not later. The only exception might be if the kids just don't show up and, if the kid numbers are small, she could test them in the little area outside of her/Fred's offices. She said she would check with you around noon today to see what she could figure out between now and then.

Just a reminder –
I will be leaving for the WSPA luncheon/workshop today between 10:45 and 11:00 (workshop is at 11:30) and plan to head home directly from there – unless we get out earlier than 3pm. I will make up my time between when the workshop ends and 4pm. Tomorrow I have a webinar from 9-12 (S-275: counting academic credits) and I'm still looking for a spot to do that. Jan LaF thinks Cabinet might be quick so I'm hoping to slip into Conference Room A so that's where I'll be if you need me tomorrow morning.

Greetings:

WSPA and WSRMP have teamed up again this year to present the 2014 School Law Conference which will be held on October 13-14, 2014 at the DoubleTree Guestsuites by Hilton Seattle Airport in Southcenter, Washington.

Registration is now open at www.wspa.net with special early bird pricing through September 30, 2014.

Please note that when you login to register for this event you may register other WSPA members if they are linked to your WSPA member account. If you are unsure you can contact me at admin@wspa.net and I would be happy to link members for you prior to you registering. If you login as you and register someone who is not linked it will essentially re-write your membership information.

Once you have completed your online registration an invoice or receipt will be emailed to you for your payment records.

I have attached the draft conference agenda for your review.

I look forward to seeing you in October.

Date: Thursday, June 25, 2015 12:34:29 PM

Greetings WSPA Members:

Our Annual Conference is quickly approaching. We have over 170 members attending this year. With a max capacity of 200 at our conference, we are filling up fast. If you have not registered to attend please do so by visiting our website at www.wspa.net.

The hotel has sold out for 2 of the 3 nights. We would like to recommend the Holiday Inn Express, Marysville which is just 1-2 minutes from the Tulalip. They offer government rates as low as $104 per night and a shuttle from the hotel to the resort. You can access their site directly by clicking on the following link:

http://www.ihg.com/holidayinnexpress/hotels/us/en/marysville/seamv/hoteldetail

We look forward to seeing you in a few weeks.

Thank you,

Chris Callaham

Subject:	Webinar: Affordable Care Act Requirements
Date:	Thursday, June 25, 2015 12:33:47 PM

Hi Mark,

Has your district decided how you'll handle the new requirements of the Affordable Care Act? Many districts are already making plans to limit substitute hours or, at the very least, to track hours for subs and other hourly employees to ensure compliance.

Tracking and reporting on all that data is no easy task. That's why many districts are turning to the software tools from Frontline Technologies to electronically manage employee hours.

I'd like to invite you to a brief, under 30-minute webinar on February 27 at 2:30 PM (EST) to take a look at how Aesop, the leading automated sub-calling system, and VeriTime, a time and attendance management system, provide reports to help you track substitute hours, view employee schedules in advance, determine eligibility for benefits, and more.

Register Here

If this date does not work for you, I will also be at the WSPA conference next week or you can contact me at your convenience, and I would be happy to answer any questions.
Sincerely,

Subject: WSPA Region 4 Nominations

Date: Thursday, June 25, 2015 12:29:48 PM

Hello all!

It's time for the WSPA Region 4 Co-Rep nominations. The position of region representative is a 2-year term (2014-15 and 2015-16). Nominations will close on Tuesday, April 8 at 4:00.

Nominees will be notified the week of April 9, and will be asked to provide a short biography and their interest in serving in this region leadership role. The term begins with the WSPA board retreat scheduled for June 5-6. Elections will be held from April 16-22.

The member selected by our region membership will be announced the week of April 28 and introduced at our May 21 Region 4 meeting.

Please forward nominations for Region 4 Co-representative to Bev Martin, Region Secretary, at bmartin@bethelsd.org by 4:00 P.M. on April 8, 2014.

Thank you,

Cathi Brinck Price, Co-Representative and Bev Martin, Secretary

Oh, bummer you didn't know about it! They were recording it and said that they were going to post it on the Certification section on OSPI's website. It was about 45 minutes.

Job description revision sounds… exciting ☺ You should tell them that typically you should hire a manager to reformat job descriptions! We're revising the staffing formula calculations and allocation sheets. Super not exciting, but hopefully it will be good in the end.

I'm sure Marsha is going to WSPA, but I hadn't even looked at it to be honest. Where is it this year? Are you going? They want us to go to WASWUG again…ugh! I think I'll definitely bring my laptop this year.

Hope you're doing well! Has your boss gotten you involved with the HQT tool yet? I know you went to the training, but I think you said you weren't really doing anything with it at the time. Anyway, we still haven't started uploading anything, so we're getting a little nervous!!

Take care!

Ashley

Actually, I'm not watching it and neither is my boss. I didn't even know about it! UGH! Anyway, I feel your pain. We're slowly re-doing all of our job descriptions and making sure the formatting is consistent on each one is driving me mad! Oh well, job security I guess. ☺ Anyone there going to the WSPA Conference in February?

Hope all is well!

Greetings Everyone:

It was wonderful seeing you and meeting some of you for the first time at our Annual Conference.

Please click on the link below to fill out the conference survey in order to help us better serve our member's needs at conferences in the future:

https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/2P6CRJY

One of the requirements for clock hours is that we have an evaluation form on record. If you would like to obtain clock hours you must have signed the clock hour attendance sheet and complete an evaluation (see link above). I have attached the conference clock hour sheet for your records. Please note that the Annual Conference qualified for 15 clock hours. If you attended the pre-conference as well, there were an additional 3 hours available for a total of 18.

Thank you and I look forward to seeing you in the future and next year in Spokane at the Davenport for Annual Conference 2015.

Subject: WSPA New Website and Member Accounts
Date: Thursday, June 25, 2015 11:53:36 AM

Greetings WSPA Members,

As many of you know we have a new website. As we work to bring the site up to speed I wanted to inform you of a new feature that is available to members. Each district can "link" their members together using a parent/child type relationship. I have already linked up all of the district member accounts, however anyone with more than one person in the district who has a membership can be linked.

Linking allows the main member (the parent), to register, add, remove, make changes to, view transactions of any other member at the district (the child) through this linking process. This also allows one person to register multiple members for events at one time and manage payments and invoices.

If you would like to have this linked relationship with the WSPA members at your district, please email me and indicate who the "parent" will be and I will link the remaining members. In the future, if you add a new member, you would simply have them register, or register them yourself using their email address, but then it is very important that you notify me so that I can link that person to you.

I look forward to hearing from you and look forward to working with you during the upcoming membership year.

Thank you,

Chris Callaham

WSPA Executive Assistant

Attachments: HELP Flyer April 2014.pdf

Greetings WSPA Members:

I am pleased to announce several WSPA items are ready for your attention and action:

1. The WSPA Board President Elections open Monday, March 31, 2014. To vote you will need to login to your member portal. There you will find the link to review the bios and cast your vote. Elections will close on Friday, April 4th. WSPA is pleased to announce that we have 2 candidates for President. Mr. Mike Johnson with Arlington Schools, and Ms. Debbie Leighton with Auburn Schools.

2. The 2nd annual WSPA Compensation Survey has already been transmitted free of charge to the participating districts. Now non-participating members can purchase the survey results for $200. The link is also located in your Member Portal that you can view by logging into your WSPA member account.

3. The Spring HELP Session regarding Managing the new e-Cert System will be held in Renton at the Puget Sound ESD on Monday, April 28th. I have attached the flyer for your information. You can register now by visiting www.wspa.net and clicking on the rotating banner #1, or through the calendar of events.

Thank you,

Subject: WSPA Region IV Nominations Reminder
Date: Thursday, June 25, 2015 11:34:11 AM

Nominations close at 4:00 on Tuesday, April 8.

It's time for the WSPA Region 4 Co-Rep nominations. The position of region representative is a 2-year term (2014-15 and 2015-16). Nominations will close on Tuesday, April 8 at 4:00.

Nominees will be notified the week of April 9, and will be asked to provide a short biography and their interest in serving in this region leadership role. The term begins with the WSPA board retreat scheduled for June 5-6. Elections will be held from April 16-22.

The member selected by our region membership will be announced the week of April 28 and introduced at our May 21 Region 4 meeting.

Please forward nominations for Region 4 Co-representative to Bev Martin, Region Secretary, at bmartin@bethelsd.org by 4:00 P.M. on April 8, 2014.

Thank you,

Cathi Brinck Price, Co-Representative and Bev Martin, Secretary

WAC 392-121-264 Definition
Certificated years of experience.

Regardless of the experience factors used by a school district for the purposes of its salary schedule(s), as used in this chapter, the term "certificated years of experience" means the number of years of accumulated full-time and part-time professional education employment prior to the current reporting school year in the state of Washington, out-of-state, and a foreign country. School districts shall report all certificated years of experience including those beyond the experience limit of the school district's salary schedule.

(1) Professional education employment shall be limited to the following:

(a) Employment in public or private preschools or elementary and secondary schools in positions which require certification where:

(i) Schools include the Centrum education program, the Pacific Science Center education program, and educational centers authorized under chapter 28A.205 RCW;

(ii) Certification means the concurrent public professional education licensing requirements established in the state, province, country, or other governmental unit in which employment occurred, and which, for the state of Washington, refers to the certificates authorized by WAC 181-79A-140 and temporary permits authorized by WAC 181-79A-128;

(b) Employment in public or private vocational-technical schools, technical colleges, community/junior colleges, colleges, and universities in positions comparable to those which require certification in Washington school districts;

(c) Employment in a governmental educational agency with regional administrative responsibilities for preschool, elementary, and/or secondary education including but not limited to an educational service district, office of the superintendent of public instruction, or United States department of education in any professional position including but not limited to C.P.A., architect, business manager, or physician;

(d) Experience in the following areas:

(i) Military, Peace Corps, or Vista service which interrupted professional education employment included in (a), (b), or (c) of this subsection; and

(ii) Sabbatical leave.

(e) For non-degreed vocational/career and technical education instructors, up to a maximum of six years of management experience as defined in WAC 181-77-003 acquired after the instructor meets the minimum vocational/career and technical education certification requirements of three years (six thousand hours) established in WAC 181-77-041(1)(a)(i), regardless of when the initial certificate is issued and regardless of type of vocational/career and technical education certificate held. If a degree is obtained while employed in the state of Washington as a non-degreed vocational/career and technical education instructor, the eligible years of management experience pursuant to this subsection reported on Report S-275 prior to the awarding of the degree shall continue to be reported but shall not increase.

(f) Beginning in the 2007–08 school year, for occupational therapists, physical therapists, nurses, speech-language pathologists, audiologists, counselors, psychologists, and social workers regulated under Title 18 RCW, years of experience may include employment as occupational therapists, physical therapists, nurses, speech-language pathologists, audiologists, counselors, psychologists, and social workers, that does not otherwise meet the requirements of subsection (1)(a) through (e) of this section, subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(i) Experience included under this subsection shall be limited to a maximum of two years.

(ii) The calculation of years of experience shall be that one year of experience in a school or other nonschool position counts as one year of experience for the purposes of this subsection, per subsection (2)(a) of this section.

(iii) Employment as occupational therapists shall be limited to the following:

(A) In positions requiring licensure as an occupational therapist under Title 18 RCW, or comparable out-of-state employment; and

(B) While holding a valid occupational therapist license, or other comparable occupational therapist credential.

(iv) Employment as physical therapists shall be limited to the following:

(A) In positions requiring licensure as a physical therapist under Title 18 RCW, or comparable out-of-state employment; and

(B) While holding a valid physical therapist license, or other comparable physical therapist credential.

- KEEP THIS LAW HANDY

- REVIEW EVERY EXPERIENCE RECORD AGAINST THESE RULES

REVIEWING EXPERIENCE RECORDS

- Review the application for employment to determine the individual's employment record. Make a list of the previous employers. Review this information with the employee.

- Work with the employee to have a Verification of Employment form sent to each prior employer where experience credit may be granted. Never grant credit without a completed experience verification form on file.

- You may wish to create different forms for Regular, Private Schools, College/University, Vocational and ESA verifications.

- When you are verifying experience from a former Washington State School District, you may also ask that district if they are willing to send the employee's official transcripts to you. This is permissible according to the Attorney General. You will want that district to send you the originals with a cover letter indicating that the transcripts were the official ones on file in their district. Additionally, you will need to ask the prior school district to transmit to you any course approval forms they have processed for that employee where the courses were taken 9/1/95 and thereafter while they were employed with that district. It is a requirement under the law that the prior Washington State school district sent those Course Approval forms to you.

- Consider revising your verification form to include the contract status while employed, particularly for Washington school districts. This will help when you are determining what type of contract you will issue to the new hire and will also help when you are reviewing the expiration date of the residency certificate.

- Only when you have received a verification of experience should you proceed with calculating the experience record.

Verification of Experience

Instructions for Schools:
- Use one line for each academic year or change in status.
- Clearly identify unpaid leave of absence periods.
- For preschool through Grade 12 experience, indicate whether a state education license (certification) was required.
- Do not record tutoring, practice work, or student teaching.
- Record casual substitute teaching in substitute columns only.
- Prorate full-time experience for partial days and unpaid leaves of absence.

Instructions for Industry Employees:
- Use one line for each calendar year or change in status.
- Divide work experience into management (supervisory) and non-management assignments.
- Calculate hours worked in each category. Do not duplicate.
- Prorate full-time experience for partial days and unpaid leaves of absence.
- Record work experience only in the following occupational area: _____.

Institution	Dates of Service from Mo/Day/Yr to Mo/Day/Yr	Number of Paid Days in Full-Time Year	Number of Paid Hours in Full-Time Day	Number of Hours Paid This Period	Number of Full-Time Equivalent Substitute Teaching Days During This Period	Position	If Preschool or K-12 Employment Was State Education License/Certification Required?
Example 1. Pine Ridge School	9/1/2001 to 6/12/2002	184	7.5	184 x 3.75 = 690		Secondary Teacher	Yes No N/A
Example 2. Idaho College	9/15/2002 to 6/15/2003	Contracted for 15 credits each quarter for 3 academic quarters (Full-time employment)				Math Professor	Yes No N/A

Signature of Superintendent or Designee		Street Address

- Review the Verification Form to ensure that the position required a teaching certificate (the form is marked YES) if required for that position. If this area is blank, contact that prior employer to ascertain this information. If the prior employer was not a school district, then you must determine if the position the person was employed in was equivalent to a position that requires a certificate in our public schools.

  Example: If a person was employed at a college as a Professor or Instructor then that would be comparable and can be counted, even though that position does not require a certificate because colleges are not subject to those rules. However if the person had been employed at the college as a department secretary then that experience would not count. You will want to carefully review the rules for granting experience other than in public school districts. The 275 manual lists several excellent examples.*

- Mark up the verification form document. Highlight each record. If not broken out by year, then break it out. For example if it is verified as 19-00 to 2003-04, hand write out each year. Many mistakes are made by not doing this task.

- Check the data very carefully and then prepare your calculations.

- Be careful not to exceed 1.0 in any given year. This is another reason it is important to make a record that reflects each individual year of employment, especially when verifications are from multiple employers for the same years.

Calculating Experience

The next step is to perform the calculation (and show this on your documentation) and it is a simple fraction, where the numerator is the actual number worked and the denominator is what constitutes a full FTE.

Example 1: Numerator: 7.5 hrs x 182 days = 1365 hours = 1.00 FTE Denominator: 7.5 hrs x 182 days = 1365 hours

Example 2: Numerator: 7.5 hrs x 92 days = 690 hours = 0.51 FTE Denominator: 7.5 hrs x 182 days = 1365 hours

Example 3: Numerator: 4.25 hrs x 91 days = 386.75 hours = .28 FTE Denominator: 7.5 hrs x 182 days = 1365 hours

When verifying for a college you have to ascertain what constitutes "full time" or the denominator.

Example: The verification form might indicate that the employee taught a 5 credits class each quarter for 3 quarters that year. You will have to ask the college "what do you consider to be full time?" That answer might be that full time would be a person who teaches 10 credits for 4 quarters. In that case your denominator becomes 40 (10 credits x 4 quarters) and your numerator is what the person worked (5 x 3 = 15). In this case the example is then calculated as:

Example 4: Numerator: 5 credits x 3 quarters = 15 = 0.38 FTE Denominator: 10 credits x 4 quarters = 40

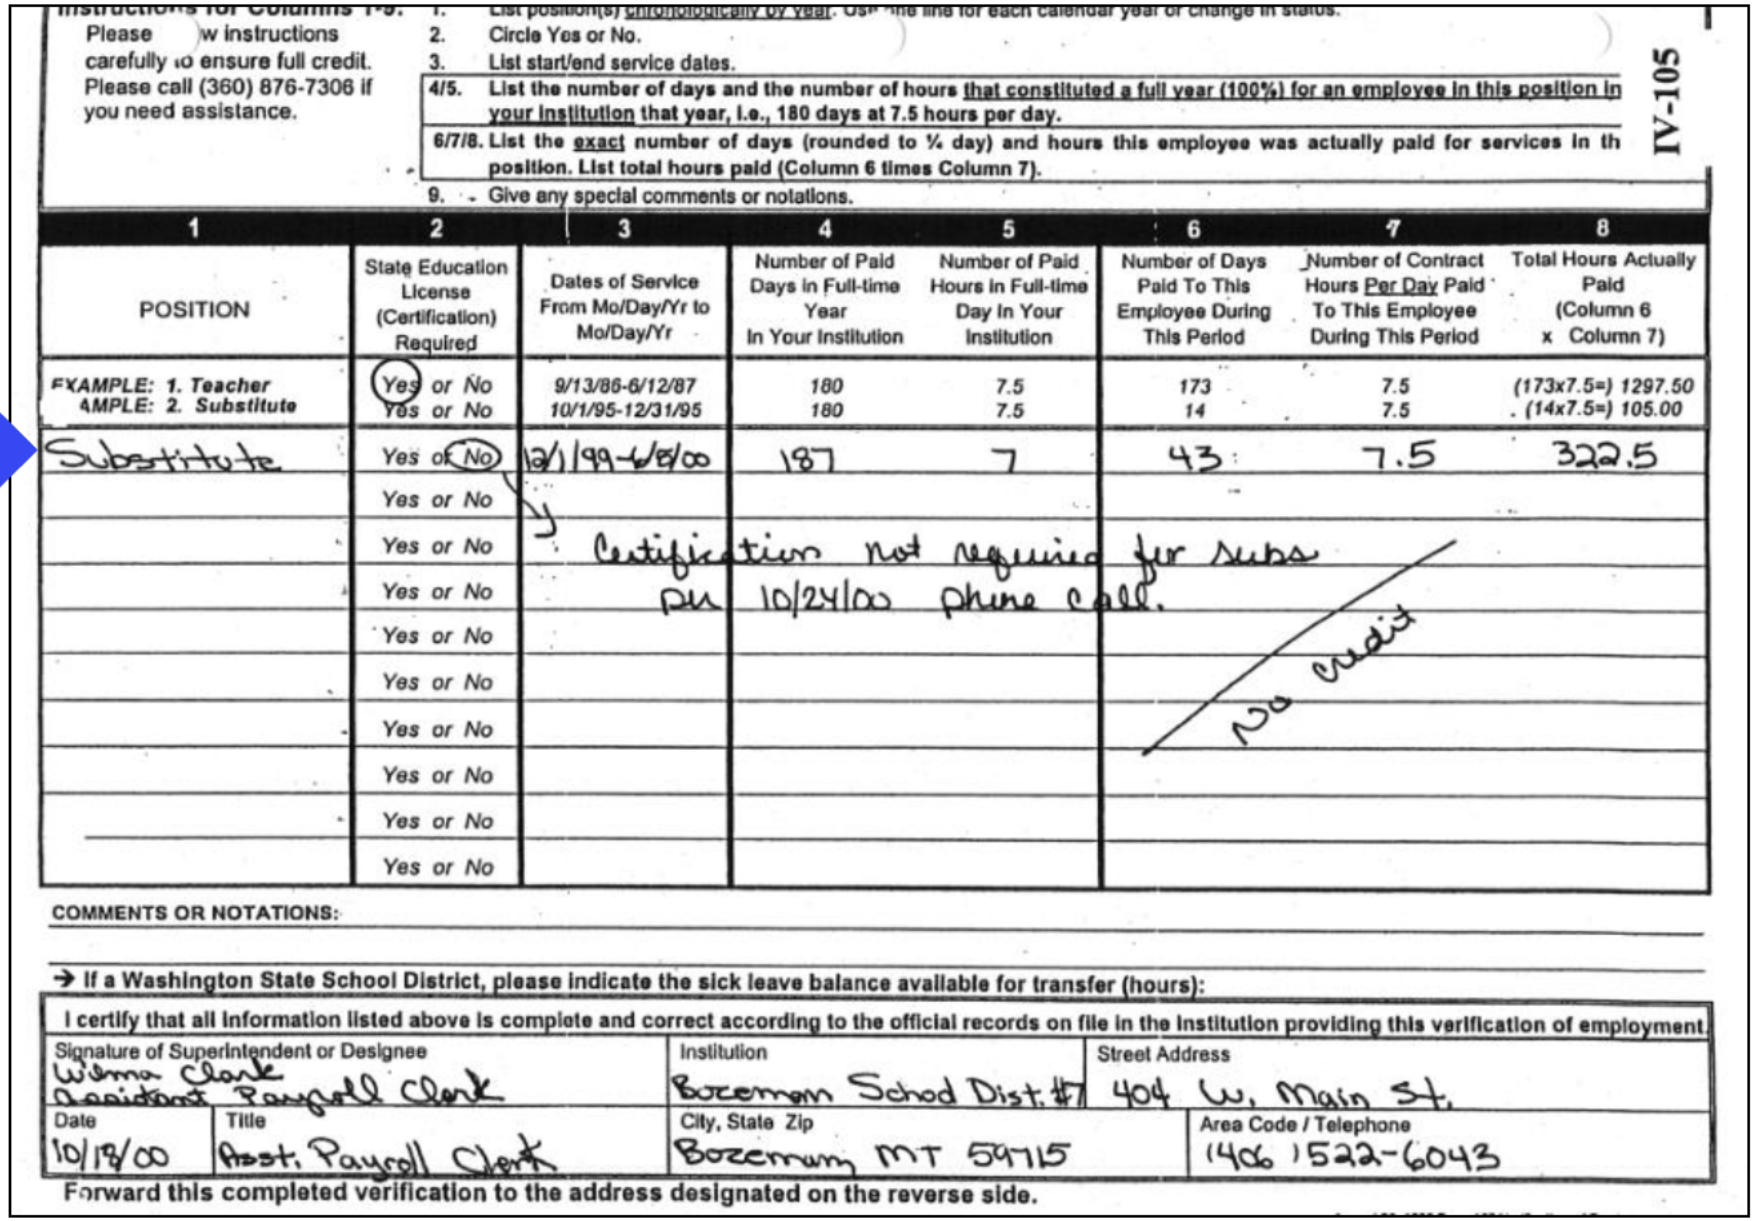
*Certificated experience is computed to two (2) decimals. The accumulated total is rounded to one (1) decimal).

*No more than 1.0 for one year.

SUBSTITUTE EXPERIENCE

In the case of a Substitute, 180 days is ALWAYS the denominator. This is pursuant to the 275 rules. Be very careful when recording substitute experience as several states no longer require substitutes to have a teaching certificate and that experience would not be reportable (Montana, California, New York are some examples).

Substitute Verification – No Certificate Required



Instructions for Columns 1-9:
Please review instructions carefully to ensure full credit. Please call (360) 876-7306 if you need assistance.

1. List position(s) chronologically by year. Use one line for each calendar year or change in status.
2. Circle Yes or No.
3. List start/end service dates.
4/5. List the number of days and the number of hours that constituted a full year (100%) for an employee in this position in your institution that year, i.e., 180 days at 7.5 hours per day.
6/7/8. List the exact number of days (rounded to ¼ day) and hours this employee was actually paid for services in th position. List total hours paid (Column 6 times Column 7).
9. Give any special comments or notations.

EXPERIENCE FROM COLLEGES

Experience from colleges can be credited when the position is equivalent.

- An instructor or professor would be equivalent.
- A dean would be equivalent – to an administrator.
- An office assistant would not be equivalent.
- Administrative Assistant? Would need a job description to tell.

Issue is most commonly trying to determine the denominator (what is full time) and the numerator (what did they actually work.

- Some colleges will say "if they instruct 10 quarter hours per quarter that is full time." But you still need to ask – is that for 3 quarters or 4 quarters.
- Often times you will need to personally talk to them.
- It can be helpful if you complete a sample verification form based on your conversation and send it to them; review over the phone/email and then have them correct it, complete it and return it to you.

SABBATICAL EXPERIENCE

When your union president takes leave and the union reimburses the district for the individual's salary and benefits that should be classified a sabbatical leave so you have the ability to count that year of experience.

S-275 INSTRUCTIONS

ISSUE: SKEA PRESIDENT LEAVE - Does it count for experience credit?

Pursuant to a phone conversation with Dave Hauntz today: It Can Count:

Under WAC 392-121-245 (4) (d) credit can be given for "sabbatical leaves." SKEA president leave can be considered a sabbatical leave. To support this the bargaining contract should refer to it as a sabbatical leave, with salary reimbursed by the union; or it should be referred to as that in the Board action to approve the leave of absence.

Student Intern Certificate Experience – YES!

(b) The administrator certificates for superintendent or program administrator will be issued to persons who meet state board of education certification standards for service in the roles of superintendent or program administrator.

(5) Educational staff associate. The educational staff associate certificate authorizes service in the roles of school speech pathologists or audiologists, school counselors, school nurses, school occupational therapists, school physical therapists, school psychologists, and school social workers: Provided, That nothing within chapter 180-79A WAC authorizes professional practice by an educational staff associate which is otherwise prohibited or restricted by any other law, including licensure statutes and rules and regulations promulgated by the appropriate licensure board or agency.

(6) Limited certificates. The following limited certificates are issued to individuals under specific circumstances set forth in WAC 180-79A-231:

(a) Conditional certificate.

(b) Substitute certificate.

(c) Emergency certificate.

(d) Emergency substitute certificate.

(e) Nonimmigrant alien exchange teacher.

(f) Intern substitute teacher certificate.

(g) Transitional certificate.

So this WAC recognized the Intern Substitute Teacher Certificate as a valid certificate and it is one of the certificates that districts use to authorize persons to substitute in a certificated role and substitute experience counts because it requires certification. So that is where I was going with it.

Further WAC 180-79A-231 Limited certificates. Includes this information:

(6) Intern substitute teacher certificate.

(a) School districts and approved private schools may request intern substitute teacher certificates for persons enrolled in student teaching/internships to serve as substitute teachers in the absence of the classroom teacher.

(b) The supervising college or university must approve the candidate for the intern substitute teacher certificate.

(c) Such certificated substitutes may be called at the discretion of the school district or approved private school to serve as a substitute teacher only in the classroom(s) to which the individual is assigned as a student teacher/intern.

(d) The intern substitute teacher certificate is valid for one year, or less, as evidenced by the expiration date which is printed on the certificate.

At issue for me was the fact that this substitute experience was prior to the issuance of the degree but I don't see any language anywhere that restricts that as the intro to WAS 391-121-254 states:

Certificated years of experience. Regardless of the experience factors used by a school district for the purposes of its salary schedule(s), as used in this chapter, the term "certificated years of experience" means the number of years of accumulated full-time and part-time professional education employment prior to the current reporting school year in the state of Washington, out-of-state, and a foreign country. School districts shall report all certificated years of experience including those beyond the experience limit of the school district's salary schedule.

So does this make sense that it is OK to grant that substitute experience worked under the Intern certificate?

Sherrie Evans

- Are you saying this person was employed in a position (student teacher?) which required certification?

Ross Bunda

- No they were employed as a substitute while they were doing their student teaching. This is how that certificate works. While they are student teaching the district can request this Intern Substitute Certificate. If the teacher is absent this person is then employed and actually works as a substitute teacher for that day and receives regular substitute pay for it (if they hold the certificate)

Sherrie Evans

- Here is the criteria you are citing:

(1) Employment in public or private preschools or elementary and secondary schools in positions which require certification where; ....

If the person was paid by Olympia School District, I can understand how this would be "Employment in public or private preschools or elementary and secondary schools". I'm still unclear how this would constitute employment "in positions which require certification." Do you have anything that indicates this employment required certification?

Ross Bunda

- Yes a person cannot be employed as a substitute without a state teaching certificate and the intern certificate is one of those valid certificates. RCW 28A.405.210

No teacher, principal, supervisor, superintendent, or other certificated employee, holding a position as such with a school district, hereinafter referred to as

"employee", shall be employed except by written order of a majority of the directors of the district at a regular or special meeting thereof, nor unless he or she is the holder of an effective teacher's certificate or other certificate required by law or the state board of education for the position for which the employee is employed.

Sherrie Evans

- What would the employing school district do if the intern did not have an intern substitute teacher certificate? Hire a substitute for that period of time (someone who had a certificate)?

  Ross Bunda

- You could not use that person as a substitute if they did not have the valid Intern Substitute Teacher Certificate. You would have to utilize the services of another substitute who did have a valid substitute or regular certificate. I would like to address this question in our workshop so I'm interested in your take on whether you can report this experience or not.

  Sherrie Evans

- Based on what you have stated, it would appear that this meets the criteria in WAC 392-121-264(1)(a), since it was "Employment in public or private preschools or elementary and secondary schools in positions which require certification." The specific employment would be employment as a (casual) substitute, not employment as a student teacher or intern. The provisions of WAC 392-121-264(2)(b) would apply to the calculation of this employee's certificated years of experience.

  The above assessment is based on certain assumptions, including:
  - Employers were [preschools or] elementary/secondary schools (e.g., Seattle Public Schools),
  - There was legal employment (compensation, etc.),
  - The employment (substitute teacher) required certification,
  - The employee had requisite certification (as required by the certification rule/WAC),
  - Employment was in a position(s) which required certification.

  Let me know if what you know contradicts the above. Also, let me know if I can be of further assistance in this matter.

  Ross Bunda

WHO IS THE EMPLOYER?

In this case the Dalles School District contracted with a different agency so the experience cannot be credited as regular professional experience. With the new ESA rules it is possible to credit up to two (2) years but the verification would need to come from Mid-Columbia Medical Center since they were the actual employer.

Subject: RE: Question on Experience

If the employer was not the private school, school district, etc., I would think the employment does not meet the criteria in WAC 392-121-264(1)(a) "Employment in public or private preschools or elementary and secondary schools in positions which require certification where...." Rather, I would consider that to be employment in business, private industry, etc., which provided services to the private school, school district, etc. Notice that the WAC wording uses the term "employment" and not the term "experience."

The question is (still), Who was the employer? That is, who was identified as employer on the employee's W-2, who withheld taxes, etc. and those things that employers do with respect to their employees.

The employment of these "independent contractors" would be similar to that addressed on page 12 of the 2006-07 S-275 personnel reporting instructions: "Experience as an independent contractor does not qualify as eligible certificated years of experience pursuant to WAC 392-121-264."

I don't see how that situation changes if an individual is reported on the S-275 report (as duty code 630 or 640). These "contractor staff" are not employees of the school district. Their compensation is not set by the school district, and these individuals are not included in the employing school district's salary compliance (RCW 28A.400.200) on Report 1803.

Subject: Question on Experience

It was good to see you at WASBO. I'm sorry I have not been able to be involved with the group on ESA experience but I know you have some good folks working with you.

I have a question for you based on some file reviews we have been completing for a district. They employed an individual under a personal services contract to perform duties in a certificated position (school psychologist). I have always referred to WAC 392-121-264 where it limits experience credit to "Employment in public or private preschools or elementary and secondary schools in positions which require certification where...."

In my noted I have written that personal service contracts should not be counted or reported because the employer is really the individual as their own entity or business. Mostly I have seen this where the personal service contract was through another agency that then provided service to the school district. In this case this person was actually employed by the public school district in a position that required certification so I am thinking that this might be reportable. In both Kent and South Kitsap we did not employ under personal services contracts so I'm not as sure of this as I would like to be so wanted to double-check with you.

I also wondered if it mattered if the person was reported on the 275 was being employed in a personal services

ESA EXPERIENCE

- Be careful with experience for ESA staff (psychologists, nurses, OT, PT). Generally speaking experience working in a clinic or some educational agency will not count outside of the new two (2) year ESA rules.

- If the experience is outside of the two (2) year eligibility, it only counts if 1) the agency actually is approved in that state to award diplomas and/or otherwise operate like a regular school or 2) the person was teaching (e.g. a Nurse who as an instructor of Nurses).

- The 275 guidelines provide some excellent examples of this rule.

- One of the key issues is obtaining adequate documentation of the actual work experience (also an issue for documentation experience for vocational instructors).

- You should seek assistance if you are not familiar with these rules.

- USE THE ESA TABLE as a document to note your work.

To Whom It May Concern:

Recently the Washington State Legislature passed legislation allowing Educational Staff Associates to count previous outside experience towards salary placement. However, they are very specific about the information required to document this experience.

Attached is a form requesting verification of employment for a former employee of yours.

_____ is currently a school _____ for our school district. We would appreciate your assistance in filling out this experience verification form for this employee and returning it to our Yakima School District's Human Resources Department.

If you have any questions, please contact Carol Toney at 573-7051.

We appreciate your time and effort. It will make a difference in the salary placement of the employee. Thank you for your help.

Sincerely,

Carol Toney
Human Resources Specialist

ADD OTHER EXPERIENCE FOR LESS THAN 1.0 FTE STAFF

When a certificated employee works less than 1.0 FTE in any given year you can credit them with additional certificated employment experience. This must be work that is equivalent to a certificated employee's regular base contract so TRI or supplemental contracts for TRI like work are not valid.

You can count summer school, substitute work, extra days performed in that capacity (counselor, librarian, etc.), and you can count extended school year program work (e.g. SLP, OT, PT, School Psychologist).

Use a regular verification form and complete it for your district for the work. Attach your documentation (e.g. time records from payroll). Then compute and add it to the record.

VOCATIONAL EXPERIENCE

For vocational teachers that either do not have a degree or the degree is incidental and you are reporting them as "V" – you may grant up to six (6) years of experience, BUT – this experience must be related to the assignment and it must be a management or management-related position.

Be sure to review the 275 rules for this carefully before granting such experience. Vocational staff can also have experience converted to non-degree occupational credits. Again these rules are specifically detailed in the 275 instructions. You should seek assistance if you are not familiar with these rules.

Employee Training- First Aid

When determining employee required training, there are two main entities that establish these requirements in the area of Safety and Health. In Washington State, Labor and Industries (LnI) implement the rules found in the Washington Industrial Safety and Health Act. WISHA rules applies only to employees—Department of Health (DOH) rules apply to children in schools and Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS) rules apply to licensed child-care facilities.

Following are current first-aid training requirements for school employees.

- Minimum qualifications of school bus drivers. WAC 392-144-102

Every school bus driver must meet and continue to meet the following minimum requirements:

(d) Hold a current and valid first-aid card or equivalent, which certifies that the applicant has completed a course in the basic principles of first aid.

- Career & Technical Education Instructors: WAC 180-82-340 Health/fitness -- All levels, primary. In order to receive a primary endorsement in health/fitness the candidate shall have completed a state approved preparation program in health/fitness which shall be comprised of… the candidate shall have demonstrated knowledge and skills in the following areas:

(1) Foundations of health and fitness.

(2) Safe living, including first aid and CPR.

Note: There is no mention of holding a current, valid first-aid card.

Another regulation that requires career and technology education (CTE) instructors to have a current, valid first-aid card is found in the "assurances" of the Carl D. Perkins Act. Assurance #3: "All vocational teachers in approved vocational programs (shall) hold a current first aid and CPR certificate."

- Health Teachers: WAC 180-82-340

WAC 180-82-340 states that in order to get a primary endorsement in health/fitness, the candidate must demonstrate knowledge and skills in … "safe living, including first aid and CPR."

Note: There is no mention of holding a current, valid first-aid card.

- Physical Education teachers: WAC 180-79A-380

In order to receive an endorsement in physical education, the candidate shall have completed the minimum course work credit hours in the subject area of physical education, including, but not limited to, credit hours in each of the following essential areas of study: Care and prevention of student injury including first aid.

Note: There is no mention of holding a current, valid first-aid card.

- Chemical Hygiene Officers & other Laboratory Science Teachers:

The WISHA Laboratory Standard, WAC 296-62-Part Q, Appendix A (Non-mandatory) states: "Personnel trained in first-aid should be available during working hours…"

Coaches:

The Washington Interscholastic Activities Association (WIAA) has established Rule 23 as a requirement for coaches.

23.2.1 ENTRY-LEVEL COACH REQUIREMENTS –

Described below are the entry-level standards for a paid and/or volunteer interscholastic coach for employment, progressive employment and continuous employment.

A. Hold a valid current First Aid Certification Card or have completed a School District approved Athletic Training/Sports Medicine course equivalent to the Red Cross First Aid Card training or be enrolled in that type of class. A Sports Medicine course is to include prevention of injuries, recognition of injuries, emergency on-site procedures including transporting the injured, and rehabilitation of injuries. If a Sports Medicine course is used to fulfill this requirement, it must be renewed every three (3) years.

B. Hold a valid current CPR Certification Card or be enrolled in a CPR Course.

- WAC 388-295-7050 Child Care facilities. Each employee and volunteer who has unsupervised access to a child in care must complete the following forms on or before their date of hire:

(6) You must maintain a system of record keeping for personnel. In addition to the other requirements in this chapter, you must keep the following information on file on the premises for yourself, each staff person and volunteer:

(e) Written documentation of trainings and meetings such as but not limited to:

(iii) Bloodborne pathogen training (including HIV/AIDS),

(iv) CPR/ First-aid,

School districts that have licensed child-care facilities require first-aid trained personnel.

- School Construction Workers—WAC 296-155

School maintenance persons (and others) are covered by this rule when doing work designated as "construction work."

WAC 296-155-005 (1) defines construction work as follows: "…any and all work places subject to WISHA where construction, alteration, demolition, related inspection, and/or maintenance and repair work, including painting and decorating, is performed. These standards are minimum safety requirements with which all industries must comply when engaged in the above listed types of work."

- WAC 296-155-120 First-aid training and certification (construction work)

This section is designed to assure that all employees in this state are afforded quick and effective first-aid attention in the event of an on the job injury. To achieve this purpose the presence of personnel trained in first-aid procedures at or near those places where employees are working is required. Compliance with the provisions of this section may require the presence of more than one first-aid trained person.

(1) The first-aid training requirements of the safety and health core rules, chapter 296-800 WAC, apply within the scope of chapter 296-155 WAC.

(2) Each employer must have available at all worksites, where a crew is present, a person or persons holding a valid first-aid certificate.

(3) All crew leaders, supervisors or persons in direct charge of one or more employees must have a valid first-aid certificate.

(4) For the purposes of this section, a "crew" means a group of two or more employees working at any worksite.

Note: The requirement that all crew leaders, supervisors or persons in direct charge of one or more employees (subsection (3) of this section applies even if other first-aid trained person(s) are available. In emergencies, crew leaders will be permitted to work up to thirty days without having the required certificate, providing an employee in the crew, or another crew leader, in the immediate work area has the necessary certificate.

Summary:

School bus drivers, personnel working in licensed child-care facilities and those performing construction work (see above) must have a current, valid first-aid card.

Coaches need to meet WIAA's Rule 23.2.1. A & B. That rule requires a current, valid first-aid card and CPR training or an equivalent that is detailed in the rule.

CTE instructors, Health and P.E. teachers, need to have completed CPR and first-aid training. The regulations do not specify that they hold a current, valid first-aid card. OSPI can best address that question.

Chemical hygiene officers and lab science teachers should have "personnel trained in first-aid available during working hours…" There is no clear explanation in the rule if the CHO must have that training or if it can be someone else working in the vicinity.

I am unaware of any DOH rule relating to first-aid requirements for students in schools.

DSHS has rules relating to Child-Care facilities as noted above.

These are staff required by regulation/standards but school districts can require it as part of a job description. This information should be in your written Accident Prevention Program. If you have additional questions relating to first-aid training requirements, you are welcome to contact me at 206 794-8692

WISHA+ Required Trainings for School District Employees

School districts commonly ask about required WISHA safety trainings for employees. Required trainings are dependent on specific job duties. The list below will meet basic requirements and encourage safe work practices. More extensive training may be required for specific tasks.

Training Required	Initially To All New Employees	Initially-Job Specific	Annual Retraining
Elevated Work Platforms - Powered		▲
Asbestos		▲	▲
Bloodborne Pathogens		▲	▲
Chemical Hazard Communication	▲

Washington School Personnel Association Presents:

Let's Talk "HIB" – Harassment, Intimidation and Bullying

Issues and Strategic Questions

We hear a lot of talk about "bullying." It's a hot topic! It's in the halls, on the playground, and buses, in social media. It's all too often in the media. In Washington, we hear talk about "HIB." So - what is that? And why do we have to know about it?

This interactive session will look at our state's anti-bullying – anti-HIB – law and the policy and procedures which we all live by. Participants will delve more deeply into definitions, spending time on issues such as harassment, hazing, and cyberbullying.

Participants will look at their obligations to address these behaviors and consider some best practices to share with staff. They will have time to work through some scenarios: What would you do if…? Finally, participants will look at some of the resources available for use across the state.

This interactive workshop will be presented by Mike Donlin. Mike is currently the Program Supervisor for the School Safety Center of the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Olympia, WA. He has taught at all levels and in different locations around the country and the world. Mike was with Seattle Public Schools for 30 years as a classroom teacher and program administrator, overseeing a variety of programs from ELL to technology, community technology, and bullying and harassment prevention and intervention. He oversaw the development of the widely recognized Seattle Public Schools Middle School Cyberbullying Curriculum and wrote a series of cyberbullying prevention modules for the Committee for Children's Steps to Respect program.

You don't want to miss this exciting and affordable human resources leadership professional development opportunity sponsored by WSPA.

Who should attend?
All WSPA members, HELP participants and HELP graduates

Monday, July 21, 2014 (8:00 a.m. to noon)
Puget Sound Educational Service District, Renton, Washington

The registration fee is $150 and includes continental breakfast, lunch and clock hours.
Please go to the WSPA Website at www.wspa.net

Here is what participants are saying about HR Boot Camp…

- This program stretches new HR administrators and is a great "refresher" for experienced HR leaders.
- Please offer again next summer. I loved it!
- Great overview of resources and topics. Thank you!

HR Boot Camp Program for School Human Resources Administrators

Date	Time	Topic	Focus / Outcome
Monday, July 21, 2014	8:00 am - 11:45 pm	Let's Talk "HIB" – Harassment, Intimidation and Bullying Issues and Strategic Questions	We hear a lot of talk about "bullying." We hear talk about "HIB." So - what is that? And why do we have to know about it? Participants will look at their obligations to address these behaviors and consider some best practices to share with staff. They will have time to work through some scenarios: What would you do if….? Finally, participants will look at some of the resources available for use across the state.
	11:45 am – 12:30 pm	Lunch	Lunch
	12:30 pm – 4:00 pm	ABC's of Human Resources & Personnel Operations Guide Review	A review of the school human resource department function along with monthly and annual duties/responsibilities
Tuesday, July 22, 2014	8:00 am - 11:45 am	HR 101: An Overview of School Human Resource Leadership Responsibilities	Basic understanding of Human Resources responsibilities for the following: • Hiring • Professional Development/Training • Performance evaluation, discipline, termination • Employee rights
	11:45 am – 12:30 pm	Lunch	Lunch
	12:30 pm – 4:00 pm	HR 101: An Overview of School Human Resource Leadership Responsibilities	Basic understanding of Human Resources responsibilities for the following (continuation of morning session)
Wednesday, July 23, 2014	8:00 am - 11:45 am	Human Resources Legal Writing	Participants will focus on legal matters to consider when documenting and addressing various employee issues. Examples of legal documents such as investigative notes, witness statements, letters of reprimand, probable cause letters, and executive summaries, will be reviewed and discussed during this session.
	11:45 am – 12:30 pm	Lunch	Lunch
	12:30 pm – 4:00 pm	Employee Misconduct / Investigations	Participants will develop a set of skills for investigation of employee misconduct and supervision issues, from the moment the allegation is made to the conclusion of the investigation.

Date: Thursday, June 25, 2015 10:09:34 AM

Greetings WSPA Members,

As many of you know we have a new website. As we work to bring the site up to speed I wanted to inform you of a new feature that is available to members. Each district can "link" their members together using a parent/child type relationship. I have already linked up all of the district member accounts, however anyone with more than one person in the district who has a membership can be linked.

Linking allows the main member (the parent), to register, add, remove, make changes to, view transactions of any other member at the district (the child) through this linking process. This also allows one person to register multiple members for events at one time and manage payments and invoices.

If you would like to have this linked relationship with the WSPA members at your district, please email me and indicate who the "parent" will be and I will link the remaining members. In the future, if you add a new member, you would simply have them register, or register them yourself using their email address, but then it is very important that you notify me so that I can link that person to you.

I look forward to hearing from you and look forward to working with you during the upcoming membership year.

Thank you,

Chris Callaham

Greetings WSPA Members,

As we continue to get familiar with our new website I have had a few members with questions regarding navigating their Member Profile to see their transactions and pay invoices. I have created a sample profile (attached) to guide you in logging into your profile and finding your invoices and viewing your linked members.

In addition, there is now a "how to" page on the website to answer some commonly asked questions related to registering other members for events. Please take a minute to review the attached sample Member Profile and to view the link below for any "how to" questions you may have.

Tie Breakers:
If more than one individual member has the same category ranking after applying the above provisions, the following tie breakers will be used (listed in order of application).

1. All members so affected will be ranked in accordance with the total number of credits above the BA degree as used for salary placement. If a member holds a Master's degree, the total number of quarter credits beyond the Master's degree, plus any quarter credits in excess of 45 between the dates of the Bachelor's and Master's degree will be used. Ten clock hours will be counted as one credit.
2. All coursework to be reported consistent with Article V, Section 13.
3. The number of categories to which each member belongs.
4. The summative evaluation rating in the most recent evaluation cycle.
5. Draw lots among the employees that tie. The drawing shall be scheduled at a time and place mutually acceptable to the Association and the District and shall be conducted by the President of the Board of Directors. Employees involved shall be notified in writing of the time and place of the drawing, at least forty-eight (48) hours prior to the time of the drawing and have the right to be present at the drawing.

We hope you are having a successful school year.

As we head into a critical season for collective bargaining in the spring of 2015, we wanted to make sure you were aware of a new training opportunity for school district bargaining teams. In partnership with the Washington School Personnel Association, our attorneys have developed a 1-day workshop entitled "21st Century Bargaining Skills." This six hour workshop will provide a good foundation for school administrators who may be sitting on a management bargaining team for the first time, as well as new tools for experienced bargainers to add to their toolbox of successful bargaining skills. We encourage you to consider sending your entire bargaining team.

The workshop will be held on January 23 at the Southcenter Doubletree in Tukwila. A flyer describing the workshop is attached, and registration is available at www.wspa.net.

As always, if you have any questions, please feel free to call or e-mail any of our attorneys for more information.

Greetings WSPA Member,

Our records show that your membership to the Washington School Personnel Association has expired as of August 31, 2014. If you have renewed and you are receiving this email please contact me at admin@wspa.net and I will research your account.

If you haven't renewed please take a moment to visit us at www.wspa.net and login using your username and password.

If you have registered to attend the upcoming Law Conference and indicated that you were a WSPA member, you will need to make sure and renew your membership prior to that conference.

Thank you and I look forward to working with you in the coming year.

Hi Mark,

Thanks for your note, we appreciate your feedback. The What Every Employee Must Be Told course was written by WSPA. Our editors built the course based on outlines provided to us by WSPA. I can note your observation so they are aware of the placement for the "Administering of Medicine" section. Again, we appreciate you taking time to reach out to us!
