In this training, participants will learn about the reasons why problem gambling is relevant to the field of domestic violence. During this training, participants will get an overview of the co-occurrence between problem gambling and being a survivor or perpetrator of domestic violence. In addition, we will discuss specific populations that are considered to have higher risks for both developing a problem gambling and being a victim or perpetrator of domestic violence. Participants will discuss the ways that the PGRC and DV providers can work together to address these issues on a local level.

Presenter: Ashley Owen, LMSW

Ashley Owen has been a Team Leader for the NYC Problem Gambling Resource Center since 2018 and an Adjunct Lecturer at College of Staten Island since 2021. She received her Masters' in Social Work from Hunter College in 2012 and is passionate about using education and storytelling as methods to raise awareness and reduce stigma about various social issues, including problem gambling.
