How wonderful that we have so many choices. I nominated Keri Blakinger, so of course I support her! Here is an article about her: <https://www.nytimes.com/2022/06/07/books/review/corrections-in-ink-keri-blakinger.html>
Upon reviewing Terrell's info, I would vote for him.
Thanks

Thanks to all who put this together. I think it's great that no one knows who these folks are. That's part of the point isn't it!! The people we forget or who we don't want to look at- or the simply overlooked/unseen. That said, I feel like it
Wouldn't matter which of these
Folks we chose!!

Thanks to all who put this together. I think it's great that no one knows who these folks are. That's part of the point isn't it!! The people we forget or who we don't want to look at- or the simply overlooked/unseen. That said, I feel like it

Wouldn't matter which of these

Folks we chose!!

Hi all -

We met last night and figured out the awardees for all but one category - formerly incarcerated. The problem - there are six nominations, I don't know any of them and so it was difficult to figure out.

Here are the names:

Stephen Liebb
James
King
James
Harvey Elliott II
JoyBelle
Phelan

Terrell
Thomas
Keri
Blakinger

I have compiled the nomination descriptions here...

Justice Awards Gala

Join us on Thursday, October 13 at Slim and Husky on Broadway in Sacramento for the Vanguard Annual Awards Gala honoring nine recipients of Vanguard Justice Awards (to be announced in the coming weeks).

There will be speeches, awards, food, an art auction from incarcerated artists and more.

The Vanguard is an innovative and cutting edge non-profit that trains dozens of court watch interns to monitor and report on court cases in at least eight California counties, as well as a criminal justice reform watchdog and news group that reports around the country on critical events and has a weekly podcast (Everyday Injustice) featuring leaders in the justice reform movement. Last year the Vanguard helped place at least 50 interns - most of them women of color in top law schools across the country.

Confirmed speakers so far are SF Public Defender Mano Raju and Emily Galvin-Almanza of Partners For Justice.

General admission is $100 but $20 are available. Sponsorships are beginning at $250.

Seating is limited - reserve your spot today.

Good morning,

On Saturday we passed the 16 year mark for local coverage in the Vanguard. We're doing more than ever before in covering the news and keeping local officials accountable.

Now you can help us continue that by becoming a sustaining donor - we are pushing for at least $25 per month, but give what you can.

Thanks!

Hi Mano -

Following up on my text, here is the formal invite.

David

On October 13, 2022, the Vanguard will host its annual Gala and Awards Ceremony, honoring nine individuals and groups who have been champions for criminal justice reform.

The event will take place at 6 pm (PST) in Sacramento, CA at a location to be determined. There will be speeches, awards, food, an art auction from incarcerated artists and more.

Vanguard is an innovative and cutting edge non-profit that trains dozens of court watch interns to monitor and report on court cases in at least eight California counties, as well as a criminal justice reform watchdog and news group that reports around the country on critical events and has a weekly podcast (Everyday Injustice) featuring leaders in the justice reform movement. Last year the Vanguard helped place at least 50 interns - most of them women of color in top law schools across the country.

We

are hoping you can join us as an honored speaker. Please let us know if you're available as soon as possible.

Dear everyone,

I hope this message finds you all very well. I am sorry for not being able to attend meetings in July and August, but I am 9 hours ahead of you right now and meeting times are extremely inconvenient for me. I will resume my help in September once I am back in California if that is ok with you.

Warm regards,
Juan Miranda

Every month we have been fighting the same battle since May - raise money to pay the bills. The economy is challenging. COVID relief is vanishing. We believe we perform a vital function in the community and we are asking our readers to help support us by either becoming sustaining or increasing their monthly contributions.

We have gotten to the point where about half our monthly expenses are covered by monthly donations. That's great, but it still leaves us with $4000 to $5000 every month to raise which is taking a toll.

Here's my ask: if you are not a monthly donor, become one. If you are a monthly donor and can afford to increase it - please do so. If you can't - no problem, I understand.

If you can make a one-time donation - please do so.

Hi Everyone:

Thanks for meeting with me today.

Here is the link to the Media Contacts List for event listing:

<https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/1LRSf5I53RSgsRlOCXezYsdEPM3Svs73HPKOpXccSG1M/edit#gid=0>

I haven't finished updating the event info I've gathered so I will finish that tomorrow.

I will also assign your fields to research by the end of tomorrow.

Thank you!

Best,

Liz

Hello All:

I would like to propose that we set up a separate meeting next week after the election to discuss the Awards Ceremony.

We will need to secure the venue, set up solicitations for award nominations, and I am working on a new fundraising plan to present during this meeting.

Please send your availability for anytime next week after the 7th and I will send out a link for this call.

Thanks everyone.

Hello All:

I would like to propose that we set up a separate meeting next week after the election to discuss the Awards Ceremony.

We will need to secure the venue, set up solicitations for award nominations, and I am working on a new fundraising plan to present during this meeting.

Please send your availability for anytime next week after the 7th and I will send out a link for this call.

Thanks everyone.

Best,
Liz

Big
Day of Giving This Week!

Thursday
is a huge day for the Vanguard. We have to raise money in order to continue to bring you the news that matters. This spring, we have had unparalleled coverage of the Yolo DA's race and the DiSC campaign. We have brought to you cover from the courts from across the state.

We
also continue to train the next generation of lawyers and journalists.

We
need you help - this week - in order to continue to bring this level of coverage.

Don't forget to join us for our online panel discussion on decarceration and public safety on the Big Day of Giving!

We will be joined by three panelists:

Pamela

Price - Civil Rights Attorney and Alameda County District Attorney Candidate

Bianca

Samuel - Deputy Attorney General, Investigations
Group of the Employment & Administrative Mandate Section

Jeffrey

Deskovic - Exoneree and founder of the Jeffrey Deskovic Foundation

General
admission is $25 and student admission is $15. Sponsorships are available starting at $100.

Jeffrey Deskovic Joins Us for Big Day of Giving, Discussion on Decarceration and Public Safety

by Lauren Smith

On May 5 at 6pm the Vanguard News Group is hosting a panel to discuss decarceration and public safety. We will be joined by three panelists, Jeffrey Deskovic, Pamela Price, and Bianca Samuel.

Jeffrey Deskovic, criminal justice advocate, Advisory Board Member- California It Could Happen To You, Global Advisory Council- Restorative Justice International, exoneree, and founder of The Jeffrey Deskovic Foundation for Justice, emphasized the importance of discussing decarceration, stating, “Decarceration is a very important subject because somehow we look at incarceration as the answer to everything; often shockingly long sentences, particularly in Southern States.

“During my wrongful imprisonment, I met people incarcerated for non-violent offenses; people over-sentenced—some for drug offenses that had more time than those imprisoned for violent crimes; the elderly whose medical needs were beyond the prison capacity to address, some of whom had debilitating illnesses; and prisoners who clearly were not the same people they were 10, 15, 20, even 30 years ago when they committed crimes,” he continued.

Deskovic further stated, “Clearly they could be safely released, and yet they were often denied parole over and over again with no end in sight. Not only is that inconsistent with belief in rehabilitation and a second chance, but it was devastating to their families and friends, while as taxpayers we paid money to incarcerate unnecessarily rather than having somebody pay into the tax base.

“As a society, we are additionally deprived of the difference-making efforts many formerly incarcerated people contribute upon release when deserving prisoners are unnecessarily incarcerated.

“My presentation will therefore focus on parole reform as a means of attaining decarceration: fair and timely parole, which would prevent the parole board from denying parole based only on the crime—something that could never change—but instead 1 additional factor would have to be cited; and elder parole, which would allow anyone who is 55—the age that DOCS considers a prison elderly due to the toll prison takes on the body—and has served 15 years minimum, to be considered for parole.”

If you want to learn more about decarceration and public safety, don't forget to purchase your tickets for the panel discussion on May 5 at 6pm. General Admission is $25, student admission is $15 and there are sponsorship levels starting at $100.

No worries, thank you.

I have a hard out at 7:30 PM because I have another meeting at 8 PM so I will cover my portion of the fundraising event quickly.

Mainly, we need board members to help out with promoting the event by submitting videos promoting the event, why it's important, and promoting the social justice certificate program. And drafting and sending invitations via LinkedIn- and I will demonstrate how to do this efficiently.

I'll follow up with Bianca for her headshot so we can update our flyer. David, if you can get a headshot from Pamela that would be great.

We really need more board engagement so please please please help us with promotions- the same three or four people cannot do this by themselves!

We also need to add to the agenda pre-planning for this year's awards gala if we intend to hold it this fall.

See you all tonight.

Best,
Liz

Hi Jacque,

I spent most of the afternoon watching this interesting session in Judge Caffese's courtroom today. I wanted to give you the raw notes I took from today's session (unedited). There were a lot of people in court this morning and afternoon.

Please critique my court observation notes. I am trying to become a better note-taker in the courtroom (and ultimately a better writer for court watch!)

Folks,

Don't hate me....

As David and some others know, I'm still recovering from cancer surgery last week. I have enough energy, it seems, to do the editing, but I am still limited in my capacity. In my younger years, I'd try to do this board meeting AND the editing tonight. But, I realize that, for now, I cannot. And maybe should not.

My round-about way of begging off tonight. Please someone send notes - not sure we've every done that??? We should.

Welcome new folks, and "have fun" tonight. 😊

Take care,

Cres

Hi Everyone,

David is not able to join us this morning. He will set up a time next week to meet with us all. He may not be able to come both days (Tues and Wed) so I will make sure next weeks training is recorded. Prior to next week please review the below trainings. Then go to <https://www.davisvanguard.org/category/san-francisco/> and read 3 articles. Next week you will be observing court and writing about your observations. That is why the program is called CourtWatch. Thank you. Jacque.

Hi friends it's only January 10 and the year is already off to a flying start. This year we need to build sustainability and that means getting people to sign up as sustaining members - monthly donors who can donate each month so we have certainty of funds.

The Vanguard is a unique organization - a non-profit dedicated to transparency in both local news coverage and local court coverage. We train literally hundreds of interns each year who go on to become lawyers and journalists.

Help us remain on the cutting edge by signing up as a sustaining member today - <http://davisvanguard.networkforgood.com>

Hey Everyone - Happy New Year.

We have our meeting already on Wednesday. Let me know if there are things you want to discuss. The year ended well. We made our December fundraising goal - actually surpassed it with just under $13,000 raised.

Also just got the new metrics for the year of 2021.

We had a new record 1.97 million visits.

That's up from 1.2 million last year and 400,000 in 2019.

Hopefully will see everyone on Wednesday. At that time, I will introduce everyone to Stephanie.

Hi there -

We are at the end of the year and we are coming up a little short for January's payroll and I was hoping you could help us out with a donation. We need to raise about $10,000 this month but ever bit that you can help out with that will greatly help.

Appreciate your past support.

To donate:

Go to: <http://davisvanguard.networkforgood.com>

Or by check: Davis Vanguard, PO Box 4715, Davis, CA 95617

Again thanks so much and whatever you can donate right now is greatly appreciated.

Hey board!

Hope you all had a great Thanksgiving. I enjoyed my four annual days off.

A few things - one is that on Wednesday at 7 pm is our board meeting. I will be sending out an agenda hopefully on Monday.

The second is that Tuesday is Giving Tuesday and we have created a last minute event - $25 a head for a webinar.

The Impact and Cost of Mass Incarceration.

A webinar featuring:

Jo Sorrentino - Executive Director of New Leaf Tree Professionals

Esteban Nuñez - Policy Director of the Anti-Recidivism Coalition

Michael Saavedra - Los Angeles Youth Justice Coalition

Aaron Brieno - Director of McGeorge School of Law Legislative and Public Policy Clinic

Hey board!

Hope you all had a great Thanksgiving. I enjoyed my four annual days off.

A few things - one is that on Wednesday at 7 pm is our board meeting. I will be sending out an agenda hopefully on Monday.

The second is that Tuesday is Giving Tuesday and we have created a last minute event - $25 a head for a webinar.

The Impact and Cost of Mass Incarceration.

A webinar featuring:

Jo Sorrentino - Executive Director of New Leaf Tree Professionals

Esteban Nuñez - Policy Director of the Anti-Recidivism Coalition

Michael Saavedra - Los Angeles Youth Justice Coalition

Aaron Brieno - Director of McGeorge School of Law Legislative and Public Policy Clinic

Link: <https://davisvanguard.networkforgood.com/events/36827-giving-tuesday-webinar-the-impact-and-cost-of-mass-incarceration>

Please promote to your contacts, should be a very interesting event as always.

Hi - watch this video where I discuss the event coming up on October 28.

youtube.com/watch?v=k2dnkuaKoOs

You can get your tickets still. Just $25.

The discussion will be online and available for just a $25 donation to help fund the Vanguard's continued operations.

The key question is what does reform look like? What changes can be made to reduce mass incarceration? How do we move forward on police reform? How do we reduce racial disparities in the system from policing although through the court process? And how do we combat the forces intent on stopping progress?

We have assembled a diverse panel to discuss what the future looks like:

- SF DA Chesa Boudin

- Gideon’s Promise Founder and Direct Jonathan Rapping
- BLM-LA’s Founder Melina Abdullah
- And USC Law Professor and author Jody Armour

Join us for this important discussion on October 28 at 6 pm.

Join us for an important discussion. In the last four years we have seen progress on criminal justice reform on a whole bunch of fronts to the election of progressive prosecutors looking to reduce the carceral state and the continuation of the movement toward police reform.

With the pandemic disruptions, an increase in the murder rate, and push back against some police reforms – we are potentially entering a crossroads. We have seen progressive prosecutors across the country face push back whether it's in Philadelphia or Virginia or St. Louis and this year in LA and SF, the elected prosecutors may well face recall efforts.

The key question is what does reform look like? What changes can be made to reduce mass incarceration? How do we move forward on police reform? How do we reduce racial disparities in the system from policing although through the court process? And how do we combat the forces intent on stopping progress?

We have assembled a diverse panel to discuss what the future looks like:

- SF DA Chesa Boudin
- Gideon's Promise Founder and Direct Jonathan Rapping
- BLM-LA's Founder Melina Abdullah
- And USC Law Professor and author Jody Armour

Join us for this important discussion on October 28 at 6 pm.

Hi board,

I know it feels like we just did our event (two weeks ago apparently) but we have another five weeks from today. Fortunately, it's basically a webinar and minimal work other than running it the day of the event.

However, we want it to be successful and we would like to sell about 400 total tickets (we have sold about 50 or so - so far).

So here is one simple way for you as a board member to help.

Lauren is going to be working with each of you to create a blast email that will go out to 3000 or people on Network for Good.

Step 1: Create a simple 200 word message

Step 2: Briefly record a video message (we will help you)

Step 3: Send out the email over Network for Good

Step 4: Share the email with people who are your contacts who you think might be interested

That's it. We will be helping to facilitate that because the sooner the better with this one.

Great. Tomorrow we are doing our boot camp on Zoom - 9 to 4 training for the next wave of interns. We are recording it so people can watch later.

Today we released the name of 27 Sponsors for the event. We have already surpassed our goals for the event, but we still have space for people to join us and still have room for more sponsors.

Your donation will help fund our continued operations and expansion of our court watch.

Because of our success, this week, we hired a new organizer to help us. But there is so much more we want to do.

So join us a week from today - September 8 at 6 pm in Sacramento.

Hello,

I wanted to personally invite you the 2021 Vanguard Justice Awards Gala. The event is being held at Wednesday, September 8 in Sacramento at the Darling Aviary.

We

have an amazing group of 11 people being honored including Alec Karakatsanis for his work on Humphrey and Lara Bazelon from USF. Both will be there in person. Lara just let me know that that she is bringing 15 of her law students.

The

proceeds for this event will go to support the Vanguard and its court watch program.

I am hoping you are able to come celebrate this amazing night with us:

General

admission tickets – tiny.cc/vanguard_gala

You

or your office can also be sponsors

Four of the progressive DA candidates will be there: Alana Mathews (Sacramento) Sajid Khan (Santa Clara), Pamela Price (Alameda) and Cynthia Rodriguez (Yolo). Plus two past candidates Dean Johansson (Yolo) and Genevieve Jones-Wright (San Diego) who just joined our board.

Chesa

Boudin is a sponsor and big supporter of the Vanguard, but can't be there because he is expecting his baby right around that time.

Below

is the full list of awardees. Really hope to see you.

Hi all,

I am really excited - tomorrow we will be announcing our 11 awardees that we decided on. We have an amazing amount of diversity and we look forward to the Vanguard Awards becoming an annual seminal event that marks the very height of accomplishment.

In the meantime, we are hoping you will purchase tickets and sponsorships that are still available.

Gala tickets: $100

Webinar tickets: $25

Both: $110

Sponsorships start at $250

General admission tickets – tiny.cc/vanguard_gala sponsor page – tiny.cc/gala_spons

Check the Vanguard tomorrow for the winners...

Thanks to Cecilia, Cres for helping me wade through this for an hour and a half. We had some very good nominations and reached some surprising results.

Lifetime

Achievement: Cruz Reynoso and Al Rojas

Civil Rights: Alec Karakatsanis

(Alec was the attorney who got the Humphrey Bail decision in California)

Elected

Official: Sydney Kamlager

(Senator who has pushed through numerous criminal justice reform packages)

Formerly

Incarcerated: Aminah Elster, California Coalition for Women Prisoners

(Wasn't on our radar before but she is formerly incarcerated, helped sheppard through legislation to give compensation to women sterilized in California prisons)

Law

School Award: Lara Bazelon, Director, USF Racial Justice Clinic

does amazing work at USF with the Racial Justice Clinic)

Organization:

Compassion Prison Project

(Compassion

Prison Project began as the brainchild of award-winning producer Fritzi Horstman, whose own childhood trauma helped shape its conception. Over the course of several months in 2019-2020, Fritzi and a dedicated team of facilitators and volunteers partnered with incarcerated men at a Kern Valley State Prison (KVSP), a maximum-security prison in Central California. Together, they created powerful tools to address and heal from childhood trauma.)

Wrongful

Hey everyone - I would like people's feedback on awards. I'm going to make my own proposal in a second. I will be emailing out some information. We can meet briefly at either noon or 5 pm today. Please let me know which works.

The plan is to announce tomorrow.

I would like to propose the following, for Lifetime Achievement that we issue a duel award to Cruz Reynoso and Al Rojas. (A) Both passed away this year after long careers. They both garnered national attention for their passing. At the same time, they were both personal friends. (B) Cruz Reynoso served on the Court Watch Board in 2014 which met publicly about 12 times that year. (C) Al Rojas worked closely with the Vanguard following the killing of Luis Gutierrez in 2009 in Woodland. (D) Cruz served in many capacities including on the California Supreme Court, UC Davis Law School, he oversaw the Pepper Spray Task Force and much more. (E) Rojas was a long time organizer working under Cesar Chavez and the united farmer workers.

Board members can put forward nominees in the discussion if they want. The public nominations were just a guide.

Finally, I've never heard of many of those nominated but that's OK. 😊 Still, I would have thought we'd have Sacramento area lawyers nominated. I have worked (with NLG and the ACLU here) with a few very good civil rights ones - from Mark Merin to Mark Reichel, who are always there to defend activists from antifascists to BLM, etc.

I know I've been consumed with some family health matters so didn't participate, but I would have thought they'd be nominated.

Great to have Genevieve on board, a SoCal voice. Thanks for joining us. Looking forward to seeing you in person and on Zoom. 😊

Hello Board,

As announced yesterday NJ is leaving us. It was a hard but understandable decision on her part.

On happier news, I want to welcome aboard our newest Board Member - Genevieve Jones-Wright.

In 2018, Genevieve was a public defender in San Diego who ran for DA. In 2019, she was one of the keynote speakers at the Vanguard annual event that year. She now heads up MoGo with whom we are partnering on a court watch in San Diego.

She is flying up here for the September event and I am really excited to have her dynamic personality on our board.

NJ..... you're a boon to the world in whatever capacity you appear. I will miss your reasoned thinking and your calm presence as well as your vast knowledge of so many things! I know this decision was not easy or quick. But I trust you to do the right thing and this feels right. Much love my sister.

I am reaching out to see if you would be interested in sponsoring our events coming up in September and October.

We actually have two amazing events this fall. One in person. One online.

IN person is September 8 in Sacramento. It is a Dinner/ Awards Gala. We are giving out nine awards. Plus we have Curtis Briggs speaking on the Chief Stankewitz case. Stankewitz - wrongly convicted - has been at San Quentin since 1978, on death row until a few years ago and is represented by Tony Serra and Curtis Briggs.

On October 28, we have a webinar featuring: Chesa Boudin (SF DA), Melina Abdullah (BLM LA), Jody Armour (Author and Law Professor) and Jonathan Rapping (Gideon's Promise).

I hope you can help support our efforts.

Gala tickets: $100

Webinar tickets: $25

Both: $110

Sponsorships start at $250

Nominate Award Winners/ We Need Sponsors For Sept 8 Event

The Vanguard is a non-profit news service covering criminal justice issues and the courts in California.

We have tremendously expanded what we are doing in the last two years. We now have court watch projects in seven counties. We are also going to be heavily covering at least six DA races for 2022 across the state. We now have 80 interns across the state that we are training, mentoring and supervising.

All of this of course takes money and resources. We have two events coming up this fall - an in person in Sacramento on September 8 and a webinar on October 28.

Both events should be amazing.

Details are in the links.

I hope you can help us out.

General admission tickets - <https://davisvanguard.networkforgood.com/events/31971-the-vanguard-justice-award-gala-general-admission> sponsor page - <https://davisvanguard.networkforgood.com/events/32033-the-vanguard-justice-award-gala-sponsorship>

We are now taking nominations until August 7 for nine categories:

- Youth Social Justice
- Formerly Incarcerated
- Organization Award
- Law School Award
- Wrongful Conviction Award
- Elected Official Award
- Distinguished Attorney Award
- Civil Rights Award
- Lifetime Achievement Award.

When we first started our event back in 2011, we had awards for groups like: the Northern California Innocence Project, the UC Davis Immigration Law Clinic, Cruz Reynoso and Jeff Adachi.

We even gave an award to the activists who were pepper-sprayed at UC Davis back in 2011. So send us your nominations today.

- Lifetime Achievement Award.

When we first started our event back in 2011, we had awards for groups like: the Northern California Innocence Project, the UC Davis Immigration Law Clinic, Cruz Reynoso and Jeff Adachi.

We even gave an award to the activists who were pepper-sprayed at UC Davis back in 2011. So send us your nominations today.

The Vanguard is a non-profit news service covering criminal justice issues and the courts in California.

We have tremendously expanded what we are doing in the last two years. We now have court watch projects in seven counties. We are also going to be heavily covering at least six DA races for 2022 across the state. We now have 80 interns across the state that we are training, mentoring and supervising.

All of this of course takes money and resources. We have two events coming up this fall - an in person in Sacramento on September 8 and a webinar on October 28.

Both events should be amazing.

Details are in the links.

I hope you can help us out.

We do have policy reviews (Michelle can you send to everyone again).

Dan proposes this for our article policy:

“ So I propose a Vanguard policy that you will publish no allegation that someone has committed a criminal act unless you have satisfied yourself as a journalism organization that there is proof that the accusation is true. That rule would pertain to what you have written, to what anyone on your staff has written, or what any guest columnist has written.

Such unproven allegations made by commenters should also be removed by a moderator as soon as possible. Any unproven allegation of a criminal act should be removed before publication— either by editing out a part of a written submittal for publication, or, if it at the core of a submission, by refusal of publication of the entire piece. If your own review or publication substantiates such a claim, you can and should publish the allegation. Also, if a law enforcement agency makes such an assertion, it would be reasonable to inform the public of the charges and to comment on them.

“That one sentence near the end should state, if your own review or investigation substantiates such a claim....”

I agree with Cres and Robert; that said, my edits and suggestions are below. Anytime there is a word/phrase in parenthesis it's my suggestion to eliminate that parenthetical content:

Guiding Philosophy: The Vanguard believes in (an)open community discussion, and therefore maintains an open submission policy.

However, with the growth of the Vanguard, (our) we are revising certain policies (need to be revised in order) to better fit our growing network.

Publication Guidelines:

The Vanguard believes in the open exchange of ideas and will not reject publication simply because of philosophical disagreement

The Vanguard will not publish pieces that, in our opinion, make personal attacks on private individuals

While the Vanguard will not factcheck all submissions, pieces that contain clear factual errors may be subject to rejection (or correction? Editing?)

Pieces that contain racist, sexist, or that otherwise defame or deride individuals or groups based on criteria such as race, gender, sexual orientation, ethnicity, gender identity (or the like) will be subject to rejection.

The Vanguard may limit publication of guest submitted pieces to one per month unless there is a pre-existing agreement with the Vanguard editorial staff. This especially would apply to opinion pieces but would not apply to multi-part coverage of news events or when the Vanguard solicits submissions. This also does not apply to Vanguard columnists who have a pre-arranged agreement for recurring publication.

The Vanguard will establish a standing subcommittee to review requests for publications and appeals of the publisher's rejection of pieces.

The Vanguard may reject any article that its publisher/ editor and/or board sees as inappropriate or detrimental to the (being? What????) or the Vanguard organization

- The Vanguard will not published => publish commercial pieces or sponsored content. Let's think more about what "sponsored content" means.
We want to nip in the bud the attacks we've weathered from those in the community who claim the Vanguard is bought and sold by developers, for example. How about a definition of what we think "sponsored" means? or else say something about sponsorship does not include ongoing and regular subscriptions to the Vanguard, or something like that?

From NJ: I agree, a clarification on "sponsored" is needed: as of now, it seems to eliminate any announcements made by groups, for example (political or not)...

Submission Policy:

- Once a piece is submitted to the Vanguard, the author relinquishes full copyright control of the published article to the Vanguard. The Vanguard will not depublish at the request of the submitter unless the publisher and board subcommittee agree to pull the article.
- The Vanguard will allow for edits and deletions by the author, you mean? and other minor changes after publication - at the discretion of the publisher and editors.
- The Vanguard reserves the right to retract or unpublish a piece at its discretion.

Timing:

- Pieces must be submitted by 6 pm in order to be considered for publication the next day.
- Publication is within the discretion of the Vanguard Editorial board, which (should) shall be based on factors such as, but not limited to: number of articles and relative importance of the submission, and other factors (delete) .shall we try to enumerate those? Either it's discretionary and we don't need to enumerate reasons, or we have reasons which some could challenge. I would rewrite this sentence to indicate that it's within the discretion of the Board. Why do we have to start down the road of providing reasons?

The Vanguard determines the timing and placement of a publication. Writers may request a date and location for the publication, but the final determination will be made by the Vanguard.

The board subcommittee will handle any complaints about the timing and placement of publication. (From NJ: said subcommittee should have a name that indicates its focus... "The board's Reviewing / Policies Subcommittee..."?)

Co-publication and Republication

The Vanguard can post concurrently with other publications

The Vanguard can re-publish from other publications with the permission of the author(s) and that publication

These decisions are made at the discretion of the Vanguard publisher

Roles:

Publication of articles is done by the publisher or his designates

Student Publications are run by those publications and posted by the editors of those publications. The Vanguard editor reserves the right to re-arrange, edit, or remove articles.

The Vanguard Editor/ Publisher will make all decisions regarding publication. "... regarding publications on all platforms" ? Clarify on which platforms, branch, or it seems to contradict the above statement...

- Writers and submitters may appeal any decision to the Board Subcommittee OK- what's our system for appeals? Do we have three persons who sit to decide whether the original decision wasn't proper? Have we thought about this?

The copy editor is authorized by the Vanguard to make corrections to grammar and spelling of any submitted piece.

The site moderator is responsible solely for comments and does not handle articles and their content.

Views expressed by the authors including the publisher are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the view of the Vanguard and its board unless otherwise indicated.

Who is the publisher? The founder of the Vanguard? The person hitting "publish" on an article?

I agree with Cres and Robert; that said, my edits and suggestions are below. Anytime there is a word/ phrase in parenthesis it's my suggestion to eliminate that parenthetical content:

Guiding Philosophy: The Vanguard believes in (an)open community discussion, and therefore maintains an open submission policy.

However, with the growth of the Vanguard, (our) we are revising certain policies (need to be revised in order) to better fit our growing network.

Publication Guidelines:

The Vanguard believes in the open exchange of ideas and will not reject publication simply because of philosophical disagreement

The Vanguard will not publish pieces that, in our opinion, make personal attacks on private individuals

While the Vanguard will not factcheck all submissions, pieces that contain clear factual errors may be subject to rejection
(or correction? Editing?)

Pieces that contain racist, sexist, or that otherwise defame or deride individuals or groups based on criteria such as race, gender, sexual orientation, ethnicity, gender identity (or the like) will be subject to rejection.

The Vanguard may limit publication of guest submitted pieces to one per month unless there is a pre-existing agreement with the Vanguard editorial staff. This especially would apply to opinion pieces but would not apply to multi-part coverage of news events or when the Vanguard solicits submissions. This also does not apply to Vanguard columnists who have a pre-arranged agreement for recurring publication.

The Vanguard will establish a standing subcommittee to review requests for publications and appeals of the publisher's rejection of pieces.

The Vanguard may reject any article that its publisher/ editor and/or board sees as inappropriate or detrimental to the (being? What????) or the Vanguard organization

- The Vanguard will not published commercial pieces or sponsored content.Let's think more about what "sponsored content" means.
We want to nip in the bud the attacks we've weathered from those in the community who claim the Vanguard is bought and sold by developers, for example. How about a definition of what we think "sponsored" means? or else say something about sponsorship does not include ongoing and regular subscriptions to the Vanguard, or something like that?

Submission Policy:

Once a piece is submitted to the Vanguard, the author relinquishes full copyright control of the published article to the Vanguard. The Vanguard will not depublish at the request of the submitter unless the publisher and board subcommittee agree to pull the article.

The Vanguard will allow for edits and deletions by the author, you mean? and other minor changes after publication - at the discretion of the publisher and editors.

The Vanguard reserves the right to retract or unpublish a piece at its discretion.

Timing:

Pieces must be submitted by 6 pm in order to be considered for publication the next day.

- Publication

is within the discretion of the Vanguard Editorial board, which (should) shall be based on factors such as: number of articles, relative importance of the submission, and other factors. shall we try to enumerate those? Either it's discretionary and we don't need to enumerate reasons, or we have reasons which some could challenge. I would rewrite this sentence to indicate that it's within the discretion of the Board. Why do we have to start down the road of providing reasons?

The Vanguard determines the timing and placement of a publication. Writers may request a date and location for the publication, but the final determination will be made by the Vanguard.

The board subcommittee will handle any complaints about the timing and placement of publication.

Co-publication and Republication

The Vanguard can post concurrently with other publications

The Vanguard can re-publish from other publications with the permission of the author(s) and that publication

These decisions are made at the discretion of the Vanguard publisher

Roles:

Publication of articles is done by the publisher or his designates

Student Publications are run by those publications and posted by the editors of those publications. The Vanguard editor reserves the right to re-arrange, edit, or remove articles.

The Vanguard Editor/ Publisher will make all decisions regarding publication.

- Writers and submitters may appeal any decision to the Board Subcommittee OK- what's our system for appeals? Do we have three persons who sit to decide whether the original decision wasn't proper? Have we thought about this?

The copy editor is authorized by the Vanguard to make corrections to grammar and spelling of any submitted piece.

The site moderator is responsible solely for comments and does not handle articles and their content.

Views expressed by the authors including the publisher are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the view of the Vanguard and its board unless otherwise indicated.

Secondly, I am working with a former board member on getting the certificate template sent to me. I've followed up to try to get it sent. Here is a copy of the program template (attached).

I'm working on venue- Drake's Barn had an ownership and management change.

I am now in touch with owners of the new rooftop restaurant, Darling Aviary who also owns Flamingo House.

I will send photos of the space at my new apartment.

I am also talking to Reichel about possibly using his home as he has a nice outdoor space too.

I'll send the task list after 4pm today.

One issue that I would like to think about - what to do with multiple part submissions - because two people have turned in three articles in a series. Sometimes that's alright, but this time it was too much. That would fall under the submission policy.

Hi Shamaila,

Unfortunately we are not accepting folks into our summer internship program it has already started. You can always apply for the fall or spring at www.sfinterns.com. We partner with a great organization through our SF CourtWatch program. I have included David and Michelle above. If you would like to reach out to them they still have summer opportunities but you'd need to get on it soon. Jacque

Subject: Summer Opportunities

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Hello, I hope this email finds you well and in the best of health. My name is Shamaila Ahmed, I am a rising junior at UC Berkeley, double majoring in Political Science and Legal Studies with a minor in Human Rights. I reached out to James Dopman at Berkeley High School (Law and Social Justice Coordinator) for summer opportunities and he gave me your contact information. I was wondering if you had any paid internships or work opportunities for the summer.

I am passionate about social justice and change in the community. I have worked with the Berkeley City Vice Mayor & Councilwoman, Sophie Hahn as a research assistant, where I developed a proposal to expand public shower resources in Berkeley. I contacted and collaborated with Lava Mae, a nonprofit that converts old buses into shower trailers, this proposal was passed last year. Additionally, I have interned for the District Attorney's Justice Academy (DAJA), at the District Attorney's Office in Oakland, where I was selected as one of 20 fellows across the Bay Area to participate in a 6-month internship paired with extensive leadership, professional, and policy development opportunities. Lastly, I was part of a program called the Center Of Youth Development Through Law at UC Berkeley Law School, where I was selected as one of the 20 fellows across the Bay Area. I took four classes at UC Berkeley Law School: Mock Trial, Race and Constitution, Work Ethic, and Restorative Justice. I am also fluent in Urdu, Hindi, and Punjabi.

My resume is attached, if I can provide you with any additional background or qualifications, please let me know. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Best,
Shamaila Ahmed | she / her

Hi Clio,

I am out of the office. I'll be back next Thursday. We do have openings in the Summer CourtWatch through the Davis Vanguard SF Courtwatch. Their contact info is included above. There will be opportunities to come to SF Court plus other opportunities if you join through them.

Mr. Wilson,

My name is Clio Petty, and I attended the Public Defenders workshop you gave with Ned Meiners and Mr. Dopman. I really enjoyed your presentation, and it was amazing to observe actual courtrooms. I am very interested in the Courtwatch internship you mentioned, and would like to express my interest in applying and being involved in this program.

Some background on me-I'm in Mr. Dopman's 11th grade Law and Social Justice class, as well as founder and co-captain of the BHS Mock Trial Team. I'm very interested in the field of law, especially on the defense side of things, and would love to get some real-world experience.

I am generally flexible, though I may have a handful of conflicts with the end of the school year (AP tests) and a summer college trip, as well as some volunteering, but I'm open to anything. Please let me know what steps I can take to apply for the internship!

Best,

Dear Public Defenders -

Today

we are hosting an event on Policing and Race in America. We have the Progressive DA from LA George Gascon and the only Chief Public Defender in the state who is Black - Brendon Woods to speak at this event.

The

Vanguard is the only daily online courthouse and criminal justice news source of its kind in California. We are a non-profit based in Yolo County founded in 2006. The Vanguard has an intern-based staff covering criminal justice matters and daily court news throughout much of California, including Sacramento, the Greater San Francisco Bay Area, the Central Valley, and Southern California.

Our

coverage brings transparency to the courts and helps amplify the great work of public defenders and other warriors for justice across the state.

But

we need the resources to continue to expand our fight. Some of your colleagues have supported us by purchasing blocks of tickets for the event.

Tickets are available for as low as $25 and we have matching donors set to match the first $4000 in contributions to this event.

Hi Everyone,

As you know CourtWatch covers a lot of our SF cases when allowed into the court room. Our CourtWatchers have been zoom locked out of the court rooms. Our SF Court Watchers have spent the last year covering Sacramento, Alameda, CoCo County, Fresno, etc. Those counties are in the modern ages and have been youtube streaming everything from arraignments to trials to the general public throughout the pandemic. That way if an elderly person, family member, Covid vulnerable person, community member, PRU contacts does not want to jeopardize themselves or others they can watch via video stream courtroom proceedings. Not so in SF. It is a joke. We are next to Silicon Valley and our family members, courtwatchers and members of the public must physically come to the courtroom. To that end we have consulted with K.G. She suggested we write a letter to the court our second (we wrote one earlier last year). Attached please find the 2nd letter. Also, attached please find a letter K.G. wrote on behalf of A.C.L.U. and others to the Chief Justice. The Chief Justice ultimately said the courts should do better.

We have attached an addendum here. We are respectfully requesting that Mano or Matt and Public Policy write a letter to the court. You could use the addendum attached. We will then ask Silicon Valley Debug and the FAC to do the same. Chesa had already agreed to write a letter as well. We think a letter from the Public Defender's Office, DA Office and Community Organizations will get some type of response.

Layla, David and or me can attend the next policy meeting and explain if needed. We would love some type of response from the Pub Def Office by 4/26/21 if possible. David and Layla are included on this email if there are additional questions.

Thank you. Jacque

Hi Layla,

Here are my thoughts –

I think as to your first comment, you should cite because it gives proof to this serious concern. As to your second comment, when you lay out how civil proceedings got better access, you are showing the discriminatory effects of how the court is selectively and qualitatively giving access. As for the third comment, any of the sections is fine.

Okay, going to call it a night now since it's getting late!

Pia,

Thank you so much for your edits, they were very helpful. I appreciate the time you dedicated to correcting and properly formatting the citations, they look great!

I resolved and applied the bulk of your comments and suggestions, however, there were three that I had follow-up comments on. I would love to get your opinion on my comments, however, I completely understand that this may not be possible with your schedule.

David and Jacque- you may want to look at those three comment threads before we send in the letter.

Thanks again!
Layla

Hello All,

I have checked the citations, corrected the case citations as applicable and formatted it as well. I agree with Jacque that everything doesn't need to be Bluebook but I put the cases in Bluebook citation since that might be important.

I have also added some editorial suggestions/ comments, and some more cases. Hence, it took some time. Feel free to use or ignore as you deem fit.

This is super important work. Let's continue the larger dialogue and have more activism on this front!

I am good with it. If our intended reader did not understand I would say flush out comment 2 more but our audience here is the court. If they do not get it we cannot help them. Thank you Pia for your fine read through. We'd love to have you help out with CourtWatch when you can. I just know in your current assignment they plan on keeping you really busy. Just an amazing letter you wrote Layla. We will miss you when you are gone. Jacque.

I think as to your first comment, you should cite because it gives proof to this serious concern.

As to your second comment, when you lay out how civil proceedings got better access, you are showing the discriminatory effects of how the court is selectively and qualitatively giving access.

As for the third comment, any of the sections is fine.

Okay, going to call it a night now since it's getting late!

Hi Layla,

Here are my thoughts –

I think as to your first comment, you should cite because it gives proof to this serious concern. As to your second comment, when you lay out how civil proceedings got better access, you are showing the discriminatory effects of how the court is selectively and qualitatively giving access. Pia,

Thank you so much for your edits, they were very helpful. I appreciate the time you dedicated to correcting and properly formatting the citations, they look great!

I resolved and applied the bulk of your comments and suggestions, however, there were three that I had follow-up comments on. I would love to get your opinion on my comments, however, I completely understand that this may not be possible with your schedule.

David and Jacque- you may want to look at those three comment threads before we send in the letter.

Thanks again!
Layla

I have also added some editorial suggestions/ comments, and some more cases. Hence, it took some time. Feel free to use or ignore as you deem fit.

This is super important work. Let's continue the larger dialogue and have more activism on this front!

Hello,

I have attached the updated letter which now cites the ACLU letter and addresses both Judge Feng and Judge Giorgi.

Let me know if you have any issues accessing the document.

Thanks!

Hello,

Thank you for your patience. Attached is the first draft of the letter to the court. Here are a couple of notes:

- Jacque, you asked me to remind you to forward this to the policy unit, and Carolyn
- I directly copied some sentences from the ACLU letter to the Judicial Council- if this is not okay I can reword
- I addressed the letter to Judge Feng, but I understand that it may need to be addressed to Judge Giorgi
- I assume someone will, but I would appreciate a review of my court case citations

Let me know if you have any questions or issues accessing the document.

Hello All,

The following attachment is a teacher's guide from the First Amendment Coalition on court access and its constitutional legitimacy as a First Amendment right.

Additionally, if you have any free time I found this recording to be very helpful (scroll to the bottom of page). The recording is from a recent discussion held by the FAC on court access, and specifically court access in relation to Minnesota v. Derek Chauvin for the George Floyd case.

Let me know if you have any questions or if you have any trouble accessing the attachments.

Thank you!

Hello Mr. Vanguard,

We are Court Watch PG in Maryland. We spoke to Rebecca yesterday from Court Watch LA about the issues we are faced with in virtual access termination in Prince Georges County Courts. We are running a campaign to stop any termination of this virtual access. We are now looking to take this campaign nationally because so many Court Watchers and community members are having similar issues, we are facing we heard. Rebecca stated that you may can connect us with some more Court Watch organizations in your area. Please let me know if that is possible?

We hope we can get letters from these Court Watcher Organizations pertaining to as follow:

1. The issues they been having with access to the court since covid.
2. Some have never had virtual access and need it.
3. Some have access but it will be shut terminated soon.
4. And other issues they been having court watching.

Also, below is the link to our petition take a look at it, sign it and pass it on if you are compelled and have time. Subjectively, at this point we want to take the campaign national.

I also wanted to let you know about FAC's March 24 virtual event on Open Courts & Racial Justice, when we'll look at Minnesota v. Chauvin, the George Floyd case, from a First Amendment perspective. We would appreciate any help getting word out.

Our live discussion takes place as the historic trial opens. In this case, the defense and media coalition were aligned on the issue of cameras in court. The event features Leita Walker, lead counsel for the media coalition who secured live broadcast of the proceedings, a very thorny issue, as you know!

Hi Vanguard board members!

As many of you know, folks in Davis have been pushing City Council to create an independent Department of Public Safety. Yolo People Power and Yolo DSA created an open letter to sign to support the creation of this department. This department would focus on expanding social services for the most vulnerable in our community and make unarmed personnel in charge of traffic enforcement, code enforcement, welfare checks, and more. This effort emerged from a call to re-imagine public safety in a more equitable and anti-racist form.

I was hoping the Vanguard board could sign on as an organization (and also have everyone sign on as individuals). So I am emailing to see if that's something the board could vote to add the Vanguard to? Please let me know if you would like to sign or not as soon as you can so I can count the votes!

This message is from outside the City email system. Do not open links or attachments from untrusted sources.

Hi All,

Here again is the spreadsheet of cases that I would love for you to fill out with any relevant information on cases where you've had clients re-sentenced (or denied).

As you know, there's terrible data kept in this state on the impact of SB 1437 and other measures. It's really important for our continuing efforts in Sacramento and elsewhere that we hear the stories and see the numbers of people who are being re-sentenced. Please just take a minute to add in cases if you haven't yet. I've also cc'd David Greenwald at the Davis Vanguard who is not on this list, but who you can reach out to if you have additional information. He's been taking the lead on all the statewide tracking.

Also note in the folder, someone input a detailed spreadsheet on one county (Alameda), so if your county has something like that, please feel free to upload it into the folder.

Be careful as always not to delete anyone else's work — add rows for anything you input.

Spreadsheet:

Looking forward to seeing some of you this weekend.

Best,
Kate

Hello all,

Been an unusually challenging week with no power or internet for several days.

Back online at least at the office.

The board meeting is on Wednesday at 7 pm. Will have an agenda on Sunday to send out. If there is anything you want to discuss, please let me know by then.

Thanks for working with our interns again this session. The interns assigned to CourtWatch are cc'd.

Noah is our McCarthy Fellow from USF. He is committed to working with our policy team, but thinks he may have time to also participate in CourtWatch. It may be a week or two before he knows how much work he will have from the Policy Unit, so I thought he should attend the training sessions and meetings for now

Hey all -

It's a new year. It's 2021. We just got our annual data - our web traffic tripled from 2019. Tripled. In year 14 of our existence. We have built this site and organization from a small blog on blogger software to a news organization that has based all over the state and is expanding. We launched our Vanguard at UC Davis last year, we'll be launching Vanguard at UC Berkeley and UCLA later this month.

To sustain this growth, we need your help - we need sustaining donors. $5 a month, $10 a month, $25 a month, whatever you can give.

Help support our work to hold local government and the courts accountable.

The

good news is that we have raised about $9000 this month. The bad news is that is well short of what we need. We need to raise another $3000 to meet our goal of funding our operations through March. Vanguard is Expanding Its Journalism... And We Are Getting Attention

Something we realized even before the pandemic hit - we were barely scratching the surface of our potential as a journalistic entity. The pandemic forced us to change forever how we operate - it allowed us to figure out that we were not bound to a few counties, we could reach anywhere the internet could let us go.

And so as we gained capacity to meet with interns and young writers, to better supervise and mentor them, we started exploring ways to expand their training and expand their experience. One of the big areas that we experimented with was longer form journalistic assignments. Not simply having them cover court proceedings or press conferences or webinars, but actually do journalism.

That effort has spawned a few very good articles and this week, we got some awesome recognition.

One of them, the story of Paul Redd, he spent 44 years in prison, 14 of those years in solitary confinement and then was released through 1170D. Ruby Wilks, a student at USC, who was in the San Francisco Court Watch program wrote the excellent piece.

You can read it here.

That article will be republished in a condensed version in the San Quentin News in January or February.

A second article has also received high praise - the article on Douglas Stankewitz or "Chief." He has been at San Quentin for 42 years and the article by Roxanna Jarvis at Berkeley and Cailin Garcia at UCLA has attracted a ton of attention.

Yesterday I got an email from the producer of the Innocence Files, he is interested in the story and was praising of our article.

You can read it here.

We have already made the decision that we will now require all interns to do a longform article of this sort during their internship. This is a way for them to gain valuable experience no matter what they are going to do and it is a way for us to produce the kind of quality journalism that we are increasingly striving to produce.

I hope you will support our efforts now and in the future. Thanks for reading.

Dear Friends,

This has been an extraordinary year - it's hard to imagine in fact how tough it has been for most in our community and our nation. At the same time, it has been a tremendous year of growth.

As we have been trying to raise the funds necessary to complete our growth, I have been touched tremendously by some of the outpouring of support.

Acts large and small touch my heart.

I share some with you...

I opened a letter this week, a check from a Sacramento area attorney with the message: "I came across your site while researching something on the internet. I was favorably impressed and I noted your appeal for assistance."

Amnesty International Sacramento: "Thank you Vanguard for your informative articles. You help us with our local human rights advocacy work! --Amnesty International Sacramento"

A long time monthly donor yesterday in response to our Hannukah message upped their monthly donation by $18 -
"Appreciate the focus on social justice, equity and criminal justice"

"Read article by Roxanna Jarvis and Cailin Garcia. Excellent coverage of Alexandra Cock to organize and pursue case."
- They signed up as a $10 a month monthly donor.

We have done some amazing things this year and it warms my heart these messages of support.

We do things here on the cheap, but it still takes money and resources to pay the bills.

So consider becoming a monthly donor at $5, $10 or dare I suggest $18 per month:

<http://davisvanguard.networkforgood.com>

Or you can donate to our year end campaign: <https://davisvanguard.networkforgood.com/projects/112639-year-end-campaign>

And be sure to leave a message to tell us why.

Hi Jacque,

You've been such a great supporter of bring transparency and accountability to local government, and I want to let you know the difference you've made.

Just this year, your generosity made it possible to reach more than fifty undergraduates looking to start a career in law or journalism in our community -- now more than ever we need your support to overcome obstacles and to continue inspiring future generations of college students.

Thanks to you and other generous donors, so much has been accomplished.

And with your help, we can accomplish so much more in 2021! We'll move forward together to create a broader vision for more than fifty undergraduates, looking to bring transparency, accountability, and fairness to our community, who need us to:

- Promote students to be involved in their community by reporting on local news;
- Hire more staff who can help cover news in the San Francisco Hall of Justice; and,
- Expand The Davis Vanguard at UC Davis, which is headed by a diverse group of female journalists and activists from UC Davis.

As you consider your giving plans for year-end, we hope that you will continue to support our efforts through a gift to The Peoples Vanguard of Davis Inc.

With gratitude,

Four Goals For 2021...

I'm sure a lot of people are ready to s-kick 2020 out the door. And we are indeed less than four weeks away from that happening. As I have pointed out on here and elsewhere however, from the Vanguard's perspective 2020 was a great year. Not sure how much people appreciate how far the Vanguard has moved forward.

This past week, the Vanguard board met and we have created four goals for 2021.

First, we are renewing our commitment to local coverage in Davis and Yolo County. Our goal is to have 5 to 7 articles based on local issues. Some of those will be through the Davis Vanguard, some through the Vanguard at UC Davis and some through Yolo County Court Watch. We believe that achieving that goal will present our local community with an unprecedented scope of local coverage.

Second, we are committed to expanding our court watch further. We have been making plans and some limited forays into Los Angeles County. That would be in addition to our existing programs in Yolo, Sacramento, and San Francisco.

Third, with the creation of the club at UC Davis some of our interns in places like UCLA are interested in creating the same kind of organization on their campuses.

Fourth, perhaps an underappreciated aspect of the Vanguard is our coverage into the prison system. Aparna Komarla and her team of interns have moved from a dashboard covering CDCR and the jails to doing investigative work. I have pushed them to go further and start covering broader issues of prison and jail conditions. We have the contacts and the infrastructure in place now to do exactly that.

Those are our goals. But I do want to hear from our readers - what do you want to see?

But we can't do this with your help - we need to raise the money this month to go into the new programs next month. So donate to our year end fund drive.

Hi Jacque,

As you've heard from me, and possibly others -- today is #GivingTuesday -- a day to celebrate the power of collective generosity.

And thanks to a generous donor, all contributions made by today by midnight will be matched—that means your gift will be doubled!

However, today isn't the only day to give, but it sure is a good one!

You've given generously before, thank you!

If you can give again today to support interns, like Victoria and Danae, to continue their journalism career, thank you!

Dedicated supporters like you have already raised a significant amount this year so far!

Will you join them once again?

A gift of $50 will make a world of difference for Victoria, Danae, and the other incredible interns at The Davis Vanguard.

Remember, any gift made today will be doubled thanks to a generous donor.

Can they count on you?

Hi Jacquie!

Good morning.

As we've learned the art of physical distancing and maintained health and safety guidelines these past few months, one thing's become abundantly clear to me:

We need connection. We are interdependent. We collaborate and work together even while we stand apart. We need one another because we are stronger together.

Sometimes nonprofit work can also feel isolating, like we're facing a giant mountain alone.

But on #GivingTuesday, nonprofits across the globe show the power of collective generosity in the social sector. To declare we are NOT alone!

Remember Remember Ajay Dev's story of being wrongfully convicted, Linh Nguyen's experience as the co-editor-in-chief of The Davis Vanguard at UC Davis, and countless other Vanguard inters? They have been empowered by the generosity of others to continue their work with the Vanguard.

You can feel the power of being one among millions creating change, by making a gift to The Peoples Vanguard of Davis Inc today.

And we'll witness the power of collective generosity as, together, we change the world.

All donations made by December 1 will be matched!

DONATE NOW

Let's be the change,

David Greenwald
Director of The Davis Vanguard

P.S. Please share our #GivingTuesday posts on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter to encourage your friends and family to feel the power of collective generosity.

Hi Jacque,

I'm reaching out today to tell you about Ajay Dev and to ask for your support of our Giving Tuesday Campaign.

Ajay Dev was sentenced to 378 years in prison for allegedly raping his adopted daughter. What has emerged over the last five years - in part through our reporting and in part through the great work of the family and post-conviction counsel - is evidence that the key pre-text phone call was allowed to be interpreted by the complaining witness on the stand at trial - and was misinterpreted.

Meaning the key evidence used to convict him was falsified.

With your gift today the Davis Vanguard its effort in investigating cases like Ajay's and bring transparency, accountability, and fairness to local government.

"David and his team of interns read through thousands of pages of my trial transcripts and even produce a three-part video with limited funds to inform the public about the facts of my case..."

This is what court watch does... they make sure that the system is being treated fairly ... their voices echo loudly and give the public hope that people who are experiencing injustices are not forgotten, like me.

I am personally grateful to Mr.Greenwald and the Davis Vanguard for keeping my case alive..."

You can help people like Ajay receive justice!

Thanks to a generous donor, all contributions made by December 1 will be matched -- that means your gift will be doubled!

With your generous support the Vanguard hire more staff members to encourage and promote this investigative journalism experience to bright young college students who will grow as writers and journalists while learning about the political issues surrounding our criminal justice system.

Remember, any gift made today will have TWICE the impact thanks to a generous donor.

Can Ajay Dev count on your gift of $50 today?

COUNT ME IN!

With gratitude,

Hey Jacque,

Because of your generosity, I know you care about bringing transparency, accountability, and fairness to local government.

At this moment, as the world continues to deal with a global health crisis, an economic crisis, and rampant injustice, The Peoples Vanguard of Davis Inc will be joining others on Giving Tuesday, December 1st to show the power of good.

Together we can raise awareness of the systems of oppression and neglect that leave too many behind -- and demand that our work continues.

Please get involved.

You'll feel great knowing you're part of a worldwide movement working to make a difference -- and you won't even have to leave your couch or comfy chair.

Let's show the power in numbers:

- Post a note or picture on your social media page and tag our Facebook, Instagram, Snapchat and/or Twitter accounts.
- Share a photo of yourself with the hashtag #unselfie that says why you support us! The social sharing will help broaden awareness for our cause.
- Contribute to a cause you care about. Click here to donate to The Peoples Vanguard of Davis Inc.

All donations made by December 1 will be matched.

Won't you join us -- and the generous individuals across the globe -- as you have before?

Thanks in advance.

Kind regards,

David Greenwald
Director of The Davis Vanguard

P.S. When you make a gift, please post an #unselfie tagging us and share a note about why you support The Peoples Vanguard of Davis Inc.

Dear Jacquie,

I'm so grateful for you. Through your generosity, we have been able to offer our internship program to more students all across California and we have been able to establish The Davis Vanguard at UC Davis which is headed by an all female editorial board this past year. Without you, we simply would not have reached as many promising college students during this difficult time.

Thanksgiving is a time to reflect, in gratitude, for those who make a difference in our lives. So, I thank you, on behalf of The Peoples Vanguard of Davis Inc and wish you and your loved ones:

Happy Thanksgiving!

Hi Jacque,

I'd like to tell you about Ajay Dev.

Ajay Dev is not only a supporter of the Davis Vanguard and but also victim of wrongful convictions in Yolo County.

Ajay Dev had been sentenced to 387 years in prison for a crime that he was wrongly accused of. Dev was accused of raping his adopted daughter; however, what has emerged over the last five years - in part through our reporting and in part through the great work of the family and post-conviction counsel - is evidence that the key pre-text phone call was allowed to be interpreted by the complaining witness on the stand at trial - and was misinterpreted.

Meaning the key evidence used to convict him was falsified.

We could help Ajay and other in similar situations because of your generosity.

Because of you and other generous donors, the Davis Vanguard offered Dev the opportunity to have his story heard by hundred of readers throughout California and thus his case gained the public attention it deserved.

We don't know who will be next. But we need to be ready!

Just this week our investigative reporting team published a critical news article on Douglas Stankewitz, who was wrongly convicted in 1978, spending much of that time on San Quentin's Death Row.

Read Douglas Stankewitz's story here: <https://bit.ly/3kH3XHk>

Your gift today will help continue the Vanguard's effort in investigating cases like Ajay's and Stankewitz's.

Thanks to a generous donor, all contributions by December 1 will be matched—that means your gift will be doubled!

Through the generous support of donors, we will hire more staff members to encourage and promote this investigative journalism experience to bright young college students who will grow as writers and journalists while learning about the political issues surrounding our criminal justice system.

That's why I'm asking you today, Jacque, will you make a gift of $100 to help continue the Vanguard's effort in investigating cases like Ajay's and bring transparency, accountability, and fairness to local government. Remember your impact today will be doubled on December 1.

Can people like Ajay Dev and so many others count on your support today?

Subject: RE: Vanguard - Sac 15 - DUI Case - Derrick Tat 11/5

Date: Friday, November 6, 2020 at 5:30:16 AM Pacific Standard Time

From: Wilson, Jacque (PDR)

To: Derrick Tat, cresvellucci@gmail.com, mlagos@davisvanguard.org, David Greenwald

Derrick I liked the article my comments are in parenthesis () below. I assume this was a preliminary hearing where the DA must prove 1) by probable cause that a crime was committed and 2) that the D committed the crime. The hearing may have been a 1538.5 or motion to suppress or a combination of preliminary hearing and 1538.5. But maybe for the readers that is too much detail. Also, in every DUI the police always write the same objective symptoms. This is true whether drugs or DUI. If alcohol it is usually red watery eyes, slurred speech, D stumbled and failed Field Sobriety Tests. Overall, great job and I enjoyed the read.

Defendant Charged with DUI Found in Possession of Meth

On April 2, 2019, in Sacramento County, Eric Olsen was charged with driving under the influence. Today his hearing (what kind of hearing – preliminary hearing, motions to suppress, etc.) continues appearing via zoom.

Around 11:30pm that night, off duty police officer, Chad Sturgis was driving as he noticed a silver truck that was struggling to stay in their lane. The vehicle was swerving between the two lanes and almost hitting other vehicles, including his. Officer Sturgis stayed about two to three car lengths behind him. He states that, “the vehicle kept braking, speeding up, and braking again.”

Sturgis believed that the driver was under the influence and contacted 911.

The vehicle then made a turn and parked on the side of the road. The driver and passenger stepped out of the vehicle. Officers arrived about a minute later. Sturgis relayed the information to Officer Austin.

Officer Austin then went over to question Olsen, who was the driver. His first impressions of Olsen was that “his facial features were flaccid, eyelids were drippy (drippy or droopy), and looked like he was sleepy. Once he was asked a question, he looked like he woke up to answer, and then looked sleepy again.” His features indicated that he was under the influence of various substances.

When searching, Officer Austin found a folded up dollar bill with a white crystal inside and was confirmed that it was meth. Then Officer Austin went to search the vehicle and found another baggie of a brown substance on the driver side door pocket, also identified as meth. Officer Austin states that, “Drug users tend to keep their drugs on or near them.” It can be thought of like money, where people usually wouldn’t give (other – delete) their money to other people to hold onto.

Officer Austin then conducted a DUI investigation through field sobriety tests to check his ability to listen, follow directions, and multitask. He asked Olsen where he was coming from, where he was going to, and what he was doing. His responses were very slow and delayed.

The next test was to stand on one leg for 30 seconds to test their balance. Olsen was only able to stand on one leg for about 21 seconds before telling the officer that his ankle was hurting.

Lastly, he conducted a preliminary alcohol screening device to test Olsen's blood alcohol content that resulted in 0%. Although his blood alcohol content was at 0%, Olsen's driving and mannerisms led Officer Austin to believe that he was under the influence of something else.

Judge McCormick believed that there was probable cause for the arrest. Since Officer Sturgis was off duty, he did the logical thing to call 911 when there is a risk to public safety. Officer Austin believed that Olsen was under the influence because of the conjunction of driving, facial features, and responses and answers. The DA's offer (to resolve the case) was to 30 days suspension, 3 months in the first offender program, and 3 years of informal probation.

Further proceedings set for January 28, 2021.

Hello Courtwatch Team,

I just wanted to reach out and remind everyone about a few things, because there have been some issues.

Everyone is required to write at least one article per shift. As we have discussed on our Zoom calls, they do not have to be long extensive articles if there was nothing overly exciting, but you can always find something to write about. If you have any issues or trouble finding something to write about, Michell Lagos can give you some guidance.

Additionally, everyone is required to write a summary of what you observed and send it to the person of the day and Michelle by the end of your shift. The person of the day will be listed on the Courtwatch googledoc: https://docs.google.com/document/d/1VSXi5sfW_dXdiZP4ND2yrmZKO11oauzBGHwe1M2riJE/edit

Hello Jacquie,

A few days ago, I shared a note from Linh, our interns and editor-in-chief of the Davis Vanguard at UC Davis, about the impact the Davis Vanguard has had on her just this year.

Today, I'd like to share the story of Ajay Dev who's case helped shape and advance the work of the Davis Vanguard.

In July of 2009, I received a call from a family whose loved one was convicted of a horrific crime. Skeptic and unfamiliar with wrongful convictions, I nevertheless went to the sentencing hearing in Yolo County in August and was stunned when Ajay Dev received a 378 sentence for sexual assault.

What has emerged over the last five years - in part through our reporting and in part through the great work of the family and post-conviction counsel - is evidence that the key pretext call was allowed to be interpreted by the complaining witness on the stand at trial - and was misinterpreted. Moreover numerous witnesses have come forward to write declarations that the complaining witness acknowledged she had fabricated her story.

Because of your kindness, the Vanguard created the court watch project which grew from a small project with five interns, over the last ten years, into a multi-county project with dozens of interns whose mission to expose everyday injustices in the courts and to bring more awareness into cases like Ajay Dev's.

This wouldn't have been possible without your generous support! Thank you!

I'm asking you to take a moment to think about cases like Ajay Dev and of the interns who work hard to find evidence to help prove his innocence. Right now, several other individuals, like Ajay Dev, are struggling to prove their cases have been mishandled and need us to help bring their stories to the public.

To continue helping the Davis Vanguard spread awareness and expose injustice in the court system please donate now!

<https://davisvanguard.networkforgood.com/projects/112639-year-end-campaign>

I'll be sharing more of Ajay's stories in the coming weeks; until then, thanks for everything!

Hi All,

Attached is the information about the 1170(d) clients I said I would look up. I was unclear about who I should send it to so I included David, Kathy, and Jacque.
Please let me know if there are any issues or if you need anything further for this project.

Subject: Jacqu, do you want a trick or a treat?

Hi Jacque,

I think most of us prefer treats over being tricked, so I'll get straight to the point: You rock! And I'd like to share a little treat with you -- a note from Linh Nguyen!

"Thank you for your generosity!

Because of you, I was given the opportunity to write and develop those skills needed to pursue a career in journalism, as well as build a strong portfolio. Ten months later, my success and learning continues to grow as I take on more projects and leadership opportunities and expand my knowledge on what is happening in the topic of criminal justice and politics.

I can say that applying for this internship is one of the best decisions I've made in my undergraduate college career. If I ever go on to being an award winning journalist, I will credit the Davis Vanguard for kickstarting my career.

You've been such a great supporter of the Davis Vanguard, I wanted to let you know the difference you've made."

Just this year, your generosity made it possible to reach more than 70 bright college students like Linh in our community - college students who have been able to grow as writers and journalists while learning about the political issues that surround our criminal justice system. This year we have also;

- Established the Davis Vanguard at UC Davis - a student-directed online news publication which is headed by a diverse group of female journalists and activists from UC Davis;
- Encouraged and promoted an online internship for over 70 interns throughout California, from UC Davis to UCLA, to report on local news and gain experience in the journalism field;
- Designed a CDCR dashboard system to track the number of COVID-19 cases in over a dozen prisons throughout California; and
- Interviewed a handful of prominent figures involved in reformatting the criminal justice system, such as Senator Bradford, Yolo County Public Defender Tracie Olson, and Sheriff Clayton of Washtenaw County.

We could never thank you enough for the part you played in making all this possible.

Your support has been a huge treat!

Sincerely,

David Greenwald

Maybe one of the SF Interns could follow up on this. I know I fought this battle in Davis - last in 2015 but ultimately won in 2017.

Last week, the SF Police Commission adopted an important change to SFPD policy which now forbids an officer from viewing their own or another officer's Body Worn Camera recording prior to giving a statement in cases of officer involved shootings (OIS) and in-custody deaths. The goal of this policy is to ensure more integrity to these investigations.

In light of the SFPD's fatal shooting over the weekend, this new policy could not have come soon enough.

Our office has been urging this important policy change for nearly three years, and I'm grateful to Reba Young of the San Francisco Public Defender's Office, who is part of the The Bar Association of San Francisco Criminal Justice Task Force and is actively engaged in revising the SFPD's policies. I know that we will continue to advocate to expand this new policy to other types of cases.

Hey Mengyu!

Michelle here.

Have you been added to the GroupMe yet? Also, have you looked over the google drive link? I believe Matt sent it out to everyone before yesterday's meeting. If not, I'll include it here in this email. You can find a few training videos there as well as the guides for the court watch. We will also have a zoom training session Friday at noon. I will send out the link for that later today.

If you have any questions about the guides or videos, please let me know, and once you make the GroupMe please send me your phone number and email so I can add you to the chat.

Hi Jacque,

We talked on the phone today about me going through training for court watch this fall semester. However, I have class from school from 6:30 to 9:10 pm for the next month; and I have another mandatory lecture from 4:30 to 6:10pm every two weeks. I am wondering if there is any way for me to catch up the Monday night training on my own time.

Best,

Welcome Fall Interns!

[Post-bars - Good luck on the October bar!! We will have a separate orientation for you in October. Please make sure you complete the 2020- Session 3 registration (even if you are a returning and completed it for an earlier session.)

We look forward to working with you this session! We had a very successful REMOTE summer internship program. The attorneys, staff and clients appreciate the extra support and energy the virtual interns bring to the office. The interns - although not the experience that many signed up for - learned a lot.

This session will continue to be a remote internship. All interns are required to attend a Tuesday morning Zoom intern check-in/training from 8 AM- 9AM. If you have a school conflict at that time, you may watch the recording and arrange for a short personal weekly check-in with Kathy Asada. Interns may not be in the office without specific written permission from Jacque Wilson. The number of staff in the office each day is strictly limited. Everyone in the office must follow office/city protocol and be on a list for contact tracing purposes.

The Zoom orientation is scheduled for Tuesday September 8 (Monday, Lab Day is a Holiday). The orientation will start at 8 AM - the time for the regular weekly check-in and continue to Noon. There will be a break for lunch and more training in the afternoon from 1 PM-3 PM. If you have school and are available for the orientation after 9 AM, please let us know and we will send the link to the recording.

Please send any forms that need to be completed by the office to pubdef.internship@sfgov.org. That email is checked daily. Please feel free to send a text message to Kathy Asada (415) 518-3336. Text message is also the best way to contact Jacque Wilson (510) 289-2178.

Vanguard 10th Annual Event - Thursday

August 13 from 6 to 9 - via Zoom

Cost: $50 suggested donation but a variable rate ticket available

Topic: Wrongful Convictions and Prosecutorial Tunnel Vision

Mark Godsey, Director of the Ohio Innocence project is the keynote speaker and will be talking about his book "Blind Injustice" as well as the case of the East Cleveland 3, of whom Laurese Glover will be on hand and talk about the 20 years he did in prison before being exonerated in 2015.

Also speaking, Jeffrey Deskovic, wrongfully convicted at age 16 and Danny Garza from NLG-Sac will talk about being shot by a rubber bullet at the protests in May.

Mark Godsey: "This is coming up THURSDAY. We need to support organizations like Davis Vanguard, who are watchdogs for the court system. With the decline of investigative journalism, we'll need more Vanguards to keep them honest. Please tune in, and please consider a small donation to Davis Vanguard."

Jeffrey Deskovic: "Their keynote speaker is Mark Godsey of the Ohio Innocence Project. Hi Jacque -

You said to send this to you to forward to the rest of your office.

The event of course is a week from today.

For the last year the Davis Vanguard has been partnering with the SF Public Defender's office on a court watch, sending interns into the courts to cover and report on court cases. On Thursday, August 13, they will have their annual fundraiser featuring Mark Godsey of the Ohio Innocence Project. This fundraiser helps to fund their court watch project and should also be very interesting for anyone to attend.

Vanguard 10th Annual Event - next Thursday

August 13 from 6 to 9 - via Zoom

Cost: $50 suggested donation but a variable rate ticket available

Topic: Wrongful Convictions and Prosecutorial Tunnel Vision

Mark Godsey, Director of the Ohio Innocence project is the keynote speaker and will be talking about his book "Blind Injustice" as well as the case of the East Cleveland 3, of whom Laurese Glover will be on hand and talk about the 20 years he did in prison before being exonerated in 2015.

Also speaking, Jeffrey Deskovic, wrongfully convicted at age 16 and Danny Garza from NLG-Sac will talk about being shot by a rubber bullet at the protests in May.

Proceeds go to the Vanguard Court Watch project covering courts from Sacramento to San Francisco.

Reserve your spot today: <http://vanguard-godsey.eventbrite.com>

Hi Everyone -

Down the stretch we go. We've added speakers this week to fill out the program.

Laurese Glover - an exoneree from the East Cleveland 3

Jeffrey Deskovic - an exoneree who also spoke last year

Danny Garza - NLG Sacramento who was shot with a rubber bullet during a protest (article)

Read this article: (link)

In 2017 Mark Godsey explained why wrongful convictions happen in the criminal justice system – confirmation bias and tunnel vision of police and prosecutors lead them to pursue the wrong people in order to gain convictions.

Mark Godsey, the director of the Ohio Innocence Project, will be the keynote speaker on August 13 at the Vanguard Court Watch's 10th annual fundraiser. He will be joined by an exoneree that helped to free.

With COVID - we have now moved the event to Zoom. Mark Godsey will appear at 6 pm Pacific Time on August 13.

The event is open to anyone who wishes to attend. The suggested donation is $50 - however, you may select the variable pay option and donate what you can, and you will be able to attend. Just hit the tickets button on the top left and select the amount you wish to donate.

Donations go to fund the Vanguard Court Watch project and our expansion efforts into additional court rooms.

- Sponsorships still available starting at $100
- More information please contact: info@davisvanguard.org

- The Vanguard's 10th Annual Event will feature Mark Godsey, the director of the Ohio Innocence Project and acclaimed author of Blind Injustice."

In his book, "Drawing upon stories from his own career, Godsey shares how innate psychological flaws in judges, police, lawyers, and juries coupled with a "tough on crime" environment can cause investigations to go awry, leading to the convictions of innocent people."

The event is the Vanguard's annual fundraiser. Founded in 2010, the Vanguard Court Watch goes into courts in San Francisco, Sacramento, and Yolo County to monitor and report on everyday injustice in the court system. Our operations have expanded to include our weekly Everyday Injustice Podcast, national criminal justice reform coverage, a daily newsletter, and focuses on wrongful convictions, felony murder reform and the progressive prosecution movement. Hi all,

A few points from our meeting today:

1. Please remember to attend both the 6:30 Monday courtwatch meeting and the 12:00 Tuesday courtwatch meeting. Different things are discussed at each and it is very important that you attend both so you can get updates and keep apprised of what's going on. The 12:00 Tuesday meeting is mandatory for all SF interns (those who were meeting for mock trial were excused today) and the 6:30 Monday meeting is highly highly recommended. So please remember to attend!

2. Please remember to input any stories that get published on the spreadsheet: <https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/1qw1NHypqALexEnfykrv8VJ1Ynu1nRmlhwejmOU9Hq4/edit?usp=sharing> We want to make sure you get credit for the great work that you're doing and that everyone gets to see everyone else's work. If you haven't filled this out in a while, please put in any previous articles/items that weren't listed so we can have a database of every SFPD article published.

3. For those of you who still have not, please fill out the internship end date form by the end of today: <https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/1c1wnJ3Fx7wfabTiKmF8b1CREWL93ftvpho-mpGOpnMU/edit?usp=sharing>

4. I'd like to write a story on the trend of defendants being unable to fulfill court mandated NA/AA/batterer's programs/community service because of Covid. If you see examples of this please make note of it and send it to me. Examples of information that would be useful would be what the defendant said, what the judge said (and what the judge's name was), if the lawyer made any arguments about it (and what the lawyer's name was), what courtroom/county this happened in, etc. Please send this information to me at tovahackerman@gmail.com.

5. Layla has offered to write an article on the trend of PDs and other defense attorneys zooming into court rather than attending in person. Examples of information we would like for that would be what court/county, what issues arose with the PD being remote, if the judge or anyone else had to step in, if the client spoke when they weren't supposed to, etc. We want to be careful not to critique PDs too much for this practice since they have as much right as the DAs to protect their health, but a descriptive article about what happens when PDs zoom in might be interesting. Please send any information about what you see to Layla at irmustafa@ucdavis.edu.

I think that's everything. David or Michelle, if I forgot something please let me know.

Thanks for all your amazing work everyone!

Remember that if you choose to continue on, you will not have to sign up for a full day and half of courtwatch but instead can sign up for any morning or afternoon you are available. Also, as David said, you can also get school credit for continuing with courtwatch. It's a win for everyone!

Amid the coronavirus pandemic, many more recent high school graduates in the Bay Area and across the nation are choosing to delay the start of their college careers. Concerned that their schools might have to pivot to distance learning, they're taking a year off — even though the pandemic also has curtailed traditional “gap year” adventures, such as international travel, and made jobs harder to land.

Sadie Fleig, who graduated from Berkeley High School last month, decided to take a gap year rather than start at Colorado College in 2020. “I wanted to play the safest bet,” she said. “An in-person experience is incredibly crucial to my idea of college and what I want out of it.”

Hi All,

On monday 7/20 at noon we will be meeting with a reporter from The Appeal to discuss the recent demonstration at San Francisco Department 22 and our difficulties getting the SF courts to stream their proceedings.

All are welcome, especially those who were available to come in person on that day.

Here is the zoom link: <https://us04web.zoom.us/j/7843517139>

Let me know if you have any problems getting into the zoom meeting.

With COVID - we have now moved the event to Zoom. Mark Godsey will appear at 6 pm Pacific Time. We are also adding an exoneree to the event.

The event is open to anyone who wishes to attend. The suggested donation is $50 - however, you may select the variable pay option and donate what you wish and you will be able to attend. Just hit the tickets button on the top left and select the amount you wish to donate.

Donations go to fund the Vanguard Court Watch project and our expansion efforts into additional court rooms.

Sponsorships still available starting at $100

More information please contact: info@davisvanguard.org

The Vanguard is a 501(c)3 non-profit - contributions are tax deductible - EIN - 46-3013126

The Vanguard's 10th Annual Event will feature Mark Godsey, the director of the Ohio Innocence Project and acclaimed author of Blind Injustice."

In his book, "Drawing upon stories from his own career, Godsey shares how innate psychological flaws in judges, police, lawyers, and juries coupled with a "tough on crime" environment can cause investigations to go awry, leading to the convictions of innocent people."

The event is the Vanguard's annual fundraiser. Founded in 2010, the Vanguard Court Watch goes into courts in San Francisco, Sacramento and Yolo County in California to monitor and report on everyday injustice in the court system. Our operations have expanded to include our weekly Everyday Injustice Podcast, national criminal justice reform coverage, a daily newsletter, and focuses on wrongful convictions, felony murder reform and the progressive prosecution movement.

Subject: Giorgi SF Court Streaming Email Draft

Jacque and David, here's a draft of an email to Judge Giorgi. Heather said Department 22 may be up and running on zoom but I haven't yet been able to confirm that with David. If it's true, I can reword some sections of the email to thank Judge Giorgi for attending to that but still asking for the other departments to be streamed as well.

I'm still not sure if this email will be sent by Mano or if it will be a blitz email campaign from all the courtwatch interns but I think the language in the email could work either way. Let me know what you think.

Thanks,
Tovah

Dear Judge Giorgi,

I write to request that the San Francisco courthouse begin streaming all courtroom proceedings on YouTube or some comparable public space as soon as possible. Since the courtrooms are already set up with Zoom capabilities, this should not take very long.

Two Mondays ago, on July 6, ten members of the Vanguard's CourtWatch team arrived at Department 22 in person to hand Your Honor a note requesting that this service be provided as soon as possible. Unlike procedures in other local courthouses such as Sacramento, these members were not asked any screening questions at the front door of the courthouse nor were their temperatures taken. It appeared that masking requirements and social distancing requirements in the courtroom were not being enforced, as many members of the public and the bar pulled their masks under their noses or off their faces completely to speak, and the number of people in the courtroom caused many people to sit within six feet of one another. The members of CourtWatch stayed for only a short period of time because they did not feel safe. Inviting members of the public to appear in person, without any other option provided for viewing proceedings puts not only the members of the public in danger, but also court personnel, lawyers, and judges. Following is a link to the article that was written and published on the Courtwatch website by two of those CourtWatch interns about the July 6 experience: <https://www.davisvanguard.org/2020/07/the-vanguards-courtwatch-interns-urge-safe-public-access-to-san-francisco-courts-with-no-success/>

We realize that with the reality of Covid-19 the Court is experiencing many novel difficulties that require time and attention. However we have been requesting a public stream of courtroom proceedings for many weeks now through different avenues with no success. The technology is already in place to make this happen. We merely ask that San Francisco, like many other neighboring counties, begin to stream proceedings of all courtrooms so members of the public and CourtWatch can observe and report on what they see. The public has a right to know what happens in the San Francisco courtrooms without putting their or others' health and safety in danger.

Thank you for your time and attention to this matter,

In lieu of people actually attending court to watch proceedings, D22 is now being livestreamed.

The YouTube camera will NOT capture clients and it is behind the DA table angled straight ahead.

However, be sure to object if you have ID or trial issues. Know that D22 is being viewed to the world.

Hello all -

This is our annual fundraiser. We are having it on August 13 and it features Mark Godsey of the Innocence Project. Right now it is scheduled for the UC Davis Conference Center but most likely on Wednesday we will make the final call to do Zoom and figure out how to structure it.

The event is one month from today.

But I am asking you today to please support the Vanguard and our work exposing flaws in the criminal justice system. For those not familiar - we have a court watch in Yolo, Sacramento, and San Francisco counties. This fundraiser helps us hire staffing maintain our program. This year - more than ever - we are pushing the envelope. Hit the link below to get tickets or sponsor.

<https://vanguard-godsey.eventbrite.com/>

Hello -

I am writing you today to see if you would be interested in sponsoring and/ or attending our event - August 13 - Mark Godsey from the Ohio Innocence Project will be speaking in Davis.

The Davis Vanguard - founded in Davis in 2006 - runs a court watch now in San Francisco, Sacramento and Yolo

Counties. We have a weekly podcast featuring wrongful convictions, progressive prosecutors and much more. And we cover national criminal justice issues on a daily basis.

This fundraiser - our tenth annual - helps to fund our operations and put interns into the court room to shine a light on misconduct and mass incarceration.

Among our early sponsors: SF DA Chesa Boudin, the California Innocence Project, Obie Anthony, the Jeffrey Deskovic Foundation, UC Davis and UC Davis Law School, and the San Francisco and Yolo County Public Defenders Offices.

I'm including a copy of our flier and our Eventbrite Link. I hope you will consider sponsoring our event.

Thanks,

David

To our fellow public defenders,

We hope this e-mail finds you all in good health. We are using the contact list from our PD March in early June. We are Deputy Alternate Public Defenders in Solano County. Since our PD March, our colleague, Shelly Saini, who helped organize our office's demonstration has continued to show her support by wearing a face mask that reads "ADO for black lives."

On June 24, 2020, a corrections sergeant of the Solano County Sheriff's Office threatened to file a formal complaint against our fellow Deputy Alternate Public Defender Shelly Saini for wearing her mask that reads "ADO for black lives."

Attached is a written statement of support for Shelly Saini and includes her encounter with the sergeant.

As far as we know, a formal complaint has not yet been filed by the sergeant. So at this time, we are asking that Shelly's story be shared with the defense community as we are becoming aware that instances like this are happening in other counties as well.

Thank you all,

Angelica Leonardo and Michi Yamamoto

Hi Jacque, Heather, and David,

I'm co-writing an article about the group of Courwatch interns going into court today, and I was hoping to touch on our attempts to get into the SF courts via zoom.

Firstly, is it alright for we to write about us using the zoom? I know we were unable to publish articles from our SF courtwatch so far, so I just wanted to check before I wrote about our temporary access to the SF courts. I don't want to get anyone into trouble.

Secondly, if it's alright to talk about our temporary access, is there any chance I can get the email that was sent out telling us we weren't allowed access? I'd love to use it for quotes.

Thanks so much!

Best,
Mella Bettag

Hi all,

Thanks for those who came to SF court this morning! We handed a letter to the judge who read it while court was in session and spoke to us from the bench. She said she would pass the letter on to the IT department but that they they're working on getting the YouTube channel set up. (Unclear why it's taking so long, considering it's super easy to set up, but hopefully this will light a fire under their butts.)

Mella and Evelyn have offered to write an article about the demonstration for courtwatch. Thanks you two!

Tovah

Hi all,

This email is about the court demonstration we're planning on Monday, July 6 to request that the San Francisco court start livestreaming court proceedings on YouTube as soon as possible.

For those of you who were unable to attend the last SF courtwatch meeting, we are all planning to attend court in person on monday and David will write a letter that we will hand to the court bailiff to give to Judge Giorgi, the supervising judge. I believe she is in Department 22 but we will verify that when we get there. We believe that by all showing up in person we will make a (silent) statement that Judge Giorgi will find hard to ignore.

PLEASE DO NOT FEEL OBLIGATED TO COME IF YOU FEEL UNSAFE. This is absolutely not mandatory. However, we would like to get at least 10-15 participants to sit, socially distanced, in Judge Giorgi's department during the morning session. We will leave once we have given the bailiff our request and there is a break in morning proceedings.

If you choose to attend this demonstration you will not be required to fulfill your usual courtwatch duties Monday morning, although we will be looking for a couple of courtwatch interns to write up the story of this demonstration for courtwatch publication. Please let me know if you are interested in doing so.

Time: 9:15

Date: Monday, July 6

Place: Meet on the sidewalk in front of the courthouse at 850 Bryant

What to wear: MASKS (mandatory) and professional attire such as suits or dress clothes

Rules:

1. Please stay six feet apart from each other at all times, including while sitting in the courtroom
2. Please wear masks at all times
3. Please do not be on your phone in the courtroom
4. Please do not talk in the courtroom. We want to be as respectful as possible. Disrupting the court process will only work against our request.
5. As stated earlier please wear professional attire

Please RSVP to this email to let us know if you will be coming. That way we know how many people to expect.

Let's hope this works!

Hi all,

Happy fourth of July! We have heard from nine people that they are willing to come to the courthouse demonstration on Monday. Two have offered to write an article about it. We are hoping to make this demonstration as forceful as possible. If you haven't responded and you are willing to attend, please let me know.

Thanks,

I think putting pressure in multiple ways is a good way forward. This is one avenue. Jacque talked last night and I have sent him a statement we would like Mano to send to the judge and I will request Chesa do the same.

The San Francisco Court Watch puts interns into the court room to shine a light on the criminal justice system. Given concerns about COVID-19, they are requesting access to Zoom video feeds of court hearings. I am writing to request that they be granted such access.

Hi David & All ~

I want to send out information to all of the interns regarding our proposed plan of action for Monday's in person Courtwatch.

David, what time should folks show up? 9 am for court at 9:30? 8:45? Or should we show up for the afternoon session? Let me know what you think.

Without saying masks mandatory. We will also do our best to remain 6 feet apart from one another, and appropriately space ourselves in the courtroom benches.

Anything else?

Are you looking for an official person to speak with, i.e., someone responsible for the facility? The person to try to get is Alexander Pham.

It's an interesting moment as ICE just filed papers identifying that a second official tested positive at Mesa Verde, about two weeks ago, and because of their internal communication failures, they did not know for more than a week. The lawyers were also aware on Thursday and only notified the court on Thursday. The filing they just made is attached.

Hey Jacque,

Hope you're doing well in this quarantine and not too bored. So, since I have graduated from my high school the other day I am now free to do all of the work any unit needs me to do. I have not really gotten any emails from the person running Court Watch, would you be able to give me that information? For the past week, I have just been brushing up on my objections with Trialboom, which I am really enjoying, the character evidence evidentiary objections usually give me the hardest time. And once again, thank you for the opportunity to learn and give back to the San Francisco community.

Very Truly Yours,

Jakob Seidner

Ingrid, Kelsey and Donica,

Sorry - I left you off the initial email to the group who will be working with CourtWatch this summer.

Interns,

Thank you for your patience (again!). You have been selected for CourtWatch - and will probably spend more time in court than any of the other interns this summer. CourtWatch is an excellent opportunity to observe court, improve your writing and make a difference. Interns will also have an opportunity to write articles on criminal justice reform issues across the country. To see some of our interns' past articles here: https://www.davisvanguard.org/category/san-francisco-court-watch/

We will be posting Calls to Action and opportunities to help attorneys and other units. Feel free to volunteer for these as long as they do not interfere with your CourtWatch commitments.

You are part of the "regular" internship program - you are required to: attend the 8 AM Tuesday morning check-ins and the Wednesday brown bag speaker series; keep a worklog, complete the online registration, and have a signed confidentiality agreement on file. You must also have written permission by Jacque Wilson to be in the office this summer. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions - for a quick response, please send a text to \(415\) 518-3336.

David,

The students copied on this email are part of the "regular" San Francisco Public Defender Summer internship program. There are some "late" students we are trying to accommodate by creating our SFCourtWatch internship. Resumes for those interns have been forwarded to you for review. Please let me know if those interns will be participating in SFCourtWatch - I will check with Jacque to see what office resources will be available for them.

The students included here are assigned to the CourtWatch program as part of their summer internship with our office. The law students especially will also have other assignments but are dedicating a regular part of their time to CourtWatch. The students assigned to CourtWatch are required to attend the 8 AM Tuesday morning check-ins and the Wednesday brown bag training. If they are watching court on Tuesday or Thursday afternoon, they will have access to a recording of those training sessions.

Looking forward to working with all of you this summer!

Thank you so much for your response.

I might also have misunderstood because when I spoke to my friend, who also happens to be a summer law clerk, she said on Wednesdays the speaker series is what we need to attend every week. I guess I am just trying to see what our mandatory activity is on Wednesdays and what time it takes place.

Thank you again,

Hello,

I needed to schedule an appointment on June 3 with my doctor and I just wanted to confirm what activity is mandatory on Wednesdays so I do not mistakenly make an appointment then. If I remember correctly from yesterday, on Wednesdays it is mandatory we participate in CourtWatch from 10-11:15. Would you possibly be able to confirm that for me?

From: Internship, PUBDEF (PDR)

To: Larkin White, Wilson, Jacque (PDR), David Greenwald

Larkin,

Thank you for your interest in an internship with our office. I think Jacque Wilson has been in contact with you regarding our SFCourtWatch program. It is an opportunity we are offering most of our undergraduate interns. Unfortunately our regular internship program is mostly for law students and full for the summer - we limited the number interns this summer because we are planning a mostly remote program this summer and are not sure how it will all work. We will not be able to provide interns with in person courtroom observation, direct client contact or even the experience of being in our offices.

We do have a related opportunity that is still open. We have an established relationship the the Davis Vanguard CourtWatch program. Last summer students observed either morning or afternoon (or sometimes all day) court sessions and wrote articles about their observations. You may see past articles here: <https://www.davisvanguard.org/category/san-francisco-court-watch/>

The CourtWatch program is based on the idea of sending interns into courtrooms to observe, monitor and write for their non-profit publication in partnership with the Public Defender's office. They have some interesting opportunities with the COVID-shutdown of the courts. They are having interns do two things right now - one is to attend virtual court hearings where they are available and write on those. Interns are also writing articles on criminal justice reform issues across the country. The SFCourtWatch interns will be interviewed by the Davis Vanguard CourtWatch Director David Greenwald (or someone in his program). You will be able to include on your resume that you participated in the San Francisco Public Defender CourtWatch program. You will be required to keep a worklog of your activities and articles.

The SFCourtWatch interns are invited to attend the San Francisco Public Defender Summer Office training - our Wednesday Brown Bag speaker series from 12:15-1:30. We also have a Tuesday morning 8 AM check-in meeting with the interns. The Zoom summer intern orientation is scheduled to start Tuesday 5/26 at 8 AM. You will be invited to attend the Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday training next week - you should receive a separate email with the orientation details.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions - the best email to use is Pubdef.internship@sfgov.org or feel free to send me a text message \(415\) 518-3336.

Hello speakers!

Thank you for accepting the invitation to speak at our event. We would like speakers to come 10-15 minutes early if they can to make sure there are no technical issues as well as give us some time to get accustomed to the set-up. The event will be moderated by Joshua Kaizuka, one of our board members and a Sacramento attorney.

I've attached the program below. Please limit your talk to 5-6 minutes. We will also be having a short Q&A at the end of the event.

When entering the Zoom meeting, there may be a pause before being admitted. Please have your audio on when you are the one speaking and turning the audio off when it is another speaker's turn. Here is the link to the Zoom event: <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/84091651159>

Thank you again for speaking at our event and please let me know if you have any questions.

This is great Kathy. Thank you for doing this. The only thing I'd add is that it counts as a joint internship so they could put on their resume SF Court Watch Internship through the Davis Van Guard and SF Public Defender. Thank you for jumping on this Kathy and all that you do. Means a lot. Jacque.

I know you both are super busy, so this is the latest version of the email I've been sending out to students - there were a few that I included the Tuesday and Thursday training schedule until I realized that it would interfere with CourtWatch.

I'll continue to send this out until I hear otherwise - and I will start a separate group of SFPDO/CourtWatch interns. I'll forward the cover letters and resumes to David.

Thanks,

Kathy

Thank you for your interest in an internship with our office. Unfortunately our regular internship program is full for the summer - we limited the number interns this summer because we are planning a mostly remote program this summer and are not sure how it will all work. We will not be able to provide interns with in person courtroom observation, direct client contact or even the experience of being in our offices.

We do have a related opportunity that is still open. We have an established relationship the the Davis Vanguard CourtWatch program. Last summer students observed either morning or afternoon (or sometimes all day) court sessions and wrote articles about their observations. You may see past articles here: <https://www.davisvanguard.org/category/san-francisco-court-watch/>

The CourtWatch program is based on the idea of sending interns into courtrooms to observe, monitor and write for their non-profit publication in partnership with the Public Defender's office. They have some interesting opportunities with the COVID-shutdown of the courts. They are having interns do two things right now - one is to attend virtual court hearings where they are available and write on those. Interns are also writing articles on criminal justice reform issues across the country.

Please let me know if you are interested in participating in CourtWatch - you would also be invited to attend the San Francisco Summer Office training - our Wednesday Brown Bag speaker series from 12:15-1:30. We also have a Tuesday morning 8 AM check in with the interns. The summer intern orientation will be recorded, but is scheduled to start Tuesday 5/26 at 8 AM. The orientation will be recorded.

If you are interested in CourtWatch, please send a cover letter with your resume and I will forward it to David Greenwald who runs the CourtWatch Program. Once you are accepted into the program, I will send you the orientation and other training links as they become available.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions - the best email to use is Pubdef.internship@sfgov.org or feel free to send me a text message \(415\) 518-3336518-3336).

Hi Tyler - Our program is based on the idea of sending interns into courtrooms to observe, monitor and write for our non-profit publication in partnership with the Public Defender's office. We have some interesting opportunities with the COVID-shutdown of the courts. We are having interns do two things right now - one is to attend virtual court hearings where they are available and write on those. And we are also having interns do articles on criminal justice reform issues across the country.

A cover letter and resume as Jacque mentioned is generally what we need.

Hi SFPD Team,

I hope all is well during this time.

For students. to apply, what application materials should we send?

Thanks.

So here is the word I have gotten:

The court is providing a Zoom link for attorneys but not the public and the public cannot access it

We have not gotten anything notification from the court about access. And the closest thing to a request and denial was our letter.

Basically we need to file next week if possible

Join us for a special week of training, featuring:

- Wednesday Live Zoom Brown Bag 12:15-1:30: CPDA guru Michael Ogul will teach us about defense discovery obligations (designed for all members of the defense team);

- Tuesday and Thursday 1:30-2:45: Zoom Trial Video Series continues with Cross Examination – from the basics to advanced rule-breaking with Live Tips from our own warriors

Live Zoom Brown Bag (Wednesday 12:15 to 1:30):

Michael Ogul presenting . . .

Defense Disclosure: You Mean We May Have to Turn Something Over

(From Jacque) Michael will discuss defense disclosure obligations related to investigation and witness statements. This training covers the ethics considerations of defense investigative reports, given the potential risk that a report may have to be given to the prosecution. Getting all the information a witness knows is the goal of every interview but it is easier said than done. Many issues can only be uncovered with great sensitivity, some witnesses require delicate handling, and hostile witnesses present their own challenges. No one approach works for all witnesses. And once we learn what the witness has to offer, the question becomes how to best document the information without unwittingly damaging the defense case. Michael will discuss both interviewing and reporting methods, including a consideration of our ethical obligations to disclose information to the prosecution. Michael will also cover consultations with experts and recent case law, including lessons to be learned from Landers and what "Intend To Call" really means. This training is intended for all members of the defense team.

Zoom Video Series – Anatomy of a Trial – continues with Cross Examination (Tuesday and Thursday 1:30 to 2:45) Classic Videos and including LIVE tips from Crystal Lamb, Ilona, Vilaska, Yali and more:

As defense lawyers, cross examination can make or break our case. It is essential to know the basic rules – without them, we can easily get burned and never fully recover. But once we master them, there's so many more techniques to control the courtroom and to get the most from prosecution witnesses. Most importantly, we can tell our client's story, control the narrative, and get the facts we need for closing argument from THEIR witnesses.

Tuesday (1:30 to 2:45 pm.): Cross Examination Commandments and Intro to Advanced Cross including: “The Ten Commandments of Cross Examination” by Irving Younger and “Advanced Cross Examination” by Larry Pozner, with a live tip from Ilona. We'll begin with time-tested commandments from old-time giants Younger and Pozner. If you haven't seen famous trial attorney Irving Younger, he's considered the founder of Continuing Legal Education because he was so prolific and entertaining. We'll play a 10-minute video of highlights from his famous speech. Next we'll play a segment from master of cross examination Larry Pozner's "Advanced Cross Examination" from his visit to our office in 2017. Pozner will introduce the Chapter Method of cross, and tell us how to make our story come to life, and to control opposing witnesses.

Thursday (1:30 to 2:45 pm.): Advanced Cross and Breaking the Rules including: “Advanced Cross Examination” by Mary Jo Barr and live tips from Crystal Lamb, Vilaska, and Yali. CPDA teacher and trial warrior Mary Jo Barr will give us specific tips and techniques which go far outside of the basic “commandments” and tell us when and how to break the rules to our advantage, from a 2012 CPDA Trial Skills seminar. We’ll start with live tips from our own warriors who will give us advanced tips which have worked for them.

Mark - I've been holding back and waiting thinking that the fallback would be a Zoom event. My suggestion would be cancel the AIRBNB and you can always book a new one if things change more quickly than I think.

Hello folks.

My deadline to cancel my AIRBNB I rented is coming up in two weeks.

Do you have a sense of the likelihood of the events happening in August as scheduled? Would the best bet be for me to cancel and get my full refund, and then find another place later in the summer if we go forward?

If you have plans for these events to move forward regardless, with social distancing, etc., I'll keep my current reservation because I really like the place. Thanks!

Hey everyone - we have grown tremendously in the last year and doing so much more than ever. I am writing you now because we are holding our 10th annual fundraiser in August and we are looking for sponsors. We're off to a good start so far despite everything. If you are able to - please hit the Eventbrite link and become a sponsor. If not - just email me and say, I can't this year. I understand and will not bug you again (directly at least).

* * * * *

I am writing you today to see if you would be interested in sponsoring our event - August 13 - Mark Godsey from the Ohio Innocence Project will be speaking in Davis.

The Davis Vanguard - founded in Davis in 2006 - runs a court watch now in San Francisco, Sacramento and Yolo Counties. We have a weekly podcast featuring wrongful convictions, progressive prosecutors and much more. And we cover national criminal justice issues on a daily basis.

This fundraiser - our tenth annual - helps to fund our operations and put interns into the court room to shine a light on misconduct and mass incarceration.

Among our early sponsors: SF DA Chesa Boudin, the California Innocence Project, Obie Anthony, the Jeffrey Deskovic Foundation, UC Davis and UC Davis Law School, and the San Francisco and Yolo County Public Defenders Offices.

I'm including a copy of our flier and our Eventbrite Link. I hope you will consider sponsoring our event.

Thanks,

David

Hi David,

Thanks so much to the Vanguard for picking up on the letter we sent to Newsom offering some expertise and solutions for reducing the prison population statewide. Great article by Lea Barrios: <https://www.davisvanguard.org/2020/04/sf-district-attorney-and-public-defender-unite-to-release-inmates-amidst-covid-19/>, but we were wondering if it would be possible to change the title of the article by removing the word "inmates" and changing it to "incarcerated people."

I was about to retweet the article when the word "inmate" was brought to my attention as a word that our office, and by resolution of the City, we're trying to phase out. I know it's a tough habit to break and certainly a word that has been used as a convenient term. We would welcome you and your writers to consider adopting it going forward, especially as it relates to Court Watch.

I hope all of you are well in the midst of all this. Look forward to connecting again soon!

Hi David,

Hope all is well and that you and your family are staying safe. I wanted to forward you this email I just got in regards to the $50,000 grant I applied for in September. Sorry I don't have better news.

Please let me know if there is any other way I can help.

Kind Regards,

Dear Allison,

Unfortunately, I have bad news to deliver—we will not be able to fund your work through the CPS RFP.

We really appreciate your application and the work you've done, and don't want this to be the end of the conversation between you and CPS or JAN. If there are other projects, events, efforts, etc. where you think we could work together please don't hesitate to reach out to me, Holly or Jenna.

Once the grantees are notified, we'll share that information with our email list and on our website.

Sorry I don't have any better news, but I just want to thank you for your application, and I hope we can work together soon!

Thank you!

Dear Readers, Friends and Supporters,

These, indeed, are challenging times for all of us who are “socially-distanced” – I am writing this, for instance, from in front of my laptop at home, and communicating via Zoom and computer with staff and news sources in Davis, Sacramento, San Francisco and throughout Northern California.

The Vanguard’s message remains: Information is key in the best of times. All important in these times.

So that’s why I am pleased to confirm that the Vanguard will not only be maintaining – but increasing – our current cutting-edge reporting of the courts and news in Davis, Sacramento and other communities.

We might need a little help. That’s where you come in...

As a reader, you know our reporting and commentary are unique because we provide readers with news of those people and issues often ignored by mainstream media through our strong social justice reporting. Not just of the courts, but news from the heart of our communities.

That won’t change. In fact, we are ramping up that coverage.

To do that, we are creatively revising our court watch program to account for new limited court access that we reported first last week. It does mean we’ll have to dig more for the truth. But, we’re up to that task by expanding staff, as needed.

And, we’re hoping you will be able to help us do this. Because the only thing that protects us – as a nonprofit, independent news gathering force – from cutbacks seen in corporate media, is you, our readers.

Right now, we’re hanging in there with the rest of you. We’re reaching out to you now to help us not only continue to provide news that is fast and accurate to this community and this region, but to help us expand our reach to provide more of the real truth on a daily basis.

Here’s what you can do:

1. Make a one-time donation. Online – <https://davisvanguard.org> and hit “donate” at the top of this page; PayPal to info@davisvanguard.org; By check – Davis Vanguard, PO BOX 4715, Davis 95617
2. Subscription. Online – <https://davisvanguard.org/2017/04/subscriber>; By check – Davis Vanguard, PO BOX 4715, Davis 95617

Right now we are doing this on a staff of three paid people – myself included. We have made plans to revamp the court watch program in order to modify it to take into account the limited court access. We would also like the ability to be able to hire more reporters to ease our workload.

We have already seen across the country that local news – challenged in the best of times – is having to make tough decisions. We have seen cutbacks on coverage.

Right now I can say we are in decent shape. But at the same time, if the economy ends up going where it might, funding might get tough.

3 1437 cases were on.

Sneider a torture murder case was put over to 3/21? For prima facia showing.

Nguyen a case that involved the largest hostage situation in us history. Nguyen and his 3 brothers held up a good guys store in Sacramento in 1991. In exchange for hostages they wanted ginseng roots, a helicopter and bullet proof vests. Hostage negotiations broke down. Six people ended up dead and many more were wounded. Among the dead were 3 hostages and all three of Nguyen's brothers. Mr. Nguyen did not kill anyone. He received 41 life sentences. He petitioned the court for review. Judge Conroy did not appoint the public defender's office because based upon his review of the record Mr. Nguyen was a major participant who acted with reckless indifference. Interestingly, this was a crime that occurred in Sacramento and had been transferred to San Francisco. The Sacramento district attorneys wanted the case heard in Sacramento. Judge Conroy ruled San Francisco was the proper venue and then he denied the petition without prejudice.

In another case, Mr. Keel heard he is eligible for relief and will be resentenced. In 1987 Mr. Keel plead guilty to 1st degree felony murder although he was not the killer. Mr. Keel and his codefendant met the deceased while out on a night in the city. They agreed to go back to the deceased house and party and perform sex for money. Things did not go as planned and a man lay dead. The codefendant admitted to killing the deceased. Mr. Keel filed a petition and the public defenders office was appointed. The district attorneys office opposed the petition on the grounds that Mr. Keel was the actual killer and had acted with reckless indifference. Over the past few months there were numerous court dates and motions filed pertaining to the admissibility of parole hearing transcripts. At one point during the process the court ruled Mr. Keel's parole transcripts were not admissible in future 1170.95 proceedings. Then at a subsequent point the judge changed his mind and said the parole transcripts would be admissible but that he would give them the appropriate weight, noting the coercive nature of many parole hearings. That is where things stood until yesterday when the district attorneys office said they were withdrawing their opposition and stipulating that Mr. Keel was entitled to relief and to be resentenced on a residential robbery. Mr. Keel can receive three, four or six years for the residential robbery. He has already served at least 33 years. On 2/21 Mr Keel will be resentenced. On that date he will be freed from custody on his California case and transported to Oregon to serve 20 plus years on unrelated crimes.

Feedback:

Unlike the Jen Faire PRU article, this observation uses more of the "I" voice, which takes away from how we usually report the article. I do like the formatting of the article but the approach to the end of the article deviates from how we're more accustomed to reporting on the article - specifically using opinion to give a description rather than noting what the actual facts of the case are. I can surmise that Ingrid likely came late to the closing arguments but she didn't write out aspects of the case we would like to have reported on.

Feedback: This article was very informative and had a lot of insight that was very compelling. While different from our usual style for court reporting, I could see this more exploratory and narrative viewpoint of the PRU being the means by which to talk about what's going on in the PRU. I'll give more thoughts on how to report on PRU on Monday.

Prior to Lamoureux/Gooden, Yolo County Judges were uniformly finding SB 1437 unconstitutional. However in the cases still pending after the decisions out of the 4th, the judges followed and found SB 1437 constitutional. The DA filed writs in all of those cases. Without response, the 3rd issued denials on all of those pending writs today.

Hi Jacque,

Hope you are doing well! I was hoping that you might share this event with your office in case people are interested in attending. They can receive CLE credits if they register at the link below. A bunch of past and present interns in your office have had their hands involved in planning this event!

Please join us for an exciting symposium, entitled Progressive Prosecution and the Carceral State, on Friday, February 7th, 2020 at UC Hastings College of the Law. The symposium, hosted by the Hastings Journal of Crime and Punishment and the Hastings Race and Poverty Law Journal, will feature prominent scholars and practitioners, many of whom are working on the frontier of reform, including newly elected San Francisco District Attorney Chesa Boudin, State's Attorney for Baltimore, Marilyn Mosby and Suffolk County District Attorney, Rachael Rollins. We look forward to your participation as we focus on emerging efforts to rewrite prosecutorial practices within the larger movement to transform the American criminal justice system.

The full day's schedule is attached. Please register here.

Hello everyone,

I managed to contact two of our instructors who would love to have you visit their classes this spring to discuss the Courtwatch program.

Mimi Glumac is an attorney who is teaching C J 323: Ethics in Criminal Justice (GWAR) and C J 501: Criminal Law this spring. You can contact her directly at mimiglumac@sfsu.edu.

Jim Dudley is a former Deputy Chief with SFPD. This spring, he is teaching C J 400: Police and Public Policy and C J 330: Research Methods in Criminal Justice (GWAR). Jim can be reached at: dudley@sfsu.edu.

I have copied both professors on this email. Please feel free to reach out to them about a visit this spring.

Best,
Gina

Hello Jacque,

Thank you for following up with me.

I am happy to hear that our students are already engaged with your office.

Yes, let's set up a time for us to chat about internship possibilities. If you have time to talk next week, I can be available most weekday mornings between 9:00 am – 10:00 am and 4:00 pm – 5:00 pm. If next week does not work for you, my schedule opens up a bit more between January 6th through January 18th. Let me know what works for you and we will make it happen.

Bob, thank you for introducing Jacque to me.

Best,

Hi Gina and nice to meet you.

Just yesterday I had about 10 students from SF State at our office. They were there for our Court Watch program. Essentially, we explain to them the role of the public defender and then we go observe court for the day. I met these students speaking at an SF State class. Some of them will be interning in our office this spring and summer. I can discuss internship possibilities with you. Please let me know which days are best for you and we could set up a date and time. Thank you. Jacque

Hello David and Jacque,

We are putting together our annual calendar (yes, it is cutting it down to the wire this year, but Larry and I are confident that we can get it done) and we realized that one of the pages we are working on is about the programs we have to inspire the next generation of legal professionals/public defenders. I'm planning to mention Court Watch and was wondering if either of you happen to have any good photos that you might be willing to let us use for the calendar. It could be anything that shows interns/students/etc.

Thank you,

Good afternoon,

I am with the Davis Vanguard, an online newspaper for Yolo County. We are currently researching cases relating to SB 1437. Pursuant to the California Public Records Act, I am requesting the following information:

1. The attorney(s) handling SB 1437 petitions
2. A list of all the cases where SB 1437 petitions have been filed, including the defendant's name and case number
3. The current status of those cases and information for how to receive future hearing updates

Please acknowledge receipt and let me know if there are any questions.

Thank you,

This is a message that could be posted on the 1437 listserv

Hi - I run the Davis Vanguard, a non-profit that has received a grant to track all 1437 cases through the system. In addition, we run court watch programs in San Francisco, Sacramento and Yolo Counties.

As part of tracking cases, we would like to cover them as they come to court for hearings. As such, I am asking for attorneys that have matters going before judges in Northern California, provide us updates about upcoming hearings so we can send someone to potentially cover them.

I can be reached at info@davisvanguard.org or 530-400-2512.

Subject: Why is the "Progressive" Yolo County DA NOT Backing 1437?

Hi all -

I have been making this point for years - despite claims to the contrary, the Yolo County DA is not on the forefront of progressivism. In fact, quite the opposite. The latest illustration is on SB 1437 when yesterday Deputy DA Ryan Couzens continued to argue that 1437 was unconstitutional and improper despite the fact that Judge Richard Couzens - his father - and the judge that other judges are taking the lead on is acknowledging that the 4th DCA is the authority and decided the case properly.

Below is a quick column by myself from this morning with a pitch to join our daily newsletter covering criminal justice reform across the state.

SB 1437 - Yet Another Example Proving That Yolo DA is NOT Progressive

by David Greenwald

Those who still wish to argue that the Yolo County DA's office is somehow progressive should look no further than their handling of SB 1437. It is one thing to argue - as they have that SB 1437, the felony murder reform bill written by Senator Nancy Skinner and signed by Governor Jerry Brown last fall was not constitutional.

That argument alone probably puts you in the "not progressive" camp and rightly so.

But the Yolo County DA's office did not stop there. Following Tuesday's 4th District Court of Appeals ruling that SB 1437 - they are continuing to argue that it is unconstitutional.

Yesterday, Yolo County DA Ryan Couzens pushed back during a 1437 hearing (see article below for details on the case), arguing that while AB 991 was unanimously passed as clean up language for SB 1437, but that "SB 1437 was never legitimately past in the first place."

He noted that while the 4th District ruling is binding on the rest of the state, the 3rd District Court also has it “under submission” and “if the (Yolo) court rules that it’s constitutional, they would seek a writ on that and stay the proceedings.”

Compare that to a ruling from Placer County where the judge there ruled: "Not only is this court bound to follow the decision of a higher court on the issues presented here, this court finds the reasoning of the higher court to be a valid and a proper interpretation of the law."

That judge was retired Placer County Judge Couzens - a retired judge who came back to rule on the SB 1437 case where he had been the trial judge.

To make matters even more ironic - Judge Couzens is the father of Deputy DA Ryan Couzens.

Not only does his view put the Yolo DA's office out of step with progressive reform - again - but it puts them out of step with the Deputy DA's own well-regarded father.

Neither Mr. Couzens, his supervisor Melinda Aiello, nor the Yolo County DA's office was going to give an inch on the constitutionality of SB 1437 – even as the rest of the state is beginning to see the writing on the wall.

The 4th DCA ruling follows briefing by the Attorney General's office, even prior to AB 991, that SB 1437 does not conflict with Prop 7 or Prop 115.

This is the view of the appellate court as well. The court stated, “Senate Bill 1437 did not amend Proposition 7 because it did ‘not reduce sentences for first or second degree-murder.’ [and] did not amend Proposition 115 because it did not ‘in any way modif[y]’ the predicate offenses on which the first degree felony-murder liability may be based.”

Indeed the court noted, “At our request, the Attorney General filed an amicus curiae brief on the issues presented in the petitions. In its brief, the Attorney General urged us to deny the People’s petitions on grounds that Senate Bill 1437 did not amend Proposition 7 or 115.”

But the Yolo DA's office does not agree with those rulings nor it would appear the view of Judge Couzens.

Thanks for reading.

On my campus, I work for the school newspaper, and I know a lot of other students who would be interested in participating in court watch. I pressed for space to be made in our school newspaper for court-related articles, but there's only enough room for 1000-2000 words per week.

Basically I would like to replicate a situation like my current internship to the best of my ability in Santa Barbara and recruit other students to attend court and submit articles to be published on the Vanguard website. I'm not exactly sure how court watch paired up with the SF public defenders, but if a similar partnership could occur between our student newspaper, my school (Westmont College), the Santa Barbara public defenders, and court watch, that'd be marvelous. Would you be looking for undergraduate political science majors for interns? I could train/organize them to the extent I am qualified to do so.

I can work to make this happen for next semester, but I'd love to know where to begin, if it's feasible.

Raj from Silicon Valley Debug has created an amazing social history video to be used at the subsequent bail motion to be heard at a date in the near future, our office's CourtWatch program (David & Marshall) will write an article about the bail hearing and the Young Women's Freedom Center wants to get involved. This is a great case to bring all of our resources together for participatory defense. Elizabeth and Armando can you keep us all informed about upcoming court dates (excluding tomorrows) and what you need us all to do and when you want us to show up in force. Thanks.

You have registered for King Hall's Public Interest and Government Career Fair taking place next Thursday, November 14th from 6:00 pm to 7:30 pm.

We look forward to having you on campus. The event will take place at the UC Davis School of Law (King Hall):

400 Mrak Hall Drive
Davis, CA 95616

Directions

If you are coming from Sacramento, please allow extra time for traffic on the Causeway.

PARKING: We will provide you with a parking pass that can be used at the Gateway Parking Structure (click for map). Someone will be waiting directly outside the structure on Hilgard Lane handing out parking passes from about 5 pm until 6:45pm. Please pick one up before heading into the structure. Signs will direct you from Old Davis Road (UC Davis - Exit 71) to the parking structure. The pass will allow you to park anywhere in the structure that is not otherwise restricted or metered. (See back of parking pass for restricted areas) It is about a 6 to 8 minute walk down Mrak Hall Drive to King Hall from the parking structure and there will be signs leading you to the school.

CHECK-IN: A check-in table will be located inside the main entrance of the law school starting at about 5:15 pm. We will have a name tag for you and someone will direct you to your organization's table reserved on the first floor. A tablecloth and table tent with your Agency/Organization's name are provided, but you are welcome to bring signs, materials, and/or SWAG if you wish. Appetizers and water will be available.

Should you have any questions about the event, please contact Craig Compton at crcompton@ucdavis.edu. We look forward to seeing you at the Public Interest and Government Career Fair.

Hi All,

Collectively we all want to take participatory defense to the next level. Mr. Rocha's case is a starting point. Mr. Rocha faces serious charges. That's why he needs a serious team. Our office (Elizabeth Camacho) represents Mr. Rocha, Our office (Armando / bail unit) has filed and will file another bail motion. Raj from Silicon Valley Debug has created an amazing social history video to be used at the subsequent bail motion to be heard at a date in the near future, our office's CourtWatch program (David & Marshall) will write an article about the bail hearing and the Young Women's Freedom Center wants to get involved. This is a great case to bring all of our resources together for participatory defense. Elizabeth and Armando can you keep us all informed about upcoming court dates (excluding tomorrows) and what you need us all to do and when you want us to show up in force. Thanks. Jacque.

Hi Jacque,

We have a Court Watch link on the careers page of our website now, but how does this description sound:

Our Court Watch program brings interns into the courtroom as observers and turns them into reporters. Develop your skills as an observer, a writer and a legal professional by following the court proceedings from the lens of a public defender.

Please add or subtract anything that makes it more clear what experience the program offers, and I will send it along to IT to add it to the website. Wasn't sure if you wanted to say that we partner with Davis Vanguard.

Hi All,

Collectively we all want to take participatory defense to the next level. Mr. Rocha's case is a starting point. Mr. Rocha faces serious charges. That's why he needs a serious team. Our office (Elizabeth Camacho) represents Mr. Rocha, Our office (Armando / bail unit) has filed and will file another bail motion. Raj from Silicon Valley Debug has created an amazing social history video to be used at the subsequent bail motion to be heard at a date in the near future, our office's CourtWatch program (David & Marshall) will write an article about the bail hearing and the Young Women's Freedom Center wants to get involved. This is a great case to bring all of our resources together for participatory defense. Elizabeth and Armando can you keep us all informed about upcoming court dates (excluding tomorrows) and what you need us all to do and when you want us to show up in force. Thanks. Jacque.

This was a very very weird case. The material witness said things that incriminated themselves, ended up taking the 5th, and the case could not proceed so it was dismissed. I might have Adam re-write Friday to this to put the appropriate context that a DA never should let this happen, but I would like to talk with Jacque or another senior attorney who knows how this occurs. I would hold off on publishing right now, but I leave it up to you.

Hi David, I hope you are enjoying your weekend.

Adam, Hannah, and another intern Ransom (college student), watched preliminary hearings on Friday.

Adam watched a prelim in 20. He wrote about what he saw and I edited his article. He did a great job taking down information. Please be sure to give it a read through before posting as I am not sure if that particular prelim fit the "every day injustice" we look for. I will be giving him feedback as well.

David,

Below is Zach Waterman's \(Niki's intern\) and my notes. Below that is the office press release that goes out today.

Subject: Lewis Verdict Notes

Here's my best effort to transcribe Judge Stewart's statement this morning:

This matter is on for a decision following the hearing. In this matter, the prosecution has the burden of proving beyond a reasonable doubt that they are ineligible. The people have charged that D was the driver of the vehicle that struck and killed Scott and was therefore the actual killer and is therefore ineligible. The People have alleged Michael Wilson was a major participant in the underlying felony and is therefore ineligible. The people have the burden of proving those elements beyond a reasonable doubt.

Unfortunate tragedy began on a July morning in 2003 when Lopez Olson called 911 and gave them the license plate. The GMC truck was approximately 10 ft away from her. She had some interaction with the passenger who was approximately ??? ft tall. Esperanza Martinez encountered them about five minutes later. She was very clear that the person who emerged from the truck and who robbed her by grabbing purse was Mr. Wilson. She IDed him by being about 6 ft tall. She was very clear that he was the passenger. There was another eye witness (Dimagas) who was approached at the bus stop and said initially that the person who robbed Martinez got out of the driver's side door. Two conflicting eye witness statements as to who was the driver. It's possible that Martinez was wrong and that they (Lewis and Wilson) changed positions. Two conflicting statements.

That turns us to the physical evidence which is very important. We had different expert witnesses testify. In 2003, Officer Brown called in a suspicious vehicle which was approximately 8 minutes after the truck left the Safeway (there was a robbery or two prior to Ms. Martinez being robbed). This was 45 seconds after radioing in the fact he saw the truck. He noticed the car at a 45 degree angle at the scene with the passenger side upwards. There were blood stains on the passenger side. No dispute that truck collided with Scott, then hit the Icon Truck, then hit the Toyota Siena. There was no dispute among the experts as to how the vehicles collided. Mahoney said both occupants would have gone forward and then backwards. There's no dispute about that.

At the trial, the DA Expert Witness Mahoney did not give an explanation as to how the blood got on the passenger side of the vehicle, which belonged to Mr. Lewis. He didn't state how Mr. Lewis got the laceration on the back of his head. Nor did he give any explanation as to how Mr. Lewis' shoe was found in the passenger compartment facing the driver's side, if he was the driver. The explanation given by the people was that the shoe could be left there while he was exiting. The defense expert disagreed. Since Mr. Lewis is the person whose blood was there he would have had to have been the passenger. Further, if he was the driver, it would make no sense to exit the passenger window. It just does not make sense that anyone would have tried to exit that window when the driver's window was closer to the ground and closer to them. No testimony that driver's side door was inoperable.

My personal notes. Niki was rubbing her clients back in relief as the judge was saying the people have not proved he was the driver beyond a reasonable doubt.

The judge's exact words deciphered from my notes, "Petition should be sustained the Defendant's are eligible for resentencing."

There were victim impact statements. The DA asked that the family letters be submitted for sentencing. Niki asked that Mr. Lewis be released. The judge denied that request saying he wanted a calculation of credits from probation and that there will have to be some paperwork.

Mr. Lewis was looking back towards his family in the courtroom and silently mouthing, "I'm going home."

Niki gave Mr. Lewis a big hug.

PRESS RELEASE**

NEW FELONY MURDER RULE RESULTS IN JUSTICE 16 YEARS LATER

DEFENSE WINS THE FIRST SB 1437 RELEASE IN SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO – A man will be freed after spending the past sixteen years in prison on a life sentence for sitting in the passenger seat of a car while the driver sped away from the scene of a robbery, killing a man, Scott Adsit, as he loaded his work truck in the early morning hours on July 7, 2003.

Emmitt Lewis was convicted under the felony murder rule, which allowed those present and in any way involved in the perpetration of a felony to be convicted of the murder of anyone that dies during the course of that felony—even when the death is entirely accidental. Mr. Lewis was convicted of aiding and abetting a robbery committed by Michael Wilson, moments before the pedestrian was struck and killed. Both men were sentenced to life in prison.

In 2018, The California State Legislature passed SB 1437 which was signed into law by Governor Jerry Brown, and went into effect on January 1, 2019. The revised law mandates that only those who are actual killers (or "major participants" with a reckless indifference to human life) during a specified felony, may be convicted of felony murder. Emmitt Lewis, who was never identified as the robber and was serving a life sentence for sitting in the passenger seat, will be the first to be released in San Francisco after a contested hearing.

Due to the changes to the felony murder rule, the critical question in Mr. Lewis's case was whether he was the driver and therefore the killer. Mr. Lewis sustained a head injury in the crash and DNA analysis proved Mr. Lewis's blood was on the passenger-side dashboard and headliner of the vehicle. The police also found one of Mr. Lewis's shoes wedged into the floorboard of the front passenger seat of the car at the crash scene. When police arrived at the scene of the accident, Mr. Lewis had exited the vehicle but was lying a few feet away from the passenger side door, whereas Mr. Wilson was found leaning halfway out of the driver side window. A kinematics expert in accident reconstruction, Chris Kauderer, who has previously been hired by the SF District Attorney to testify on behalf of prosecutions, testified that all of the physical and forensic evidence indicated Mr. Lewis was the passenger.

Only one piece of evidence supported the District Attorney's position that Mr. Lewis was the driver: the circumstantial evidence of a single eyewitness who identified Mr. Lewis's co-defendant, Michael Wilson, as the robber and stated Wilson had come out of the passenger side of the vehicle. Another eyewitness had a contradicting account that placed Mr. Wilson as the driver. This made the physical evidence in the case crucial to Lewis's release.

Lewis was represented by a team of attorneys, which included his original Public Defender, Niki Solis, and Kristin Hucek, of Kecker Van Nest & Peters LLP. "Without co-counsel and the private funding for an expert witness provided by Kecker, Van Nest & Peters, this may not have been possible. Not everyone who is suffering under the old felony murder rule can afford this type of representation. In fact, most cannot. This case underscores the need for funding and resources to defender offices so we can realize the justice this new law provides," Solis said.

After a two-day hearing and expert testimony, the original trial judge, Honorable John Stewart, found that the SF District Attorney's Office did not prove Lewis to be the driver beyond a reasonable doubt.

Solis, a 24-year veteran of the San Francisco Public Defender's office, expressed her condolences to Mr. Adsit's family, the man who tragically died in the accident. "My heart goes out to the family of Mr. Adsit, who was the victim of this tragic accident. I cannot imagine the grief and loss."

"Mr. Lewis going away for life for neither committing the robbery nor driving the get-away vehicle that struck Mr. Adsit, was the once harsh reality of the felony murder rule," Solis said. "We are relieved that justice was served, even if it came after Mr. Lewis spent sixteen years behind bars."

Kristin Hucek said, "I vividly remember first learning about the felony murder rule in law school and being struck by how unjust it seemed when applied to individuals like Mr. Lewis. The California Legislature made such an important decision last year when it blunted the harshness of the felony murder rule and gave individuals like Mr. Lewis the opportunity to benefit from it."

Several of Lewis's family members were in court, including a nephew who came to court on his birthday. The whole family received a gift as they heard that Lewis will go free.

A resentencing hearing is scheduled for August 19th to determine when Lewis will be released.

David Greenwald of the Davis Vanguard is now partnering with us in bringing a court watch to San Francisco. He is currently working with 16 of our interns - four at any one time - to cover trials, prelims and interesting motions. They will be writing articles and posting them at sfcourtwatch.org.

Here are two of his articles:

<https://www.davisvanguard.org/2019/06/defense-makes-plea-for-innocence-as-child-molestation-trial-opens/>

<https://www.davisvanguard.org/2019/06/911-recording-calls-into-question-cps-investigators-testimony-in-child-molestation-case/>

He has asked that anyone with trials, prelims, or cases that would be interesting to let him or Jacque know so someone can be there to cover it. They are looking for cases that are overcharged, where guilt is in doubt, cases where there has been prosecutorial or police misconduct and anything outside of the norm.

Good morning,

If you are included on this email list you have been selected to participate in Court Watch.

Monday morning at 8:50 am please meet me in the main conference room. We will then head over to D25 and watch Eric Quant's opening statement. We will meet David Greenwald in D25. We will observe court proceedings throughout the day.

Every Monday and Thursday there is mandatory Court Watch training / meeting from 12:15-1:15, with the exception of 6/10 there will be no training. Most of you will be assigned to 3 court watch sessions a week. That typically entails back to back days. For example, Monday morning, Monday afternoon and then Tuesday morning.

All of you will also be working in different units. We will have your schedules on Monday. Most of you will also be working in PRU. On Monday from our Court Watch group Marshall Hammons, Lauren Bradley, Alex Acuna will report to Armando and PRU. However, you are still required to make the noon Court Watch training.

Also, Armando on Monday morning Donald Sullivan and Aleksander Repaja who are not a part of court watch will be reporting to PRU.

Any questions will be answered on Monday. Also, Marissa I know you are not in the office on Monday's. Thank you. Jacque.

This is what I'm thinking about for a schedule:

	Monday		Tuesday		Wednesday		Thursday		Friday
AM	Intern 1	Intern 2	Intern 1	Intern 2	Intern 3	Intern 4	Intern 5	Intern 6	Intern 5	Intern 6
	Intern 7	Intern 8	Intern 7	Intern 8	Intern 9	Intern 10	Intern 11	Intern 12	Intern 11	Intern 12
PM	Intern 1	Intern 2	Intern 3	Intern 4	Intern 3	Intern 4	Intern 5	Intern 6	Intern 13	Intern 14
	Intern 7	Intern 8	Intern 9	Intern 10	Intern 9	Intern 10	Intern 11	Intern 12	Intern 15	Intern 16

Interns 13, Intern 14, Intern 15, and Intern 16 will "Float" for their court assignments filling in for others when they can make it

Hey David,

Sorry for the delayed response.

Eric Quandt is about to start a really interesting trial (email me directly for the details and I can get you up to speed.) He's been spending time in voir dire this week and will give opening statements on June 3rd. If you've got room on your plate, let me know!

Best,

It's an honor to be able to collaborate with "The People's Vanguard of Davis." We started our Court Watch program after yours. That was Jeff's vision. We look forward to taking the program to the next level. If you type the below words into a youtube search you will find a video example of one of our court watches. Additionally, if you are available 5/29/19 at 11 a.m or 1:30 p.m. for an hour we'd love you to come talk to our interns about our new collaboration. My cell phone number is 510-289-2178 if you need to reach me next week or in the future. Thank you. Jacque. This is an amazing opportunity for us.

Hi all -

Following up here and hoping to attend a trial tomorrow. Please let me know where and when to show up.

Hi All,

Meet David. David is going to help us take our Court Watch program to the next level. David will be here on Thursday. I'm going to ask David to email this group on Wednesday. Then someone from this group will let David know they are assisting an attorney with a trial and that David should come watch portions of that trial or trials. Our Court Watch was started after The People's Vanguard of Davis. It was Jeff's idea. We will keep the vision alive. Thank you. Jacque.
